

IN POLICE COURT TWO ARRESTS MADE TWO MEN DROWNED

Motley Crowd of Offenders in Dock Today

Annie J. Gearin is very fond of boiled dinners, but she likes to have them served in a proper manner and just because Thomas McGovern threw a kettle full of corned beef and cabbage at her she had him arrested. The alleged assault took place a week ago Saturday, but the Gearin woman was unable to appear in court till this morning inasmuch as she suffered severe burns as a result of the boiling water in the kettle falling over her.

She acknowledged that McGovern was a good friend of hers and they were on the best of terms till the day in question when there was considerable rushing of the can and this brought on some unkind words. One word led to another and she said McGovern picked the kettle off the stove and threw it at her.

McGovern said the kettle was knocked off the stove by accident. He and the Gearin woman had a few words and she landed him over the head with a poker. He said that after she had handed him three severe blows she ran for the kettle that was on the stove and thinking that she was going to throw it at him he knocked it out of her hand, the water falling all over the woman's lower limbs.

He was fined $15. A charge of drunkenness which was preferred against him was placed on file.

"Because you have worked and behaved yourself prior to this arrest, I would rather have you working than in jail," was the statement of Judge Pickman to Augustus W. Waldron this morning.

Waldron and his wife, Susan E. were arrested from their room in Colburn street last night by Patrolmen Bigelow and Drenett.

The arresting officers said that the pair were bawling drunk, and they were attracted to the house by the noise.

Mrs. Waldron said the police had a spite against her and while she had pleaded guilty to drunkenness a number of times she was not drunk last night.

Both were let off with suspended sentences of two months in jail.

MILK BOTTLES MIXED.
The case of David Paresky, charged with using a registered milk can, the property of Otis Byam, was continued till next Tuesday.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE.
John Fleming was released from the state farm two months ago on condition that he would mend his ways and pass liquor saloons without entering them, but yesterday his thirst overcame him, and as a result he got intoxicated. It was his second offence, but the court was inclined to believe that there was a chance for reform, and imposed a suspended sentence of one month in jail.

Thomas Guthrie, a fourth offender, was sentenced to the state farm.

ASSAULT CASE.
The case of Karol Kupola, charged with assault and battery on Antoni Kobacki, was continued till next Tuesday morning on request of counsel.

Martin Roach, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.
The case of John Bliczke and Michael Gunvitz, charged with assault and battery on Thomas Budrewicz, was continued till Thursday. J. Joseph O'Connor for the defendants, and Dennis J. Murphy for the government.

SPENT EMPLOYER'S MONEY.
Napoleon J. Larock, who has been in the employ of James Wotton of Chelmsford, after selling a load of produce yesterday, felt rather thirsty, and having no money of his own decided to appropriate some belonging to his employer. As a result of what he handed over several bars he accumulated a pretty good jag and before he reached his employer's domicile he was nailed by a constable with a big badge. In court this morning Larock was charged with being drunk, the larceny charge not being made. It cost him $3 for his fun.

FIVE MONTHS IN JAIL.
Judge Pickman shows but little leniency to men who fail to provide the proper support for their families. If a man shows any inclination to do good he will be given a chance. If Judge Pickman is on the bench, but if the offender is one of those people who cares only for himself the sentence is apt to be severe.

This morning Annie Walsh complained that her husband, John J. Walsh did nothing towards supporting her and their two children. It seems that he has been given a number of chances to do better, but cannot get out of the beaten path. He will spend the next five months in jail.

SUSPECTS SENT TO STATE FARM.
James Cohan and Patrick Downis, two of the hobos who were arrested in Billerica yesterday morning and who it was alleged were being held as suspects in connection with the murder in Methuen, appeared in court this morning to withdraw the appeal they made from a sentence to the state farm.

There were several first offenders who were fined $3 and four were released.

Of Suspicious Characters Found on the Lawrence Road

FRANCIS McDERMOTT, METHUEN POLICEMAN, MURDERED BY YEGGMEN.

Car Conductor Saw Yeggs With Arm Bandaged —Great Activity Among the Police, But No Clues to the Real Culprits — Lowell Police Ready to Act Quickly If Any Suspicious Characters Are Found Hereabouts

Lowell police in uniform and plain clothes are looking for the men who shot two police officers to death in a peat bog of the old Lowell road in Methuen late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, and patrolmen, officers and all have orders to arrest all suspicious characters.

Should information reach Lowell from suburban points relative to the presence there of suspicious characters, Supt. Moffatt stands ready to despatch a posse of men to interrogate and if necessary or advisable to arrest the strangers.

It was stated today, but not officially, that the governor would order out the militia. At the office of the adjutant general, this forenoon, it was stated that the governor had not yet reached a decision on the matter.

The state and Boston police who are assisting in the work of intercepting the murderers of the two Methuen officers are satisfied, as was stated in The Sun of yesterday, that the men who killed the officers, while they may not have been members of the bandit gang that shot up Jamaica Plain and made a grave of a gully in Forest Hill cemetery, they used the same weapons, the 38 calibre automatic pistol.

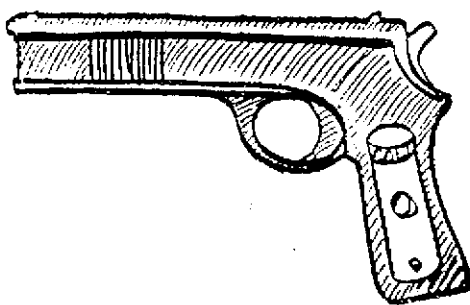

There have been no new developments of any importance in the Methuen murder now known as the peat bog tragedy, today. The only arrests made here that could be in anyway connected with it were made by Officer Martin Conway of Billerica.

At three o'clock this morning he arrested two young fellows named Blood and Kingsley in the horse shed of the Talbot Memorial hall at North Billerica. Blood and Kingsley were aged respectively 18 and 19. They were brought to Lowell and after having been put through the usual course of sprouts were allowed to go. They told a good straightforward story. They said that their home is in Northfield, Vt., that they had been induced to go to the shipyards in Chelsea where they were promised work. When they got there they found that a strike was in order, and they refused to do the strike-breaking act, and being without money they started to beat it back over the road to Northfield.

Considerable importance is attached to the statement of a car conductor that he saw four men on the Lawrence road going towards Lowell, one of them having his arm in a sling. Two foreigners have been arrested in Methuen, but neither is wounded.

In connection with the arrest of these young men, Officer Conway said: "I presume it is not any different in Billerica than in other suburban towns, but I want to tell you that the hole who pokes his nose near a back door in Billerica is taking fearful chances. The people are thoroughly aroused because of the evident seriousness of conditions, and they are ready to shoot at a moment's notice."

THE BANDITS' PISTOLS.
The average policeman's gun is no match for the bandit's pistol, and since the brave arrest of yeggmens by Patrolman Harley of Arlington last spring the police of Arlington have been supplied with the same kind of gun as was found on the person of the yeggmans, the automatic pistol. This is the first time that this bit of news has ever been published and in other towns and cities the police are instigating a movement for the equipment of up-to-date firearms so that in case of emergency they may have at least an even chance with desperados, bandits, outlaws, murderers, yeggmens, or whatever you may please to call them.

Double Fatality in Lake Mascuppic Yesterday

TWO MEN UPSET ON LAKE MASCUPPIC AND DROWNED.

Two Unknown Men Upset While Fooling in Dory and Their Bodies are Still at Bottom With No Clue to Their Identity

The colony of cottagers at Lake Mascuppic is in a state of excitement over three drownings in the lake within three days and the tragic affairs have cast a deep gloom over the erstwhile merry surroundings.

On Saturday William J. Carroll, whose body was found this morning, was drowned while canoeing, while a score of men with grappling irons have been on the lake all night and all this morning seeking to recover the bodies of two unknown men supposed to be Englishmen and wooden weavers, who were drowned by being upset from a dory late yesterday afternoon.

The coats of both men were recovered after they had disappeared, but there was nothing in them that would lead to their identity except a small hook such as is used in a weave or drawing in room in a mill.

The men, who were middle-aged and of respectable appearance and attire, hired a dory from John O'Brien, an employee of Lakeview park, about 3:15 o'clock. The men he believed had been drinking and while they appeared all right on shore showed signs of being inclined to hilarity after they had gotten out a short distance.

Mr. O'Brien went about his work and paid no further attention to them. One man is described as being middle-aged, apparently about five feet, ten inches, with gray suit and gray mustache. The other man was shorter, weighing about 145 pounds, dark complexioned and attired in dark clothes.

About six o'clock Mrs. Anna Fels, whose summer cottage, "Tray Rock," is a short distance beyond the park overlooking the lake, heard cries for help and looking out upon the lake saw two men struggling in the water beside an overturned dory, about 150 yards from the shore. They were trying to cling to the bottom of the boat and as there was no other boat in the vicinity they sank from view before assistance could reach them. It appeared to Mrs. Fels as if neither could swim. It is believed that they were scuffling in the boat and upset it.

The news of the drowning spread like wildfire, and in a short time a fleet of small craft was on the scene.

Henry Lussier and Frank Begin, who were in the vicinity, were among those who were on the scene and Lussier, diving for the bodies, came up with a coat. Lussier stated that he located the body on the bottom with one arm around the limb of a dead tree. He claims that he grasped the coat and in attempting to pull up the body pulled off the coat. He went down again and coming up stated that the body was not to be seen. A short time later the other coat was found in the water, and it is believed that both men had divested themselves of their outer garments in the boat and that when the boat tipped over the coats went into the water and Lussier getting one imagined that the body was there also, though Lussier stoutly maintains that he took the coat from the body.

Undertakers Higgins and O'Donnell, whose employees were grappling for the Carroll body, gave their attention to the most recent tragedy as well, and the latter grappled all night.

This morning a large gathering of grapplers and swimmers was on the scene, but up to this writing had not located either body. It was suggested that dynamite or duatin be used to bring the bodies to the surface, but the grapplers were confident of getting the bodies before nightfall. Outside of to-bath, a knife and handkerchiefs and the small hook referred to, there was nothing in either coat that would lead to the identity of the dead men. Mr. O'Brien is of the opinion that the men were English, while it was reported from an unknown source that they were woolen weavers.

ON WAY TO LOWELL

METHUEN, Aug. 11.—Four men on the road towards Lowell, one of them apparently having his arm in a sling as if wounded, were sighted last night by a conductor on an electric car bound from Lowell to Lawrence. The conductor stated that the man who seemed to be wounded was being supported by his comrades.

A few hours later another conductor on a car from Lowell reported that he saw four men lying down on the banks of the Merrimack river, opposite a place called Pine Island, about five miles from Lawrence.

Upon receipt of this information the Methuen police went out in an effort to capture the suspects. A posse of nine heavily armed men left the Methuen police station at a late hour, led by former-Chief of Police Albert B. Gordon, to hunt for the men described by the two conductors.

A boy who passed the four men on the Lowell road stated that he heard the wounded man say, "I might as well die here as anywhere," and it is believed that if captured the man will make a desperate resistance.

THREE LIVES LOST

At a Fire in Wheeling, W. Va. This Morning

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 11.—Escaping gas in the building on South East street occupied by Mrs. J. S. Gavin as a millinery store and residence caused a fire early this morning which resulted in the death of three persons and the possible fatal injury of one other, while six more were compelled to jump from third story windows to escape the flames. The dead:

CLARA GAVIN, 37 years old.
A. GAVIN, 27 years old.
MARGARET GAVIN, 21 years old.
MRS. J. A. GAVIN may die.

The dead girls were daughters of Mrs. Gavin and were suffocated as they slept.

HIS FACE CUT UP

As Result of Fight in Bent's Court

There was a lively time in Bent's court last night and that there was not a murder is very fortunate. Knives, pitchforks, cans and various other implements were passed back and forth during the fray and John Karpawicz, who appeared in court this morning, looked as though he had passed through a Kansas cyclone. His face was puffed up to about twice his normal size while the shirt he wore was torn to shreds and covered with blood. His head was cut, his hair matted with blood and he could open his eyes only wide enough to get a glimpse at the court.

He and two other fellow-countrymen who answered to the names of William Nockar and Joseph Kochinski filled up on beer last night and then got into an argument. Everything that came to their hands was thrown about and it is alleged that Karpawicz's head was pushed through a pane of glass.

While the battle was at its height, Patrolmen D. C. Donovan and Ingalls put in an appearance and succeeded in placing two of the combatants under arrest. Karpawicz made his escape, but about an hour later was placed under arrest.

AGAINST JAPAN

Count Okuma's View of Navy Increase

TOKIO, Aug. 11.—Count Okuma, in an interview published by the Hochi attributes the present naval expansion policy of the United States to the sudden rise of the Japanese to the importance of a world power. The interview says in part:

"Judging from the fragmentary speeches of President Roosevelt as they have been transmitted here, it is not difficult to infer that the augmentation of the United States navy in the Pacific is directed at Japan."

Count Okuma doubts, however, that the views and ideas of President Roosevelt will long continue to govern public opinion in America.

TEACHING MONKEY

How to Speak the English Language

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The investigation of Melvin Haggerty along the general lines of monkey psychology at the Bronx Park Zoo, have spurred the keepers of the Central Park Zoo to unwonted activity of late. Two of them are now busy with an experiment by which they say they hope to beat the Harvard expert at his own game.

While Mr. Haggerty has devoted all his energies to trying to teach the monkeys new tricks, thereby creating an opportunity to see just how important a part suggestion and imitation play in their daily life, the keepers at the Central Park Zoo have gone further. They are trying in a modest way to teach the monkeys under their care to realize the significance of spoken words.

They say that the results of their experiments have been surprising. One of the monkeys has not only learned the significance of several words, but has developed a limited vocabulary of his own, apparently realizing what the words mean.

Patrick Canan, keeper of the Central Park monkey house, is the leading spirit in these recent experiments. He has been assisted by Keeper Robert Hurin.

The most likely of all the monkeys in the Central Park monkey house is Baldy. There is also a Baldy in the Bronx Park Zoo on which Mr. Haggerty has experimented a little. But the Bronx Park Baldy is a chimpanzee of the black-faced species. The Central Park Baldy is a ring-tailed monkey and got his name from a tendency to badness on his part. Baldy is a noisy little chap. His chattering is louder than that of all the other monkeys.

Keeper Canan had noticed that several of the ring-tailed monkeys in their chattering almost always used sounds which seemed to end in "ch." Most of the sounds made by the monkey tribe sounded, in fact, like "ch." They made that sound when excited, or when the keepers appeared with food. They made it at play and sometimes when in deep mood. There was a different intonation, but nearly always the sound "ch" was noticed by Canan and Hurin.

"Why not teach the monkeys the significance of English words ending with 'ch'?" said Canan to his fellow keeper. Hurin said he saw no reason why they couldn't, with a little painstaking effort.

That was a month or more ago. The words selected by the two keepers were "peach," "reach," and "screach." With these words they set to work. The first few lessons were devoted to trying to teach Baldy the significance of peach. And in this is the way they worked: Canan would take a nice ripe peach to the cage where Baldy was kept. He would stand in front of him, and holding out the peach, would say "peach" many times.

It was days before Baldy seemed to realize what the keeper was driving at. He would make a grab for the fruit. Canan would quickly withdraw his hand, and Baldy would jump about the cage, making grimaces and saying something which ended with "ch," but was certainly not "peach."

But one morning, after repeating the name of the fruit many times, Canan says he thought he detected a sound like "peach" from Baldy. He kept up his repetition of the word, and after a while, he says, Baldy made a sound which was as much like "peach" as a monkey could be expected to make. Then Baldy got the peach and ate it with relish.

Later in the day Canan offered another peach. Baldy appeared delighted and grabbed for it. But the keeper withdrew his arm and said "reach." Baldy, he says, seemed to understand, and after a little wait the keeper heard the sound from Baldy which, he says, was near enough to "peach" so again he gave him the fruit. After that, says Canan, it was not necessary to speak at all when he offered Baldy a peach, for the monkey upon seeing the fruit always hastened to say what the keeper expected him to say, and he always got the peach.

Several was the next lesson word selected by the keeper. And with this he had more trouble. And with this he used a banana, which, by the way, is an impossible word for a monkey. Canan began the new lesson by offering the fruit, withdrawing it when Baldy grabbed, and then saying "screach." And there was no doubt that Baldy did as told, whether he knew what he was doing or not. Canan kept on saying "screach." Finally, he says, the monkey made a sound which sounded like some foreign way of saying the word "screach." Every time Baldy said what Canan is sure was "screach," the keeper would say: "Well, screach, then," and Baldy would do some screaming which could be heard all over the zoo.

Another peach. Baldy appeared delighted and grabbed for it. But the keeper withdrew his arm and said "reach." Baldy, he says, seemed to understand, and after a little wait the keeper heard the sound from Baldy which, he says, was near enough to "peach" so again he gave him the fruit. After that, says Canan, it was not necessary to speak at all when he offered Baldy a peach, for the monkey upon seeing the fruit always hastened to say what the keeper expected him to say, and he always got the peach.

Gypsies' Sentences Exchanged for Fines

NEWTON, Aug. 11.—After they had been found guilty of larceny of $111 from Charles Thompson of Newton Centre and had been sentenced to three months apiece in the house of correction, four gypsy women returned the missing money and yesterday afternoon the court revoked the sentence which had been imposed a few hours previously and fined the fortune tellers $15 each. They paid.

The women were Mary Sugg, 22; Rosie Nicholas, 18; Susie Nagel, 23; and Marie Carabala, 17, natives of Italy, who came to this city on Saturday on an overland trip from Chicago to Framingham, with a band of about 25 others. Mr. Thompson testified yesterday that these women and a girl, Annie Nagel, aged 15, crowded about him in Newton Centre and picked his pocket of $100, a $10 and a $1 bill. He had the bills in a pocket of his trousers. There were $276 and the edges could be seen, he said. When he missed the money, he said, he caught one of the women and charged her with stealing it.

CHILD NEARLY STARVED.

NEWTON, Aug. 11.—It having been alleged that the infant was slowly starving, an officer of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children yesterday afternoon visited camp of gypsies in the "Thomsonville" district of this city, and took away a few months' old baby. The child was taken to Boston and will be cared for by the society. It is stated that the infant had been neglected to such an extent that it is feared it will not survive. The camp in which the baby was taken comprises the large band of gypsies who landed here on Saturday from an overland trip from Chicago. The five women convicted yesterday of larceny from a Newton Centre man while one of their number was trying to tell his fortune were members of the camp.

VIEW OF THE GRANDSTAND ON THE BOULEVARD AS IT WILL APPEAR DURING THE GREAT AUTO RACE ON LABOR DAY.

STRANG WILL COME

To Attend the Great Auto Race on Labor Day

Arrangements for the big automobile race on Labor day are fast nearing completion and the promoters are being splendidly encouraged. Applications for grand stand seats have already been received, and those interested in the race are of good cheer.

President John O. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club has gone to New York to have a conference with Strang, the man who won the trophy on the Briarcliff course. Mr. Strang had written Mr. Heinze stating that he had learned that the 250-mile road race was to be pulled off here on Labor day and he assured Mr. Heinze of every assistance possible. Mr. Heinze will endeavor to secure Strang as one of the drivers in the race.

Two Knox cars have been entered by the Knox Automobile company of Springfield. They are the two best cars to have been entered, but several have written to say that they will enter.

A 40-foot sign was put out in Central street yesterday, advertising the race.

are broad and smooth, one stretch of macadam for several miles being of sufficient width to allow cars to travel abreast. There it is expected the fastest work will be done.

F. S. Corlew of the committee figures that there is no limit to the speed that can be attained on the fine stretch described, it simply being a question as to how fast the cars can go. This was far from the case at Westchester, where the cars were slowed up in some places owing to the roads.

A big thing for the spectators at Lowell is that the macadam stretch is directly along in front of the grandstand, allowing a fine view of the cars at top speed coming and going. Whereas the Briarcliff course had many corners, the Merrimack valley course has but three. One of these is a rather bad one, pretty much of a hairpin effect at the place where Barney Oldfield had an accident this spring. Here a slackening of speed by the drivers will be necessary, even though the turn is banked into Varnum avenue. Along Varnum avenue there is some sand, but this will be removed. Although this road is at times narrow and winding, it can hardly be called dangerous. There is one hill to go over that will make necessary careful driving, however.

The new road which will be used to take the cars back to the boulevard will put a premium on careful work, too, but outside of these there is little that is really troublesome, although there are places on the back stretch which will bring out the nerve of the driver.

Cedrine went over the course the latter part of June and pronounced it one of the best for the distance he had ever been on. A better one, indeed, would be hard to find in New England and with the right entries an admirable contest should result.

AGAINST MODERNISM

Strong Plank in Platform of Catholic Federation

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Two business sessions and a public mass meeting made up the program of the day for the American Federation of Catholic societies' seventh national convention. The construction of the new platform was expected to occupy the attention of the delegates during their sessions, as it was planned to present it to the convention in the afternoon. It was stated that the new platform when completed would renew the fight against socialism and urge even greater effort in bringing about a uniformity of the divorce laws of the country, and would contain a strong plank against modernism.

The election of officers will not take place until tomorrow, and there appears to be a strong sentiment for the re-election of President Edward Feney of Brooklyn, N. Y.

These are two cities seeking the convention for next year. Pittsburgh and New Orleans. It was generally asserted, by the delegates, however, that Pittsburgh would be chosen as the meeting place. Bishop Canavan of that diocese is on the ground and with a large delegation from his state was confident that he would secure the eighth convention for his diocesan city.

Rev. James A. McFau, D. D., of Trenton, N. J., on "Federation." The meeting was open to the public.

Fred Taylor, who has been sojourning at the Rogers, giving the delegates of the deep the look after having charmed them with his tin whistle, is back at his old home, the Old Washington tavern, and is rendering his usual able assistance to Lundberg Garity.

EUGENE CHAFIN

Expects to Be Elected President

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Eugene W. Chafin, presidential nominee of the prohibition party, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Lincoln, Neb. He will leave Chicago immediately but will return next Tuesday to be notified of his nomination. He will visit every state in the Union, speaking there eight times a day until election.

"Wouldn't it have been awful if I had come to my death by water?" he said, speaking of his escape from drowning in the Y. M. C. A. natatorium at Lincoln.

"I don't mind for myself but it would be tough on the party to lose its head in that way, so until election is over I'm not going to have anything to do with water except by the glass."

"Do you expect to be elected?" "It would be a reflection on the intelligence of the American public for me to think otherwise."

Rag Man—"Ole rags! Gum Boots! Tinware!"
Anty Drudge—"Goodness! Where'd you get all them washboilers?"

Rag Man—"I buya dem from voo-mans. Dey say no use any more. You gotta von to sell?"

Anty Drudge—"No, sir. I have not used one for many a year. It didn't take the women of this town long to get rid of their washboilers after I came and told them how to wash with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water. No more boiling clothes for them I see."

Are you governed by habits?
Not a bad thing if they are good habits.
Not a good thing if they are bad habits.
Are you in the habit of getting up before daybreak to start washing so that you'll be through before night?

If you are it's a habit to get rid of right away. There's no necessity for it.

Get rid of the old-fashioned boiling, and scalding clothes, back-breaking washboard-rubbing habit and adopt the easy Fels-Naptha way.

CUT HIS THROAT GEN. FISKE LODGE

Driven insanely desperate by inability to obtain work, Michael Spillane, aged 31 years, attempted suicide by cutting his throat twice with a razor at his home, 12 Richmond avenue, off Swift street, last night. He is now at St. John's hospital where it is believed he will recover.

Spillane who has a large family depending upon him and who has been out of work for several weeks has been quite despondent of late and about 10:30 o'clock last night, after making a remark about his misfortune went into a side room and taking a razor from a bureau drawer slashed himself twice.

He was found by his children a short time afterward and Dr. John Boyle was summoned. The latter ordered Spillane removed to St. John's hospital where the wounds were stitched.

The eleventh anniversary of Gen. Fiske lodge, I. O. G. T., was held at Highland hall, last night. It was celebrated by a reunion of old members. There were about fifty present. A short entertainment was given consisting of: Piano solo, John Gilchrist; song, Mrs. Santesson; reading, Henry Sanders; harmonica solo, Mr. Shaw; song, Miss Ruth Gilchrist; remarks, Bro. Jones; song, Miss Foxcroft. With appropriate remarks Bro. Sanders in behalf of the lodge presented the lodge deputy, Mr. Santesson, with a silver shaving mug. A light collation was then served, after which games were enjoyed until a late hour.

LOST HIS MONEY EIGHT MEN DEAD

Polson Was Victim of Confidence Men

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Carl O. Polson of 463 Spruce street, Manchester, N. H., having decided to return to his native country, came to Boston to embark yesterday afternoon, in order to be sure of making the place from which his steamer would sail, he hunted up the Cunard steamship wharf in East Boston.

His caution proved his undoing, for on the wharf he met two men who robbed him of $250 in cash, all he possessed.

Polson says he had not been on the wharf long before the pair accosted him and told him the old story about the danger of going alone to the docks. Their story of confidence and friendship won Polson's confidence and he accepted their invitation to go over to the city with them. By the time they had reached North Market street they had lured him to pool his money with theirs.

They made of the men went into a cigar store to make a purchase and the other also found a pretext for stepping away. When Polson found that the men who went into the cigar store had disappeared it dawned on him that his trust might have been misplaced.

To the police of division 1 he gave a description of the crooks. One he said is six feet tall, weighs about 150 pounds, has smooth face, is of light complexion and wears light clothes and black soft hat, while the other man is 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs about 150 pounds, has smooth face and wears a dark brown suit and black derby hat.

THE WARSHIPS

WERE INSPECTED BY MANY VISITORS YESTERDAY.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The boat landing at the foot of State street was a busy place yesterday, for it was thronged most of the afternoon by the crowds who wished to visit the warships. Dewey's old flagship, the Olympia, was the favorite, more people visiting her than boarded any of the other vessels put together. The strange looking monitors, however, came in for a good deal of attention, most people considering them novelties, although as a matter of fact, they are the oldest type of armor clad now in use.

Possibly 1000 people made use of the half score of launches, small and great, which ran back and forth from the landing to the ships. The midshipmen in their natty blue uniforms with white topped caps helped make the scene picturesque for they were being constantly ferried back and forth. On board the Olympia the strange looking monitors, however, came in for a good deal of attention, most people considering them novelties, although as a matter of fact, they are the oldest type of armor clad now in use.

About 30 of the midshipmen made a visit to the yard of the Fore River shipbuilding company of Quincy yesterday.

The cadets were accompanied from Boston by a number of naval officers. They were divided into five squads of 50 each. Every department was examined, the boys being shown about by the superintendent.

Three things attracted the interest of the cadets—the 20,000-ton battleship North Dakota, the submarine boats, which are being built by the Electric Boat company and the Curtis or American turbine engines, which are to be put into the North Dakota.

Few men were given liberty last night as the squadron will sail this afternoon for Portsmouth. Consequently there will be no more opportunity for visitors to board the warships upon this visit.

MAN DROWNED

MORAN WAS NOT A VERY GOOD SWIMMER.

CRANSTON, R. I., Aug. 11.—Albert Moran of 43 Grant street, Providence, was drowned in the Pawtuxet river last night. Moran was canoeing with Allie Moleynox and Alfred J. Valliers, also of Providence, when a strong current overturned the craft. Moran was an inexperienced swimmer and, though Valliers tried to rescue him, lost his grip from the bottom of the canoe and sank. He was 22 years of age and was employed in the General Fire Extinguisher factory in Providence.

$1800 STOLEN

ROBBERY AT NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL REPORTED.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11.—A robbery of $1800 in cash from the paymaster's office at the Naval Training school was reported to the police of Newport last night, and notices have been sent to the police of other cities with a view to the apprehension of a naval lieutenant of the second class, who is missing. Paymaster E. H. Cope and Richard J. Johnson had the money in a safe in their office for the purchase of commissary supplies. While Mr. Cope was temporarily absent last Saturday, someone worked the combination of the safe and took the money.

Mr. Farnham won the championship last evening when he defeated his closest rival, Mr. Peter Paradis, the well known theatrical artist, and made the biggest record ever known in Lowell.

Messrs. Farnham and Paradis played what is known as a grand hand, and on the hand Mr. Farnham scored 86,016 points which he believes to be the record.

Killed by Explosion of a Boiler

YORK, Penn., Aug. 11.—Eight men were killed, nearly a score of others more or less seriously injured and thousands of dollars' worth of property damaged by the explosion of a boiler in the York rolling mill late yesterday afternoon. The dead are: John Cleary, York.

Stephen Boyner, Harry Seachrist, Paul Fier, Alfred Struck, John Slossman, Harry Feyer, all of Columbia, Penn.

Edward Filler, Marietta, Penn. The boiler which was located in the center of the mill exploded without a moment's warning. Ambulances were hurried to the scene, but owing to the number of dead and injured, delivery wagons and other conveyances were prevented from service and the injured rushed to the hospital.

A majority of those killed had their heads and limbs torn from their bodies and were so badly mangled that identification was almost an impossibility. The men were working close to the boiler, and when the explosion occurred not one was able to make his escape.

The shock was so terrific that it demolished large portions of the mill and sent heavy pieces of twisted iron and metal in all directions. Adjacent buildings were damaged, and a horse instantly killed.

Box cars on the railroad siding adjoining the mill were torn to splinters. The shock was felt over the entire city. The injured are all expected to recover.

GANG SENTENCED

For Picking Pockets and Shoplifting

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Alleged members of a gang engaged in picking pockets and shoplifting and who, the police say, are a part of an organization in New York, appeared in court yesterday to answer to charges.

Those who came up were Joe Simmons, Louis Schneider, Sam Cohen, Max Schiller and John Faust.

All are under 25 and one or two are only 13.

The first three received two months in the house of correction and Schiller and Faust were held in $500 each for a later hearing.

Inspector Knox and Officer Robson brought the men in. Simmons, Schneider and Cohen were arrested in a Washington street clothing store. They had in their possession 11 pairs of garters, a pair of gloves and a pocket handkerchief. They claimed they had bought the goods, but were unable to state why they laid in such a stock of garters.

The police believe that, owing to the stringency of New York laws and the attitude that the police there have in taking against these men, they are "working" other cities, principally Boston.

Officer Robson arrested two of the men on the narrow gauge Saturday. They are alleged to be "jumpers," men who made short stops at resorts to "work" the place and get away with whatever they can.

MRS. LAMADRID Founder of Coffee Stands is Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Joaquin M. Lamadridd, founder of the St. Andrew's coffee stands at which eatables and drinks may be had for one cent, died in her home, 80 Monroe street, Brooklyn.

For 20 years Mrs. Lamadridd had maintained the charity on which she had concentrated her energy, and had watched it grow to half a dozen stands in various sections of the city. Its career was beset by many difficulties, for the Charity Organization Society and other like associations frowned upon it, and even objected to the public to withdraw its support.

The character of the work, however, was such that to the present day it has met with hearty response, and the result that it has founded and maintained the sale, at a nominal price, of food sufficient to keep a man on his feet until he is able to obtain work.

First of the 1-cent coffee stands was started on Jan. 15, 1887, at the corner of Duane street and Park row, when Mrs. Lamadridd announced the city by announcing that she was prepared to sell coffee and rolls, pork and beans, bread pudding, sandwiches, cereals, beef soup and clam chowder, for 1 cent a portion. Even the poorest man was able to obtain enough to satisfy his hunger, and the stands began forthwith to do a thriving business. Large crowds have ever since patronized the stands.

BALDWIN'S BALLOON

Will Be Accepted by the Signal Corps

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The military dirigible balloon built for the signal corps of the army by Captain Thomas S. Baldwin will be accepted.

"We are going to buy Baldwin's machine," said Gen. James Allen, chief signal officer, and yesterday he indicated that failure to comply with the speed requirements will not prevent the purchase of the airship. It is generally understood, therefore, that the speed and endurance trials will nearly determine the price to be paid for the dirigible. If, in the first official speed trial Captain Baldwin's machine, which is now being built, should make less than sixteen miles an hour, Gen. Allen may so speed that in the second trial flight Captain Baldwin's dirigible should make the required speed.

The first speed test, which it is expected will take place this evening, will be over a course two and one-quarter miles in a westerly direction from Fort Myer.

Captain Baldwin is satisfied that he can make 22 miles an hour. Col. James Temple, former chief of the aeronautical division of the British army, said that he believed Captain Baldwin's dirigible could make 25 miles an hour in still air.

Col. Temple last night sent his representative to the British war office on his inspection of the Baldwin airship. He recommended that some new features be incorporated in the new dirigible which the British army is building and which will have practically the same dimensions of Captain Baldwin's ship. Col. Temple favors the smaller dimensions of the present stage of advancement of aerial navigation.

In reply to a question as to what he thought of the Zepplins airship, Col. Temple said:

"It is too far ahead of the times. The experience must be gained with small, or airships. If Count Zeppelin's men had been trained with smaller aerial craft the unfortunate accident to his airship would probably have not occurred."

TRAIN WAS WRECKED

Two Killed and Many Were Seriously Injured

GLENDIVE, Mont., Aug. 11.—North Pacific train No. 2, the North Coast limited, met with a disastrous wreck about 12 miles west of Glendive last night. Fireman A. E. Matthews and an unknown tramp were killed, and 20 or 30 persons injured. Few of those injured were seriously hurt, and all but one will recover. The train was traveling at a speed of 50 miles an hour when within two miles of Glendive station it rounded a curve and ran into a burned bridge, 150 feet long. Engineer Litch could not get the engine and train out until the train was virtually over the chasm. When he did see it, he quickly reversed the engine and threw on the emergency brakes, which action prevented all the coaches except the smoker and mail car from going into the ditch.

A relief train bringing physicians left this city at once for the scene of the accident and a wrecking train was made up and is now at work clearing the track.

The dead, together with all the injured were brought to Glendive and are now being cared for.

The dead: A. B. MATTHEWS, fireman, Dickinson, N. D. Unknown tramp.

The most seriously injured are: C. D. Litch, engineer; H. Oliver and J. E. Wilson, St. Paul, express messengers, fatally scalded by steam.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 11.—At a meeting of the democratic members of the city council yesterday, who form a majority of the council, it was agreed that the Municipal Traction company, the three cent fare company, shall charge five cents for a cash fare, and the remainder will leave at the rate of three cents. The new rate is to take effect next Thursday morning. This rate is to maintain until the "open car" cars are installed. The May and June deficit of the company is given as a reason for the change. The company expects a profit for July, however, with the three cent fare.

CHEAPEST OF ALL.

Of all the forms of advertising, the cheapest and best is advertising in the daily newspapers. The cheapest newspapers are those with the largest circulation in their respective fields. Handbills are wasteful, expensive and of little effect. Posters are played out, because they are costly and very uncertain in durability or effect. Signboards are expensive and short lived. The Daily Newspaper is the safest, surest and cheapest of all, and the best of the local papers is The Sun, because it has the largest circulation in Lowell.

IT IS... LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

NEAR THE GOAL Sergt. John Walsh to Win $5000 Wager

MARLBORO, Aug. 11.—Sergt. John Walsh passed through this city at 10 o'clock on the last stage of his journey from San Francisco to Boston, this being his 79th day on the trip, all of which he has made on foot.

He has properly attested letters from governors, mayors and other state, city and town officials, showing that he has lived up to the terms under which the trip was undertaken. He is walking on a wager of $25,000 made by officials of the Golden Gate A. C. of San Francisco and Col. H. A. Warren, also a member of the club. Walsh's share will be $5000 if he wins the wager.

He is in excellent condition and was accorded an ovation as he passed over Main street by the citizens. He called at the police station and paid his respects to Sergt. Frank L. Crotty and to Capt. Taylor of Co. 1, 6th regiment, and other prominent citizens. He refused to accept any gifts or any money or any entertainment of any kind.

He spoke most interestingly of his journey, and said the most hazardous part of it was in crossing the Great Divide in Colorado, where he tramped through snow for three days, with but little nourishment. He speaks most highly of the reception accorded him in all places where he has visited, and commented on the good roads in the eastern states from Ohio clear through to Massachusetts.

He is 52 years of age, has been 27 years in the army service, and obtained a furlough to make this trip. He said that his diet consisted mostly of fruits, with very little solid food while on the trip. He has lost 50 pounds in flesh, but has not laid off a day on account of illness.

His trip will be completed when he registers in Boston, and then he will go to Boston common, where he will plant the American flag which he has carried with him the entire trip. He made a most favorable impression here for his apparent honesty and gentlemanly manner.

Worth Knowing To remove Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all forms of skin eruptions, is, according to a well known physician, a very easy matter; he says that many are afflicted with some one of the above ailments, and are subject to a great deal of embarrassment on account of the unsightly appearance which they present, and recommends the following simple harmless and inexpensive treatment. Go to your druggist and get this prescription: Ilied; Clearskin one-half ounce. Ether one ounce. Alcohol seven ounces. mix, shake well and apply to the parts affected night and morning, allowing it to remain for at least ten minutes. Then wipe off the powder from the skin. Use a soft cloth or sponge in applying the mixture and in from ten days to two weeks your face will be smooth and clear as a marriage bell. Get the Pure Clearskin, which is only put up in one-half ounce packages. Ask to see it.

There were about 200 fans at Washington park yesterday afternoon to witness the game between Lowell and Fall River. During the practice before the game Manager Sharrett introduced a new player in the person of Andrew H. Musil, of the 7th company, coast artillery, of Fort Banks. BASEBALL NOTES

Rube Marquard, the $10,000 pitcher purchased from Indianapolis by McGraw, gets his bumps now and then. Louisville drove him out of the box last Thursday, hitting him safely nine times in five innings.

Big league magnates and scouts are watching the work of Wheeler, the St. Paul first sacker, pretty sharply. Wheeler is lining them out with a vengeance.

Burns, the Washington pitcher, is not in the hospital, as reported. He is nursing a lame side, which it is claimed that he received from a bat at the hands of a fellow member of Cantillon's peace aggregation.

A verification of an old baseball superstition took place at Bucyrus, O., the other day in a game between the Bucyrus and the Mansfield, O., team. In the latter aggregation is Harry Bucyrus, who used to reside at Bucyrus, and his former townsmen took advantage of the occasion to shower him with gifts. On his first appearance at bat he was given a gold watch. The applause had hardly died away when Harry fanned. The second time up there was more applause, the presentation of a diamond pin, and another strikeout. On his third appearance he was given a new hat and he promptly fanned again. The fourth time he came to bat there was blood in Harry's eye. The presentation committee was all out of gifts at this time. Harry accordingly got up, present, but he turned around and hit the leather out for a spanking home run.

Friends of Jack Hory will be glad to learn that he made one of the most sensational throws ever witnessed in the Tri-State league, the other day when he threw clear from the right field fence in Trenton to the home plate, cutting off a run. He has been recalled by the Red Sox.

DIAMOND NOTES

Fall River today.

Lowell played an errorless game but couldn't hit.

In the bright lexicon of Umpire Connolly there is no such word as "balk."

Andrew H. Musil, Private Musil of 7th Co. coast artillery, of Fort Banks, Mass., U. S. A., is the latest bench-warmer on the Lowell team. Musil practiced every muscle and his speed was marvelous. After watching Musil throw them for a few minutes Jack Sharrett said: "I can get them over the plate at that speed, but I hope all the heavy hitters in this league."

Double-header tomorrow at 2 o'clock. One and let the fans out in time for supper?

Eddie Connors receives compliments on all sides for a heady ball player. Why not? Didn't he graduate from P. J. Noone's school of baseball at Pittston, Pa? He did yet.

Fullerton has a movement in catching "Happy Days" Casey's celebrated herd. Webster has gone to the beach for a few weeks.

Why not give Early, the pitcher of the many teams who think he would make good. With a good heavy catcher like something.

Jimmie Magee contributed all the fun playing yesterday. He featured a high ground. A home run over the right field fence, is no longer a feature. Young Norris puts the ball over about every time he comes to town.

The "Heavenly Twins," Tony Cummings and Jim Devine are putting up a good game for Fall River. This pair has been traveling hand in hand through the league and both have the commendation of being the best of the best of them.

Ernest Vinson, right fielder on the local team, has been called to the home of his sister in Harrisburg, Pa. His sister passed away. Vinson has been out of the game for the past 10 days—Lawrence Telegram.

"Win's Winners" having been proved a nuisance, why not shift the name to "Barney's Barnstormers."

Two New England boys, Martine, a pitcher, and Melnis, a shortstop, both playing with the Beverly semi-professional team, have been sent contracts by Connie Mack. They were recommended by Bob Englaugh.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 11.—Michael T. Maroney of Meriden died early today at St. Francis hospital as a result of injuries received in a baseball game at Portland last Saturday. He collided with another player, while running bases and was injured in the abdomen. Maroney was 25 years old.

12 ROUND DRAW GREAT SURPRISE

At the Recall of Mehmed Alibey

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 11.—The bouts scheduled at the Cape Ann athletic club at its opening last evening brought out a good-sized gathering of members. Tommy Rawson, of East Boston and Young Clark of Lawrence were down for the main bout for 12 rounds. It was a good fight from start to finish. Rawson for the first half of the bout seemed to have something on Clark, but in the remaining rounds Clark began to come strong and in the 10th had his antagonist in the bad and the bell was a relief for Rawson. The 11th and 12th rounds were fast ones, both men fighting well. Referee Martin Flaherty called it a draw, and it was a good decision, well received. Dick Slater of Boston and Jack Jackson of Goldfield went eight good rounds in the semi-finals and Young Jackson and Kid Reilly, both local lads, went six fast rounds. Both these were declared a draw.

DONOVAN NOT COMING.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Johnny Carroll, and not Mike Donovan, is to be one of Billy Papke's opponents at the Armory A. A. Thursday night. A telegram from Rochester, N. Y., yesterday stated that Donovan had injured his left hand so badly while training for the bout against Papke that Mike could not go on with his engagement. Thereupon the club secured Carroll to take his place.

Carroll is best known here for his work in Chelsea when he knocked out Fred Bradley in three rounds. Carroll has also beaten Sailor Burke in one round, Jim Donovan, Willie Lewis, Jim Savage and other good middleweights. Carroll will be the first in the ring for six rounds against Papke, and he will be followed for the second six rounds by Frank Mantell.

A FAST BOUT.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 11.—At the skating pavilion here last night Jack Flynn and Tim Sullivan of Boston fought a six-round bout which proved to be one of the fastest that has taken place here for some time. Both men mixed things up fiercely from the tap of the gong to the final round.

Flynn was the aggressor throughout the battle and landed many wicked blows on Sullivan's body, which seemed to have little effect. It was an even thing up to the fourth, when Sullivan received a hard swing on the jaw which appeared to rouse his ire, and he waded into Flynn, swinging wildly, and one of the blows started the claret flowing freely from Flynn's nose. This was easily Sullivan's round.

The fifth was rather tame, both men sparring for an opening, only one blow of any account being landed, a straight left to Sullivan's face, which disturbed him not a little. From this out it was an even mill, easily being called a draw. About 300 witnessed the bout.

KNOCKED OUT LOUGHREY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—At the Bedford A. C., Brooklyn, last night, Joe Leonard knocked out Young Loughrey in the second round. What was to have been a six-round bout. Leonard went right after his man from the start and had him in a very bad way at the end of the first round. A right to the jaw early in the second session turned the trick.

THE SULTAN

TO PAY FOR NEW HOUSE OF PARLIAMENT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—The sultan has made known his intention of defraying the entire cost of building a new house of parliament and he has given orders that plans be prepared.

The general attitude of the sultan with regard to the new order of things in Turkey is giving great satisfaction. He is removing all fears of any attempt to return to the regime of personal rule. In an interview with one of his ministers the sultan said:

"Every man in Turkey is a member of the committee of union and progress, and I am their president. Let us live together and make the country prosperous."

WAR ON SOCIALISM CAME TO SURFACE

Catholics are Urged to Take up the Battle

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Bishop J. Regis Canevin of Pittsburgh, at the Catholic Federation convention in Symphony hall yesterday, called upon the Catholic people of America to present a solid wall of opposition to the doctrines of socialism and atheism, which he said, were being widely disseminated among the people of the United States of all grades and classes of society. On being introduced by National President Feeney, Bishop Canevin said:

"In the federation I see a mighty power for good. With Archbishop O'Connell, I hold that the federation ought to be a mighty wall to resist evil. It should be a living wall, not a dead wall, and it should be supported by the buttresses of the church throughout the country."

"It is not material power that will unify the federation. It is not Boston culture or the wealth of Chicago or New York or tangible things that will cement this federation and bind it together. Its unification is only to be found in the faith of Jesus Christ."

"Every man must be a stone in the great wall. In order that every man must do his part, he must not only be linked to the other parts, but he must be animated by faith and by Christian charity. It will be a deplorable thing if we do not bring the men of all social and intellectual groups to stand together in this federation. We must have men who will live as Catholics, think as Catholics and act as Catholics in their daily lives at all times."

WORK OF EDUCATION.

"We need to carry on a work of education. The propaganda of atheism and of socialism is being carried on in our homes, in our shops and in our factories. In the offices of our professional men and in the rural districts, literature of this propaganda is circulated among those who are discontented with their position in life, whether old or young. The false doctrines of rebellion against law, both of God and country, of atheism and of socialism, are being disseminated and discussed widely. The young men of today can argue socialism and put forth its so-called principles in a very plausible way."

"We must educate our young men so that they can meet the arguments of those socialist atheists. Catholics must carry on this work of education among themselves, so that they may really know where they stand, so that they can tell just where they stand, and be able to overthrow the doctrines of their opponents. For this end they must be real Catholics, thinking as Catholics and living up to the teachings of Catholicity."

FROM THE PHILIPPINES.

Bishop Hendrick of the diocese of Cebu, in the Philippine Islands, was also invited to speak by the president, but he asked to be excused until this morning, when he will address the convention.

National Secretary Matre read letters of regret for non-attendance and of approval of the federation from the archbishops and bishops of Chicago, North Carolina, Fort Wayne, Cincinnati, Baltimore, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Philadelphia, Fall River, Little Rock, Montreal, Glasgow, Scotland, Cork, Ireland, Hawaii and British Honduras.

In the course of his official address in opening the sessions, National President Edward Feeney spoke as follows on the subject of immoral literature:

"I desire to call the attention of the delegates to a growing evil, which the federation should aid in stamping out. The quantity of vile literature that is being imported from Europe is a menace to common American decency, and the religion of the recently arrived immigrants. So-called weekly papers containing the vilest caricatures of religion and morality are sneaked through our ports and distributed broadcast. These papers are the productions of infidels and anarchists, who render to the lowest instinct of the unthinking and degenerate, and who are bent upon the destruction of religion and government. They would not be allowed to print such sheets in this country."

"I recommend that our law committee be instructed to take up the subject, with the view of securing the amendment by congress of the present law, so that these offenders may be lawfully and effectively reached by the officials of the government. This could be accomplished in large measure if the United States postal laws and the interstate commerce statutes on the subject were amended to conform to the penal code of the state of New York."

SOLENN REQUIEM MASS.

The exercises of the day were begun with solemn requiem mass at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 8.30, which was largely attended. Vicar-General Patterson was the celebrant, the Rev. James J. Murphy, dean, the Rev. Redmond Walsh, S. J., sub-deacon, and the Rev. M. J. Spillane, D. D., served as master of ceremonies. After the mass the delegates proceeded to Symphony hall, where at 10 o'clock the convention was called to order by National President Feeney. Secretary Matre read his annual report, and the delegates, in private session, were addressed by Archbishop O'Connell, who congratulated them on the magnificent opening of the convention.

The following cablegram was sent to Rome from the convention:

"Cardinal Merry Del Val, Vatican, Rome."

"National convention of American Federation of Catholic societies assembled in Boston, representing 2,600,000 members throughout the United States to advance Catholic interests and welfare of nation, offer to His Holiness."

THE RECTIFIERS

Must Mark Packages of Spirits

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The commissioner of Internal revenue has informed W. M. Hough, attorney for the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association, that there is ample authority of law for the government to prescribe the marking of packages of spirits and liquors in the hands of retailers and the case of marking the products of distillers. Mr. Hough was referred to section 3249, of the revised statutes as ample authority for the government.

THE BAR LICENSE

Of a Lawrence Hotel Was Surrendered

LAWRENCE, Aug. 11.—John J. Linnehan, proprietor of the Waverly Hotel, has surrendered his liquor license to Frank O. Libbey. Mr. Libbey is to transfer his newly procured stand down Essex street near Broadway, just opposite Scanlon's saloon. A peculiar incident in connection with the transfer was that Mr. Linnehan was obliged to close his saloon on the day the surrender was accepted. The law allows the proprietors to keep the place of business open for ten days after the surrender is made public. But this was not so in the case of Linnehan. At 3.30 o'clock Monday afternoon city marshal John Sheehan ordered the place closed. No reason was given excepting that he had been ordered to do so.

To show how extraordinary this step was, we will cite a similar case of surrender where the proprietor is at present selling liquor during his ten days. A few days ago, John Conlon of Broadway surrendered his license to Paul Teshner, the transfer was accepted and Conlon's saloon is open to day. Teshner is to remove the stand, according to rumor, but the saloon was not closed on the day of surrender. He was the case with John Linnehan. Another similar case was that of Eddie Cotton who surrendered to Luke Collins. Cotton was allowed his ten days and kept his saloon open during that time.

JUDGE BRADFORD

Denied Gov. Willson's Charges

AUGUSTA, Ky., Aug. 11.—County Judge S. T. Bradford and County Attorney George B. Kinney of Bracken county, yesterday issued a statement in answer to Governor Willson's charge that they have not done their duty. They make a flat denial of the charge and add:

"The governor of Kentucky never made an investigation of the facts and situation in Bracken county. He has listened to false statements made by the American Tobacco company, and those who are opposed to the American Society of Equity."

ANNUAL SHOOT

AUBURN, Me., Aug. 11.—The annual shoot of the Maine state riflemen commenced today at the Perryville range. Teams from Brunswick, Phillips, Livermore Falls and Auburn will compete in the shoot, which is to continue three days. The contest for the Maine woods cup occurs today. On Wednesday the individual shoot for the national sportsman's cup will take place.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Last night the Adam Good Co. presented "Lone Rivers" to a house that taxed the seating capacity of the theatre to its fullest extent. When the management selected this bill they made no mistake in thinking that it would be the best drawing card of the season for it has met the house to be taken as an indication of the patronage the company are going to receive for the remainder of the week by Thursday night the S. R. O. sign will be hung in a very conspicuous place.

Miss Helen Plimpton, the leading lady that has taken Miss Overton's place, was voted "our excellence" by everyone and was deservedly so for her version of "Lone Rivers" was beyond criticism. The new Shasta Gown that Miss Plimpton wore is the first of its kind to be worn in Lowell and leaving aside the fact that of seeing an excellent performance it is worth the price of admission alone just to see this gown.

The play itself is a four-act drama with plenty of stirring climaxes with pretty little love story loosely woven through and has been termed "the sweetest story ever told" a title that does not exaggerate in the least. As usual there will be matinees every day with the prices will not be changed.

NIGHT EDITION

How They Traced Gutman Gang of Bandits

A great deal of stress is being laid by the police throughout the state and the state police upon the questions of firearms. It is one of the very serious questions that must be settled at once and for all time. If there isn't anything too good for the modern bandit in the line of firearms there ought not to be anything too modern or up-to-date for the men who have to face the bandit in the protection of life and property. This is the substance of an argument offered by a real live state officer and listened to by a reporter of The Sun.

The state officer in question told a little something that we have never seen in print. It had to do with the weapons used by the Jamaica Plain bandits and the yeggmen who operated in Woburn and Billerica last winter. The men who shot Officers Walsh and O'Neil, Stable-keeper Holland and the Van Tassel boy in Woburn and Billerica, used the same make and calibre of weapons as did the men who shot up Jamaica Plain.

It will be remembered that Officer Hurley of Arlington arrested two of the yeggmen and they carried automatic revolvers. The fact that these men were armed with such modern and deadly weapons aroused the state police and they communicated with the manufacturers. The guns were traced by numbers from the manufacturer to the wholesalers, from the wholesalers to the retailers and the retailers after diligent search and inquiry into books and dates informed the police that the guns had been sold to a society and the society was named. That is how the police got their first clue to the society led by Edmund Gutman.

STATE AND CITY

Welcome Delegates to Canada-American Convention

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 11.—Following the reception at Infantry hall last evening, at which great enthusiasm prevailed, the eighth annual convention of the Canada-American association began with a pontifical mass at St. Charles Borromeo church this morning. Right Rev. Matthew Harkins of the diocese of Providence officiating on the throne. Adjournment was then taken to Infantry hall, where Gov. Higgins and Mayor McCarthy of Providence welcomed the delegates in the name of the state and city, and then took an adjournment for an hour for luncheon.

The convention reconvened at two o'clock and at the afternoon session the reports of the supreme president, secretary and treasurer were submitted for the approval of the delegates.

It is expected that before the afternoon is over the beginning of the discussion of constitutional amendments proposed by the supreme officers and the different courts and villages of the order will occur, and these it is presumed will occupy considerable of the attention of the convention during the remaining days of the session.

RANGERS PURSUE THE YAQUIS

BISBIE, Ariz., Aug. 11.—Captain Harry Wheeler and a half dozen Arizona rangers left today for a point on the International border, 30 miles east of Douglas, to prevent the crossing of fifty hostile Yaquis who are being pursued by Mexican troops. The rangers will attempt to arrest the Yaquis for violating the neutrality laws if they try to pass the border.

The Yaquis are said to be well armed but poorly provisioned.

CAMPAIGN PLANS

Bryan and Mack to Hold a Conference

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—Upon the arrival of Norman E. Mack, chairman of the national democratic committee in Lincoln, this afternoon, the executive committee will hold a conference at Fairview with Mr. Bryan, at which the campaign plans will be discussed. A number of the members of the notification committee already are here and it was expected that most of them would be here during the day would ride out to the Bryan home. Some of them went out in the forenoon. Among these was A. W. Forbes of Arizona and Charles Edelman of San Francisco. Mr. Edelman has insisted that the democratic nominee should visit California and make a couple of speeches. He thought added that the republicans would have California was safely democratic, but he told Mr. Bryan that if he went out there it would be surely so. The Californians, Mr. Bryan was told, were greatly pleased with the two planks of the Denver platform relating to Asiatic immigration and the regulation of the Pacific coast that month. His plans for September will prevent his going to the Pacific coast that month. Having finished a lecture tour in the states of Ohio, Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska, Thomas P. Barnes of Erie, Pa., a Unitarian minister, called on Mr. Bryan, and gave him the benefit of what information he had regarding the political sentiment in those states.

"I found the drift towards you everywhere," Mr. Bryan was told, and he added that the republicans would have California was safely democratic, but he told Mr. Bryan that if he went out there they could hope to win.

THE LOWELL POLICE

Looking for Men Who Murdered Two Methuen Officers

FRANCIS McDERMOTT, METHUEN POLICEMAN, MURDERED BY YEGGMEN.

Car Conductor Saw Yeggs With Arm Bandaged — Great Activity Among the Police, But No Clues to the Real Culprits — Lowell Police Ready to Act Quickly If Any Suspicious Characters Are Found Hereabouts

Lowell police in uniform and plain clothes are looking for the men who shot two police officers to death in a peat bog of the old Lowell road in Methuen late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, and patrolmen, officers and all have orders to arrest all suspicious characters.

Should information reach Lowell from suburban points relative to the presence there of suspicious characters, Supt. Moffatt stands ready to despatch a posse of men to interrogate and if necessary or advisable to arrest the strangers.

It was stated today, but not officially, that the governor would order out the militia. At the office of the adjutant general, this forenoon, it was stated that the governor had not yet reached a decision on the matter.

The state and Boston police who are assisting in the work of intercepting the murderers of the two Methuen officers are satisfied, as was stated in The Sun yesterday, that the men who killed the officers, while they may not have been members of the bandit gang that shot up Jamaica Plain and made a grave of a gully in Forest Hill cemetery, they used the same weapons, the 38 calibre automatic pistol.

There have been no new developments of any importance in the Methuen murder now known as the peat bog tragedy, today. The only arrests made here that could be in anyway connected with it were made by Officer Martin Conway of Billerica.

At three o'clock this morning he arrested two young fellows named Blood and Kingsley in the horse shed of the Talbot Memorial hall at North Billerica. Blood and Kingsley were aged respectively 18 and 19. They were brought to Lowell and after having been put through the usual course of sprouts were allowed to go. They told a good straightforward story. They said that their home is in Northfield, Vt., that they had been induced to go to the shipyards in Chelsea where they were promised work. When they got there they found that a strike was in order, and they refused to do the strike-breaking act, and being without money they started to beat it back over the road to Northfield.

Considerable importance is attached to the statement of a car conductor that he saw four men on the Lawrence road going towards Lowell, one of them having his arm in a sling. Two foreigners have been arrested in Methuen, but neither is wounded.

SIX SUSPICIOUS MEN. A report from South Lawrence that six suspicious men had been seen near a brewery there caused a flurry of excitement and a detail, well armed, was sent immediately to the scene. An examination of the two men who were held at Methuen in connection with the murder proved that they were in no way connected with it.

GUIDE WAS EATEN

Lemieux Attacked by Two Companions

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 11.—Nine woodsmen, returning from the Lake Chibougamou district yesterday, made a sworn statement that they had discovered the remains of Auguste Lemieux, the guide who was said to have been killed and eaten by travelers. According to the woodsmen, there was every evidence of cannibalism, and their statement bears out the first reports of the awful deed.

The remains of the unfortunate guide were decently buried, and with that act ends one chapter of one of the most awful tragedies of the Canadian wilderness.

Though the first news of the act of cannibalism in Canada came out on June 15, the story runs back to September, 1907. At that time two Frenchmen, Joseph Gussert and M. Bernard, went on a hunting trip north-west of Lake St. John, 200 miles up in the back country. They engaged the services of Auguste Lemieux, and were provisioned for six or seven weeks. In January, 1908, a hunter brought news to Quebec of having found a white man's camp with a message of distress signed "Bernard." A search party was sent out, and on April 26, 1908, they found a mutilated body, which they took to be that of Bernard. This would account for the guide and one of the hunting party, but the fate of Gussert is still unknown.

PERSONALS Engineer Ted Meloy, Capt. Halstead of the Protective company and Hoseman Dolan of Engine 4, are enjoying their vacations at North Woodstock, N. H., at a hotel conducted by "Joe" Brown, formerly a member of Engine 4 company.

Miss Eva Williamson of Thordens street is sojourning at Providence. She will visit Newport, Narragansett and other resorts along the south shore before returning to this city. Miss Josephine Gormley of 625 Broadway is spending this week with friends at Old Orchard, Me.

EXTRA

BRYAN A GUEST

At Dinner in Honor of Humphrey O'Sullivan at Lincoln

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, Aug. 11.—This evening Mr. Bryan will be a guest at a dinner given by the local Typographical union in honor of Humphrey O'Sullivan, a prominent business man of Lowell, Mass. It is assumed that Mr. Bryan will be called upon to make a speech. It will be the first occasion that he has had to meet the members of the Typographical union since his election last Sunday week. Mr. O'Sullivan many years ago identified himself with the printers' union and has contributed largely to the fund carrying on its work.

Following the dinner Mr. Bryan will hold a conference with Chairman Mack and the members of the text book committee at the Lincoln hotel.

THIRTEEN MEN ARE DEAD

SAARBRUEKEN, Germany, Aug. 11.—Thirteen men are dead and eight are badly injured as the result of an explosion of fire-damp in the Dudweiler mine, five miles from here.

MAY BE MURDER

Body of Young Woman Found in a Room

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The body of Hattie Kill, 20 years old, was found today covered with blood in her apartment over an undertaker's shop in West 22nd street. E. C. Waldeck, proprietor of the undertaking place, reported the case to the coroner, saying that the body gave evidence of having been subjected to violence.

CONDUCTOR LANE

Saw Two Suspicious Men in the Road This Afternoon

That the yeggs who shot the two officers in Methuen are within a few miles of the scene of the dastardly murder is evidenced by what Conductor Arthur Lane of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company saw shortly after noon today.

His car, which is due in the square at 1:10 in the afternoon, passed two men in the vicinity of the Cancer hospital where the car leaves the highway and takes to the private land. Both men were foreigners and one carried a bundle. They waited for the car, standing midway in the road, but when the car approached them they darted to bushes on the side of the road and went under cover. One of the men held his arm in a limp manner as though he had suffered an injury. The other wore a suit of clothes which were badly torn, indicating that he might have come in contact with either barbed wire fences or had figured in a scuffle.

One of the men had a bundle in his hand, the paper which covered the bundle being soiled.

When Conductor Lane arrived in this city he communicated with the police department and Inspectors Martin Maher and Joseph J. Walsh were dispatched to the scene. They followed the Lawrence line on their bicycles but were unable to find the two men.

Asked is he had been officially notified relative to the Methuen murder, Supt. Moffatt said: "I have not received any official notification. Capt. Ken, I believe, talked with the Lawrence or Methuen police, but it matters not now as to official notification. We know that a murder has been committed and that the murderers are just as liable to come to Lowell as to go elsewhere and it is up to us to do our part in apprehending them. My men have been instructed to arrest all suspicious characters."

COLORED MEN

Few Attended Republican Convention

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 11.—The Texas republican state convention was well attended today, but a notable feature was the diminution in numbers of colored delegates. W. H. Atwell of Dallas and Charles W. Ogden of San Antonio are the two leading candidates for the gubernatorial nomination.

6 O'CLOCK

"TOM" SHARKEY

Makes An Application for An
"Affidavit"

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Tom Sharkey was down in Tombs court yesterday on a little legal business of his own.

"Hey," he put it up to the complaint clerk, "I'm a what ye call that now?" he asked turning to Lieutenant Hannon, of the police department legal bureau—"an affidavit. That's what I want, an affidavit."

"What's the complaint?" asked the clerk.

"Why, this fellow here," Tom pointed a capable thumb in the general direction of the prisoners' bench and of Bridgman Wagner, "he borrowed $50 off me, an'—"

But the complaint clerk wasn't listening. He was musing, with a far-off look in his eyes, of that evening when he and some others were in Tom's place, and Tom said, quite suddenly, "Well, boys, what are we goin' to have?" adding, as the bunch snuggled against the rail, "Rain or shine?"

"Tom," he whispered, "here's a pin."

Tom looked at it. "What's that for?" he asked.

"Stick it into yourself. This is the Tombs court. You're talking in your sleep."

"Yes, it seems like one of those willie dreams all right," Tom owned up with a jocular grin, "but there's yare all the same. Take this way I give it to ye an' ye get it right."

As one rebuffed by his own volition, the clerk watched his own hand moving over the printed form filling out Tom's affidavit. It related to the exploit of one Joseph Casey (now here), a bartender, 27 years old, of 414 Henry street, Brooklyn, who on or about the 25th of February, in the evening, did enter deponent's place of business at 144 East 14th street, and there by fraud and device, to wit, by representing himself to be under Sheriff John F. Gilchrist, did cajole said deponent into making him a loan of seventy dollars in good and lawful money of the United States. Accordingly deponent accuses said Joseph Casey (now here) of grand larceny, and prays that he be dealt with according to law.

On the witness stand, before Magistrate Kernochan, Tom further elucidated.

"He comes in my place one night, Your Honor, and walks right up to me. 'How d'ye do, Tom, good evening,' he says. So I says 'good evening,' how d'ye do. 'We fellows are pretty busy on the 'Taw trial these days,' he says. 'I s'pose ye must be,' I says. So things runs on till he lets it out what ye call off hand that he's under Sheriff Gilchrist. Finally he asks me will I have a drink, I says 'yes,' and he comes across for a glass of wine. Then—"

"Then I suppose ye ordered one," put in Hannon sympathetically.

"Mc? No. Then he says, 'By the way, Tom, old pal, I ain't got no money. Wish ye'd let me have fifty till tomorrow,' he says. So as I was going back to get it, he calls out, 'Hey, I wish ye'd make that seventy, Tom, an' I'll send ye a check in the morning,' he says. So I didn't have the coin on me, an' I goes to the cashier and gets it."

Was this the same man? asked the magistrate. No, Tom wasn't quite sure it was, but there was the cashier, he saw him too, James Walsh, the cashier, of 250 East 51st street, was called up and identified the man.

The case was put over to this morning to give the police bureau time to work up a case. The bureau had only had since the arrest was made last Thursday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The battle-ship Jacob Van Heemskerck sailed today for Caribbean waters. The cruiser Freidland, which is under orders to prepare for foreign service, returned today from Norway. She will probably follow the Jacob Van Heemskerck as soon as she can get ready.

The only warship the Netherlands now has in the Caribbean is the cruiser Gelderland. This vessel's term of service has expired and she will be relieved by the Jacob Van Heemskerck.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Clinging to the end of a broken clothes line, swinging like a pendulum, Mrs. Inez Glagina was dashed against a brick wall several times yesterday, receiving a fractured skull and other injuries, from which she probably will die.

The woman, who is nineteen years old, lived at No. 245 Washington avenue, Bronx. Her apartment is on the second floor. The ground slopes so that the yard is rear it is three stories above the yard.

Mrs. Glagina was leaning out of the window yesterday hanging clothes. As she pulled on the line it parted and in some manner she lost her balance and tumbled head first from the window. In the desperation of despair, as she plunged down the woman grasped like a drowning person at everything, that it whirled like a snake and wound itself about the hand that clutched it.

She dropped the length of the line, then she was snapped back into the air and dropped again.

From the projection on the first escape where the rope was attached to the brick wall of the house is about six feet. She swung out the length of the rope some eight feet toward the center of the yard and then came back battering the wall with the force of a battering ram. Her head struck the bricks. She was sent out again by the impact and again struck the wall. She clung to the rope until consciousness left her, then, bruised and battered and with her skull fractured, she dropped to the ground.

An ambulance took her to Fordham hospital, where last night it was said she would die.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Following the collapse of the building at 35 Greenock street, Dorchester last Thursday morning, and the subsequent report yesterday afternoon, Building Inspector Abraham T. Rogers was this afternoon suspended from duty. Inspector Rogers visited the tenement house a week before the collapse, which resulted in the injury to two carpenters. Rogers will be given a hearing by the building commissioners.

The suspension of Rogers followed a visit to the building today by Mayor George Hibbard.

NO TROUBLE YET

In Connection With the
C. P. Strike

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 11.—The Canadian Pacific railroad strike is settling down to a test of endurance between the company and the unions. The company is trying to secure mechanics to take the places of the strikers, while the latter have the powerful backing of the American Federation of Labor. Both sides are maintaining reserve as to the progress of the strike. Additional machinists from the car department in western Canada have joined the ranks of the strikers.

The railroad intends to bring in a large number of strike breakers. Many special constables are being sworn in. So far, however, there has been no lawlessness.

The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart church will meet tonight in the school hall for its regular monthly meeting. A large attendance is expected as important business will be presented and discussed.

$1000 ALIMONY
Granted Mrs. Child by the Court

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Supreme Court Justice Abel E. Blackmar listened yesterday to a protest against the alimony and counsel fees allowed Gertrude W. Child in the suit for separation brought by her husband, Irwin W. Child. She has brought a counter action for absolute divorce. Last October Justice Scudder signed an order for $1000 a month alimony and $5000 counsel fees. Justice Blackmar decided that the alimony should be the same and fixed the counsel fee at $2500 pending an appeal to the appellate division.

Irwin Child is now in Europe. He is heir to an estate valued at $1,500,000. He left his wife when court proceedings were started. She is living with her father, Arthur Wetfall, at 185 Stratford road, Flatbush. At the time of her marriage she was a prominent figure in Brooklyn society and her elopement with Child created a sensation.

HOMELESS YOUTH
Was Nearly Killed by Mosquitoes

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Nearly dead from the bites of thousands of mosquitoes, which were swarming about his helpless body, Patrick O'Leane, a homeless youth, was found by a policeman last night lying in some deep grass on a lot at Hoe avenue and One Hundred and Seventy-fourth street, the Bronx.

His face, hands and neck were terribly swollen and discolored from the attacks of the insects, and he was so weak from starvation that he was unable to brush them off.

O'Leane had been lying in the lot since Saturday night, he told the policeman, waiting for death to end his sufferings. Policeman pitied, of the Baiting avenue station, carried the youth to a restaurant and bought him a good meal before taking him to the station on a technical charge of vagrancy, which was brought so that he might be cared for.

"I came from Ireland some months ago," O'Leane told Magistrate Harris in the night court. "I had a job as a subway guard—the was in a subway uniform—but lost it when the hard times came. I will be glad to go to the workhouse, so as to have shelter and food."

"I'll send you there, then," the magistrate said, "and when you get out I'll personally help you to get a job."

The magistrate requested that O'Leane be given medical attention and asked Miss McCauley, the probation officer, to look after him.

A CONFERENCE
CHAIRMAN WOODRUFF TALKS WITH HENDRICKS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Chairman Woodruff of the republican state committee and Francis Hendricks, former superintendent of insurance of New York, held a conference here today, at the republican headquarters. Both declined to state the nature of the questions discussed. Among Chairman Woodruff's other callers were Wm. Barnes, Jr., of Albany, and Congressman J. Sloan Fassett of Elmira. When Mr. Barnes was asked what the situation regarding the election of the state ticket was, he replied "Good. Hughes has said that the election of a candidate for governor is up to the people and he is right. The people will decide who the candidate shall be at the state convention."

Congressman Fassett expressed similar sentiments.

GREEK SOCIETY WOMAN POISONED

Demanded $1000 From a Prominent New York Merchant
Some One Sent Her a Gift of Candy

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The attempt of a group of men using the name of the Greek revolutionary society to collect $1000 from Basilo Spiropoulos, a Greek dealer in Oriental goods, and Spiropoulos' plans to shoot the blackmailers, resulted today in the arrest of Spiropoulos in the bushes in the far northern end of Manhattan Island. Spiropoulos is charged with carrying concealed weapons. He had an automatic revolver guaranteed to empty itself in quick order. He told the police that he had received a letter from the revolutionary society ordering him to meet an agent of the society, at Fort George and deliver $1000 on pain of being cut to pieces and placed in a barrel. When Spiropoulos went with his magazine revolver and a roll of $1000 made up to look like $1000, several policemen armed him and four men who were armed hiding in the bushes evidently awaiting his coming. All carried revolvers and all were held in ball when arraigned in court.

CAUSED LOSS OF $50,000
MANDAN, N. D., Aug. 11.—A tornado struck Mandan late yesterday afternoon, damaging trees and buildings to the extent of $50,000. One boy was picked up by the wind and carried three blocks. He was seriously bruised. The roof of the Inter-Ocean hotel and the roof of the Danmars hotel were blown off.

TWO MEN TORTURED
Because They Would Not Betray Their Companions

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 11.—Police officials here have received news of the torturing of two local men who were arrested recently in Mexico City, Mexico, on a charge of robbing a bank messenger.

William Moffatt and Edward Maloney are the men and the police here say they were well known to them before leaving for Mexico. Two companions escaped the officers when the Pittsburghers were arrested and the Mexican police demanded their names.

Refusing to betray their companions, the men allege that they were strapped up by the wrists to the bars of their cell while the officials with forceps tore the nails from their hands. Unable to bear the agony, the men gave up the names of their companions. "I suppose," said Captain of Detectives Edwin T. McGough today, "if it were not for the record of the men their torture would cause international complications."

New York Police Officer Accused

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Policeman Benjamin Cordice, of the Mercer street station, yesterday had a busy time in headquarters before Deputy Commissioner Hannon, who in the morning heard a charge that Cordice had accepted money for the release of two women prisoners, and in the afternoon heard the man accused of keeping to "squell" an excise case.

Cordice and Policeman W. F. Waltman, also of Mercer street, were joint defendants at the morning trial. Decision in this case was reserved. In the afternoon Louis Bricea, manager of a saloon at No. 171 Bloeker street, appeared against Cordice. He charged that about 1 a. m. on July 26th last, Cordice arrested Charles Morse, Bricea's bartender, for alleged violation of the excise laws and that while on the way to the station house, accompanied by Bricea, intimidated to the latter that for a sum of money the charge would not be pressed. The complainant swore he gave the policeman $10, expecting Morse to be freed promptly. Instead, Cordice is said to have presented a strong case against the prisoner. Thereupon Bricea took the matter before Captain Henry, who preferred the charges.

Cordice's defense was that he was offered $10 by a brother of Bricea if he would "fix" the matter, and that the offer was indignantly spurned.

NORFOLK, Conn., Aug. 11.—An effort to end the life of Mrs. William Morgan, through poisoned confectionery last Sunday night has faced the authorities of this village with a baffling mystery which Mrs. Morgan, who is sixty-five years old and eccentric, has done little to dispel.

Word was sent to the police of Windsor yesterday and it is expected detectives from that city will try to get at the facts. By some in the village it has been more than hinted that Mrs. Morgan may have taken the dose herself through accident or design.

Mrs. Morgan partook of the candy after supper last night and almost immediately became violently ill. She betrayed all of the symptoms of poisoning, and Dr. O. L. Hamant, the family physician, who was called in, worked over her for five hours. For a time he despaired of saving her life.

When she had recovered sufficiently to speak, the aged woman said she had received the candy on Saturday from a woman friend, but when asked the name of the donor, she closed her lips tightly and refused to answer.

Repeatedly since then Mrs. Morgan has been asked to tell all she knows, but has refused. Yesterday she said, in answer to questions:

"I believe that the candy contained poison of some sort, but I will not say who gave it to me. I do not know why the person wanted to injure me."

This was all she would say despite the efforts of the local justice of the peace to induce her to talk.

The confectionery was in a small pasteboard box and this has been secured, it is said, as well as a small piece of the candy itself, which may be subjected to chemical analysis.

The residents are wondering who is the guilty woman, or if the whole story is a signment of the brain of Mrs. Morgan.

It is pointed out that she has before done many eccentric things. One of her acts was to report a burglary at her home. Investigation proved that no burglary had taken place.

Mrs. Morgan has been a widow for many years. She lives with her son-in-law, Milford Dutcher, near the center of the village, and is a regular attendant at church.

She is not wealthy and is dependent upon her son-in-law for support. The question that the villagers are asking is: "Who could have any object in desiring the death of this harmless old woman?" So far as known she has no enemies, though because of her eccentric manner she is not very popular. But she was known to every one and always greeted kindly wherever she went.

It is known, too, that her home life has been exceedingly pleasant. Her daughter and son-in-law have supplied her with every comfort during the years of her widowhood.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 11.—A special from Cranbrook says: A big bush fire is raging near Sullivan, with the probability of the buildings of the Sullivan Mine company being burned. Another fire is burning near Kimberley and there is danger of that town being wiped out.

RACE HOMICIDE STOCK MARKET
Worse Than Race Suicide Says Doctor
Today's Quotations on Active Stocks

SILVER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 11.—"We have heard much in recent years of the Rooseveltian theory of race suicide, but I tell you that what we have to face today is a problem of race homicide—of child murder permitted by society. If we were careful to protect the lives of the babies born in this country we could save at least 150,000 of the babies who now die annually. Society should care for babies at least as well as it does for pigs."

In these scathing terms Dr. John Spargo, sociological writer and author of books on the health of children, today denounced the national neglect of the public health at the conference of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries here. Then he proceeded to give some startling statistics regarding the mortality of infants in various parts of this country.

"When we say that we cannot have a mother care for her offspring because she is needed to make paper bags or shoddy clothing, we enunciate a shameful doctrine which would disgrace barbarians," continued Dr. Spargo. "In some parts of Massachusetts the infant death rate is 111 to the thousand annually, while in the industrial cities of the same state it is 230 per thousand. In the Back Bay district it is only 94, while in the poorer sections of Boston the rate is 252. In certain sections of the South it is 300, and in Charlestown the infant death rate has reached the enormous figure of 419 per thousand."

All of these facts indicate barbarism worse than barbarism. In this country every year 150,000 lives are taken by tuberculosis, and it is a preventable disease."

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11.—Richard Coffey and Harold Dillon of the Newport nine and John Pender of the Brooklyn nine of the New England league, who were arrested here on August 2nd, for playing ball on Sunday, were discharged today by Judge Franklin in the district court, warrants being declared defective.

SHERIFF BRADLEY
Has Talk With Ex-Sen.
Brackett

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Sheriff John Bradley, Jr., against whom charges of neglect of duty in connection with alleged gambling on the Saratoga race track have been filed, had a conference today with ex-Senate Senator Edgar T. Brackett, whom he retained as his counsel.

After the counsel, Senator Brackett, gave out the following statement: "I know nothing of the facts, nothing that has occurred on the track because I have not been there. But if the sheriff has honestly done his duty, on the lines laid down in the written opinion, I gave him for his guidance, he cannot properly be convicted nor have I any idea that he will be, for the opinion simply states the law as it is, and as the courts have held it to be. I do not believe that the governor will try to make a martyr of the sheriff in order to show his own zeal against race track gambling."

LATEST THREE LIVES LOST TWO MEN DROWNED

IN POLICE COURT At a Fire in Wheeling, W. Va. Double Fatality in Lake Mascuppig Yesterday

Motley Crowd of Offenders in Dock Today

Annie J. Gearin is very fond of boiled dinners, but she likes to have them served in a proper manner and just because Thomas McGovern threw a kettle full of corned beef and cabbage at her she had him arrested. The alleged assault took place a week ago Saturday, but the Gearin woman was unable to appear in court till this morning inasmuch as she suffered severe burns as a result of the boiling water in the kettle falling over her head.

She acknowledged that McGovern was a good friend of hers and they were on the best of terms till the day in question when there was considerable rushing of the can and this brought on some unkind words. One word led to another and she said McGovern picked the kettle off the stove and threw it at her.

McGovern said the kettle was knocked off the stove by accident. He and the Gearin woman had a few words and she landed him over the head with a poker. He said that after she had handed him three severe blows she ran for the kettle that was on the stove and thinking that she was going to throw it at him he knocked it out of her hand, the water falling all over the woman's lower limbs.

He was fined $15. A charge of drunkenness which was preferred against him was placed on file.

"Because you have worked and behaved yourself prior to this arrest, I would rather have you working than in jail," was the statement of Judge Flecken to Augustus W. Waldron this morning.

Waldron and his wife, Susan E., were arrested from their room in Colburn street last night by Patrolmen Bigelow and Drewett.

The arresting officers said that the pair were bawling drunk, and they were attracted to the house by the noise.

Mrs. Waldron said the police had a spite against her and when she had pleaded guilty to drunkenness a number of times she was not drunk last night.

Both were let off with suspended sentences of two months in jail.

MILK BOTTLES MIXED.

The case of David Paresky, charged with using a registered milk can, the property of Otis Byam, was continued till next Tuesday.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

John Fleming was released from the state farm two months ago on condition that he would mend his ways and pass liquor saloons without entering them, but yesterday his third offense came him, and as a result he got intoxicated. It was his second offense, but the court was inclined to believe that there was a chance for reform, and imposed a suspended sentence of one month in jail.

Thomas Guthrie, a fourth offender, was sentenced to the state farm.

ASSAULT CASE.

The case of Karol Kapela, charged with assault and battery on Antoni Kubacki, was continued till next Tuesday morning on request of counsel.

Marlin Roach, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

The case of John Bilek and Michael Guntz, charged with assault and battery on Thomas Budrewicz, was continued till Thursday. J. Joseph O'Connor for the defendants and Dennis J. Murphy for the government.

SPENT EMPLOYER'S MONEY.

Napoleon J. Laroek, who has been in the employ of James Wotton of Chelmsford, after selling a load of produce yesterday, felt rather thirsty, and having got money of his own decided to appropriate some belonging to his employer. As a result of what he handed over several bars he accumulated a pretty good jug and before he reached his employer's domicile he was nailed by a constable with a big badge. In court this morning Laroek was charged with being drunk, the larceny charge not being made. It cost him $8 for his fun.

FIVE MONTHS IN JAIL.

Judge Pickman shows but little leniency to men who fail to provide the proper support for their families. If a man shows any inclination to do good he will be given a chance to prove himself. In the case of John J. Walsh, who is on the bench, but if the offender is one of those people who cares only for himself the sentence is apt to be severe.

This morning Annie Walsh complained that her husband, John J. Walsh did nothing towards supporting her and their two children. It seems that he has been given a number of chances to do better, but cannot get out of the beaten path. He will spend the next five months in jail.

SUSPECTS SENT TO STATE FARM.

James Cohan and Patrick Downs, two of the hobos who were arrested in Billerica yesterday morning and who it was alleged were being held as suspects in connection with the murder in Methuen, appeared in court this morning to withdraw the appeal they made from a sentence to the state farm.

There were several first offenders who were fined $2 and four were released.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 11.—Escaping gas in the building on South Fort street, occupied by Mrs. J. S. Gavin as a millinery store and residence caused a fire early this morning which resulted in the death of three persons and the possible fatal injury of one other, while six more were compelled to jump from third story windows to escape the flames. The dead:

CLARA GAVIN, 27 years old.
A. GAVIN, 29 years old.
MARGARET GAVIN, 21 years old.
MRS. J. A. GAVIN may die.
The dead girls were daughters of Mrs. Gavin and were suffocated as they slept.

CREW ESCAPED

Tug Annie Wood Was Destroyed By a Fire

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 11.—Tug Annie Wood, owned by Captain Fred Rich and company of Providence, leased by the Packard Dredging company of that city, was almost totally destroyed by fire about 6.30 o'clock this morning on the west shore of the Taunton river, just above Burt's turn near North Dighton. All of the crew were saved by jumping overboard and landed on shore.

After the tug had drifted ashore, the tug Quocuxian, owned by the Staples Coal company of this city, turned her hose on the flames and put the fire out, but not before the boat was a charred hulk. The loss is estimated to be about $3000. The crew was taken care of by the tug Olympic, which is leased by the same company and employed in the work of dredging out the river at that place.

Continued.

In connection with the arrest of these young men, Officer Conway said: "I presume it is not any different in Billerica than in other suburban towns. But I want to tell you that the hobo who pokes his nose near a back door in Billerica is taking fearful chances. The people are thoroughly aroused because of the evident seriousness of conditions, and they are ready to shoot at a moment's notice."

THE BANDIT'S PISTOLS.

The average policeman's gun is no match for the bandit's pistol, and since solved today. A posse of seven armed men was sent out to assist in the apprehension of the murderers but they were unable to find any trace of the men. Early this morning the men who seemed reticent when asked to give an account of themselves and who were reported by two car conductors as acting in a suspicious manner, were arrested by the police and taken to the town lockup. Both are foreigners but were unarmed. Any police officials do not think they are connected with the crime. They were held, however, for an examination.

The theory that the policemen met their deaths at the hands of the bandits who "shot up" Jamaica Plain gained ground this morning, and was strengthened by the belief that the men were shot from automatic pistols, of the same type as those used by the bandits.

THE WRONG MAN

Was Buried for Robert Wesley

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Robert Wesley, supposed to have been killed at Newark two months ago and buried after an insurance death claim was paid, may still be alive. The New York insurance company that paid the death claim is trying to make sure about it.

A negro was injured in River street by a Pennsylvania train late at night June 10 and was removed to St. Michael's hospital and registered as Robert West of 10 River street. He died within a few hours. Mrs. Lulu Broadhurst, of 2 Cambridge place, a sister of Wesley, went to the hospital, identified the body as that of Wesley, claimed it and caused it to be sent to New London, Conn., for burial by her mother.

A representative of the insurance company called on Mrs. Broadhurst last Friday and told her that Mrs. Amanda Wesley, mother of Robert, had received a letter from the supposed dead son last week. Mrs. Broadhurst declared yesterday that she could not explain the mistake in identification and the letter was made up by her mother. Mrs. Nancy Turner, another sister, who came from New London, viewed the body and also identified it. Mrs. Broadhurst declared.

LIVELY GAMES

AT OUTING OF WOLF TONE GUARDS.

The regular meeting of the Wolf Tone Guards was held last night and final preparations for the annual picnic were made. A football game between the Sarfields of Peabody and the Young Irelands of this city has also been arranged.

TWO ARRESTS MADE.

METHUEN, Mass., Aug. 11.—The mystery surrounding the murder of the two policemen at this town, Charles H. Emerson and Frank McDermott, who were shot and stoned to death Saturday night, remained un-strengthened by the belief that the men were shot from automatic pistols, of the same type as those used by the bandits.

This is the first time that this bit of news has ever been published and in other towns and cities the police are instigating a movement for the equipment of up-to-date firearms so that in case of emergency they may have at least an even chance with desperadoes, bandits, outlaws, murderers, regiments, or whatever you may please to call them.

The automatic pistol, calibre 38, rimless and smokeless, seems the outlaw's favorite. The action of this pistol is automatic. The arm can be discharged at the rate of five shots per second, the cartridges being automatically supplied from a detachable magazine inserted in the handle of the pistol.

The statement has been made that at a recent revolver practice by the local police that some of their centre fire revolvers were found to contain rim fire cartridges and vice versa. This would be a bad state of affairs were these men called upon to defend themselves or others from the never failing shooting iron of the desperado.

ON WAY TO LOWELL.

METHUEN, Aug. 11.—Four men on the road towards Lowell, one of them apparently having his arm in a sling as if wounded, were sighted last night by a conductor on an electric car bound from Lowell to Lawrence. The conductor stated that the man who seemed to be wounded was being supported by his comrades.

A few hours later another conductor on a car from Lowell reported that he saw four men lying down on the banks of the Merrimack river opposite a place called Pine Island, about five miles from Lawrence.

Upon receipt of this information the Methuen police went out in an effort to capture the suspects. A posse of nine heavily armed men left the Methuen police station at a late hour, led by former Chief of Police Albert B. Gordon, to hunt for the men described by the two conductors.

A boy who passed the four men on the Lowell road stated that he heard the wounded man say, "I might as well die here as anywhere," and it is believed that if cornered the man will make a desperate resistance.

ON WAY TO LOWELL.

METHUEN, Aug. 11.—Four men on the road towards Lowell, one of them apparently having his arm in a sling as if wounded, were sighted last night by a conductor on an electric car bound from Lowell to Lawrence. The conductor stated that the man who seemed to be wounded was being supported by his comrades.

A few hours later another conductor on a car from Lowell reported that he saw four men lying down on the banks of the Merrimack river opposite a place called Pine Island, about five miles from Lawrence.

Upon receipt of this information the Methuen police went out in an effort to capture the suspects. A posse of nine heavily armed men left the Methuen police station at a late hour, led by former Chief of Police Albert B. Gordon, to hunt for the men described by the two conductors.

A boy who passed the four men on the Lowell road stated that he heard the wounded man say, "I might as well die here as anywhere," and it is believed that if cornered the man will make a desperate resistance.

TWO ARRESTS MADE.

METHUEN, Mass., Aug. 11.—The mystery surrounding the murder of the two policemen at this town, Charles H. Emerson and Frank McDermott, who were shot and stoned to death Saturday night, remained un-strengthened by the belief that the men were shot from automatic pistols, of the same type as those used by the bandits.

This is the first time that this bit of news has ever been published and in other towns and cities the police are instigating a movement for the equipment of up-to-date firearms so that in case of emergency they may have at least an even chance with desperadoes, bandits, outlaws, murderers, regiments, or whatever you may please to call them.

The automatic pistol, calibre 38, rimless and smokeless, seems the outlaw's favorite. The action of this pistol is automatic. The arm can be discharged at the rate of five shots per second, the cartridges being automatically supplied from a detachable magazine inserted in the handle of the pistol.

The statement has been made that at a recent revolver practice by the local police that some of their centre fire revolvers were found to contain rim fire cartridges and vice versa. This would be a bad state of affairs were these men called upon to defend themselves or others from the never failing shooting iron of the desperado.

reached to the home of Dr. Henry H. Bennett in his automobile and returned with the physician. Mr. Arthur had not lost consciousness and when the physician bent over him he faintly and with a smile turned himself a foot. The auto was turned toward Long Branch and driven at top speed for the hospital. On the way Dr. Bennett severed the left leg, which had been crushed under the wheels, midway between the ankle and the knee. Mr. Arthur, however, could not withstand the shock and he died two hours later. Mr. Arthur came down to Deal on Saturday and registered for the week at the Hathaway Inn. He was the son Mrs. J. H. Kenney, wife of a tobacco manufacturer of Dongan Hills, Staten Island.

Miss Stanley missed the 7.35 train and, unconscious of Mr. Arthur's accident, boarded the 8.10 train from Alhamburst and went to Newark.

HIS FACE CUT UP

As Result of Fight in Bent's Court

There was a lively time in Bent's court last night and that there was not a murder is very fortunate. Knives, pitchforks, cans and various other implements were passed back and forth during the fray and John Karpawicz, who appeared in court this morning, looked as though he had passed through a Kansas cyclone. His face was puffed up to about twice his normal size while the shirt he wore was torn to shreds and covered with blood. His head was cut, his hair matted with blood and he could open his eyes only wide enough to get a glimpse at the court.

He and two other fellow-countrymen who answered to the names of William Nockar and Joseph Kochinski filed up on their last night and then got into an argument. Everything that came to their hands was thrown about and it is alleged that Karpawicz's head was pushed through a pane of glass.

While the battle was at its height, Patrolmen D. C. Donovan and Ingalls put in an appearance and succeeded in placing two of the combatants under arrest. Karpawicz made his escape, but about an hour later was placed under arrest.

AGAINST JAPAN

Count Okuma's View of Navy Increase

TOKIO, Aug. 11.—Count Okuma, in an interview published by the Hochi shimbun, the press organ of the expansion policy of the United States to the sudden rise of the Japanese to the importance of a world power. The interview says in part:

"Judging from the fragmentary speeches of President Roosevelt as they have transmitted here, it is not difficult to infer that the augmentation of the United States navy in the Pacific is directed at Japan."

Count Okuma doubts, however, that the views and ideas of President Roosevelt will long continue to govern public opinion in America.

LOST HIS MONEY

Polson Was Victim of Confidence Men

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Carl O. Polson of 489 Spruce street, Manchester, N. H., having decided to return to his native country, came to Boston to embark yesterday afternoon, in order to be sure of finding the place from which his steamer would sail, he hunted up the Concord steamship wharf in East Boston.

His caution proved his undoing, for on the wharf he met two men who robbed him of $500 in cash, all he possessed.

Polson says he had not been on the wharf long before the pair accosted him and told him the old, old story about the danger from crooks about the docks. Their frank offer of advice and their accepted invitation to go over to the city with them, by the time they had reached North Market street they had induced him to pool his money with theirs.

Then one of the men went into a cigar store to make a purchase and the other also found a pretext for stepping away. When Polson found that the man who went into the cigar store had disappeared it dawned on him that his trust might have been misplaced.

To the police of division I he gave descriptions of the crooks. One he said is six feet tall, weighs about 150 pounds, has smooth face, is of light complexion and wore light clothes and black soft hat, while the other man is 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs about 150 pounds, has smooth face and wore a dark brown suit and black derby hat.

THE WARSHIPS

WERE INSPECTED BY MANY VISITORS YESTERDAY.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The boat landing at the foot of State street was a busy place yesterday, for it was thronged most of the afternoon by the crowds who wished to visit the warships. Dewey's old flagship, the Olympia, was the favorite, more people visiting her than boarded all the other vessels put together. The strange looking monitors, however, came in for a good deal of attention, most people considering them novelties, although, as a matter of fact, they are the oldest type of armor clad now in use.

Probably 1000 people made use of the boat score of launches, small and great, which ran back and forth from the landing to the ships. The midshipmen in their navy blue uniforms with white topped caps helped make the scene picturesque for they were being constantly ferried back and forth.

On board the Olympia the battle of Manila was rehearsed again and again, usually by bluejackets who were not on the ship at the time, to crowds of open mouthed and credulous listeners. Shots made by Spanish shots and other relics of the great fight were pointed out and recently observed.

About 30 of the midshipmen made a visit to the yard of the Fore River Shipbuilding company of Quincy yesterday.

The cadets were accompanied from Boston by a number of naval officers. They were divided into five squads of each. Every department was examined, the boys being shown about by the superintendent.

Three things attracted the interest of the cadets—the 2900 ton battleship North Dakota, the submarine boats, which are being built by the Electric Boat company, and the Curtis or American turbine engines, which are to be put into the North Dakota.

Few men were given liberty last night as the squadron will sail this afternoon for Portsmouth. Consequently there will be no more opportunity for visitors to board the warships upon this visit.

MAN DROWNED

MORAN WAS NOT A VERY GOOD SWIMMER.

CRANSTON, R. I., Aug. 11.—Albert Moran of 43 Grant street, Providence, was drowned in the Pawtuxet river last night. Moran was canoeing with Alvin Molevany and Alfred J. Valliers, all of Providence, when a strong current overturned the craft. Moran was an inexperienced swimmer and, though Valliers tried to rescue him, he lost grip from the bottom of the canoe and sank. He was 32 years of age and was employed in the General Fire Extinguisher factory in Providence.

$1800 STOLEN

ROBBERY AT NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL REPORTED.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11.—A robbery of $1800 in cash from the paymaster's office at the Naval Training school was reported to the police of Newport last night, and notices have been sent to the police of other cities with a view to the apprehension of a naval fireman of the second class, who is missing. Paymaster E. H. Cope and Richard J. Johnson had the money in a safe in their office for the purchase of commissary supplies. While Mr. Cope was temporarily absent last Saturday, some one worked the combination of the safe and took the money.

EIGHT MEN DEAD

Killed by Explosion of a Boiler

YORK, Penn., Aug. 11.—Eight men were killed, nearly a score of others more or less seriously injured and thousands of dollars' worth of property damaged by the explosion of a boiler in the York rolling mill late yesterday afternoon. The dead are:

John Clancy, York.

Benjamin Brenner, Harry Seachrist, Paul Fuch, Alfred Struck, John Slossman, Harry Feyer, all of Columbia, Penn.

Edward Fittler, Marietta, Penn.

The boiler which was located in the center of the mill exploded without a moment's warning. Ambulances were hurried to the scene, but owing to the number of dead and injured, delivery wagons and other conveyances were pressed into service and the injured rushed to the hospital.

A majority of those killed had their heads and limbs torn from their bodies and were so badly mangled that identification was almost an impossibility. The men were working close to the boiler and when the explosion occurred not one was able to make his escape.

The shock was so terrific that it demolished a large portion of the mill and sent heavy pieces of twisted iron and metal in all directions. Adjacent buildings were damaged, and a horse standing 200 yards from the mill was instantly killed.

Box cars on the railroad siding adjoining the mill were torn to splinters. The shock was felt over the entire city. The injured are all expected to recover.

GANG SENTENCED

For Picking Pockets and Shoplifting

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Alleged members of a gang engaged in picking pockets and shoplifting and who, the police say, are a part of an organization in New York, appeared in court yesterday to answer to charges.

Those who came up were Joe Simmons, Louis Schneider, Sam Cohen, Max Schiller and John Faust.

All are under 25 and one or two are only 18.

The first three received two months in the house of correction and Schiller and Faust were held in $500 each for a later hearing.

Inspector Knox and Officer Robson brought the men in. Simmons, Schneider and Cohen were arrested in a Washington street clothing store. They had in their possession 11 pairs of garters, a pair of gloves and a pocket handkerchief. They claimed they had bought the goods, but were unable to state why they laid in such a stock of garters.

The police believe that, owing to the stringency of New York laws and the attitude that the police there have been taking against these men, they are "working" other cities, principally Boston.

Officer Robson arrested two of the men on the narrow gauge Saturday. They were alleged to be "jumpers" men who made stops at resorts to "work" the place and get away with whatever they can.

MRS. LAMADRID

Founder of Coffee Stands is Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Joaquin M. Lamadrid, founder of the St. Andrew's coffee stands at which eatables and drinks may be had for one cent, died in her home, 80 Monroe street, Brooklyn.

For 20 years Mrs. Lamadrid had maintained the charity on which she had concentrated her energy, and had watched it grow to half a dozen stands in various sections of the city. Its career was beset by many difficulties, for the Charity Organization Society and other like associations frowned upon it, and even appealed to the public to withdraw its support.

The character of the work, however, was such that to the present day it has met with hearty response, and never has it failed to accomplish the result that its founder had intended—the sale, at a nominal price, of food sufficient to keep a man on his feet until he is able to obtain work.

First of the 1-cent coffee stands, started on Jan. 15, 1887, at the corner of Duane street and Park row, when Mrs. Lamadrid noticed the city by announcing that she was prepared to sell coffee and rolls, pork and beans, bread, pudding, sandwiches, cereals, beef soup and 1-cent coffee for 1 cent a portion. Even the poorest mendicant was able to obtain enough to satisfy his hunger, and the stands began forthwith to do a thriving business. Large crowds have ever since patronized the stands.

BALDWIN'S BALLOON

Will Be Accepted by the Signal Corps

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The military dirigible balloon built for the signal corps of the army by Captain Thomas S. Baldwin will be accepted.

"We are going to buy Baldwin's machine, we need it," said Gen. James Allen, chief signal officer, and yesterday he indicated that failure to comply with the speed requirements will not prevent the purchase of the airship. It is generally understood, therefore, that the speed and endurance trials will merely determine the price to be paid for the dirigible. It, in the first official speed trial Captain Baldwin should make less than sixteen miles an hour, Gen. Allen may so change the method of determining the speed that in the second trial flight Captain Baldwin's dirigible should make the required speed.

The first speed test, which it is expected will take place this evening, will be over a course two and one-quarter miles in a westerly direction, from Fort Myer.

Captain Baldwin is satisfied that he can make 22 miles an hour. Col. James Temple, former chief of the aeronautical division of the British army, said that he believed Captain Baldwin's dirigible could make 25 miles an hour in still air.

Col. Temple last night sent his representative to the British war office, on his inspection of the Baldwin airship. He recommended that some new features be incorporated in the new dirigible which the British army is building and which will have practically the same dimensions of Captain Baldwin's ship. Col. Temple favors the smaller airship in the present stage of advancement of aerial navigation.

In replying to a question as to what he thought of the Zeppelin airship, Col. Temple said:

"It is too far ahead of the times. The experience must be gained with smaller airships. If Count Zeppelin's men had been trained with smaller aerial craft the unfortunate accident to his airship would probably have not occurred."

GLENDIVE, Mont., Aug. 11.—North Pacific train No. 2, the North Coast limited, met with a disastrous wreck last night 12 miles west of Glendive.

Twelve men, A. B. Matthews and an unknown tramp were killed and 20 or 25 persons injured. Few of those injured were seriously hurt, and all but one will recover. The train was traveling at a speed of 50 miles an hour when within two miles of Glendive station it rounded a curve and ran into a burned bridge, 150 feet long.

Engineer Litch could not see that the structure was out until the train was virtually over the chasm. When he did see it, he quickly reversed the engine and threw on the emergency brakes, which action prevented all the coaches except the smoker and mail car from going into the ditch.

A relief train bringing physicians left this city at once for the scene of the accident and a wrecking train was sent up and is now at work clearing the track.

The dead, together with all the injured were brought to Glendive and are now being cared for.

The dead:

A. B. MATTHEWS, fireman, Dickinson, N. D.

Unknown tramp.

The most seriously injured are:

C. D. Litch, engineer; H. Oliver and J. E. Wilson, St. Paul, express messengers, fatally scalded by steam.

LOCAL DELEGATES KING AND KAISER

Started for New Haven Today Embraced and Kissed Each Other

Mr. Denis A. O'Brien of the Mathew Temperance Institute and Stephen T. Ward of St. John's society, North Chelmsford, the latter who is also financial secretary of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of the archdiocese, left today for New Haven, Conn., to be present at the annual convention of the C. T. A. U. of America, which opens in that city tomorrow.

Both gentlemen go as delegates from the archdiocese union, having been elected last April. Mr. O'Brien at that time was chosen first alternate to the convention, and on account of the illness of Rev. Francis J. Butler, president of the Boston union, the honor of attending the big meeting fell to Mr. O'Brien, who is regarded as one of the Matthews' most capable members. The convention will last three days and various forms of entertainment for the delegates have been planned. The Knights of Columbus, the national headquarters of which are in New Haven, have planned to assist in the entertainment of the total abstinence hosts. A portion of the Massachusetts delegation left this morning at 8:15 o'clock and the remainder will leave at 9 o'clock this evening. It will be the first national meeting that Mr. O'Brien and Secretary Ward have attended, and doubtless they will be pleased with the reports received from other places than Massachusetts, in relation to the total abstinence work. Secretary Ward stated that the Boston union will report a substantial increase in membership since the last national meeting.

The district convention of the Malters' Trade union also convened today. Meetings of this union will be held each day during the Typographical convention, and many important matters of interest to their trade are expected to be brought up for consideration.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Only four-fifths of the $100,000 raised to bring the republican national convention to Chicago was spent and the task of returning the remaining $20,000 has been begun by the local committee on arrangements. That sum is to be divided between the 503 subscribers to the fund. After a brief conference yesterday between Fred U. Upham, chairman, and J. C. Roth, treasurer of the committee, the former began to sign checks that will be mailed today.

CARPET OUTING LINES WRITTEN ON INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

To vindicate the report that appeared in Saturday's editions of The Sun, relative to the enjoyable time had by the threaders and warpers of the Bigelow Carpet Co., at Revere beach and Wendenburg, the local committee on arrangements. That sum is to be divided between the 503 subscribers to the fund. After a brief conference yesterday between Fred U. Upham, chairman, and J. C. Roth, treasurer of the committee, the former began to sign checks that will be mailed today.

It was early in the morning in our Spindle. The square was full of pretty girls. Walking up and down.

People wondered where they came from. And some whispered each to each. They are from the Carpet threading room. And are going to the beach.

The girls were "Merry Widows". The boys had Panamas. And they all looked stunning. And they stepped upon the cars.

Miss Murphy was pretty nice. In a handsome dress of brown. Miss Connors looked quite stunning. In a dainty gingham gown.

Miss Kellher wore a Gibson dress. Miss Hennessey wore a Swiss. They both looked very "kippy". And sweet enough to kiss.

Everything went quite well. Till we were half-way there. Then someone threw some chewing gum in Maudie Curley's hair.

And maybe Miss McCarthy. Didn't think she was a peach. It was the first time Ed. Custy had brought her to the beach.

CHANGE OF FLAG PROPOSED FOR L'UNION ST. JEAN BAPTISTE.

The carillon of the French-Canadians of Canada which for the past four years has been the United States flag has been recognized flag of L'union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique in its danger of being replaced according to the Fitchburg Sentinel. The Sentinel says:

The carillon replaced the tri-color of France at the convention of the order in Williamstown, Ct. in 1904, and now the council of the order from Kankekeo, Ill., has insisted that delegates to the convention to propose an amendment to the constitution whereby the tri-color of France will be reinstated.

The Kankekeo council has the support of the other councils in the west which are coming to the convention, prepared to make a fight for the tri-color in the original idea, they will put before the convention another move, that the flag of France be added to the flag of the United States, and the carillon, making three flags standing behind the cross.

From the organization of the order in 1901 and 1904, the recognized flag emblematic of the order were the flag of France and the United States. At the Williamsburg convention in 1901, Dr. J. Adelard Payette of Lowell, led the movement for the carillon. He made a spirited address and won.

BISHOP BRENT HEADS COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE USE OF OPIUM.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Bishop Brent of the Philippines has accepted the position as senior commissioner of the American delegation to the international opium commission, to meet at Shanghai, Jan. 1.

Commissioner Hamilton Wright is going soon to the middle and far east, and after that to the south, to make inquiry for the American commissioners as to the use of opium and its products in these sections of the country. Recently he has returned from Portland, Me., and Boston, where he gathered information on the subject.

At Boston he was told that inmates of the state prison of Massachusetts have been users of the drug. In Maine the commissioners asserted that in the country districts opium were used considerably, principally among former drunkards, who, because of the fact that prohibition prevails, have been deprived of whiskey.

The three American commissioners will meet in Manila, Dec. 15, to discuss their coming work at Shanghai.

MGR. FARLEY IS SUFFERING FROM A STOMACH TROUBLE.

ROME, Aug. 11.—Monsignor Farley, archbishop of New York, is slightly indisposed, owing to a stomach trouble, due to change in climate and food. The physician who attends the archbishop in New York is now in Rome and visited Mgr. Farley last evening. He found the bishop's ailment was not serious and advised him to go north to a cooler climate as soon as possible.

SEITZ IS DEAD HIS INJURIES RESULTED FATALLY LAST NIGHT.

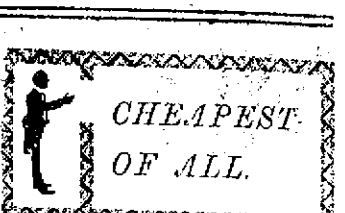

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Ernest Seitz, who last night shot and killed Mrs. Bertha Hood at her home in Brooklyn and fatally injured Mrs. Hood's year and half old daughter, died in the Brooklyn hospital shortly before midnight last night, from the effects of the wound he inflicted upon himself after the double shooting. Alice Hood, the little girl victim of a bullet from Seitz's revolver, died yesterday. Seitz made no statement, failing to regain consciousness.

Of all the forms of advertising, the cheapest and best is advertising in the daily newspapers. The cheapest newspapers are those with the largest circulation in their respective fields. Handbills are wasteful, expensive and of little effect. Posters are played out, because they are costly and very uncertain in durability or effect. Signboards are expensive and short lived. The Daily Newspaper is the safest, surest and cheapest of all, and the best of the local papers is The Sun, because it has the largest circulation in Lowell.

NEAR THE GOAL Sergt. John Walsh to Win $5000 Wager

MARLBORO, Aug. 11.—Sergt. John Walsh passed through this city at 10 o'clock on the last stage of his journey from San Francisco to Boston, this being his 73th day on the trip, all of which he has made on foot.

He has properly attested letters from governors, mayors, and other state, city and town officials, showing that he has lived up to the terms under which the trip was undertaken. He is walking on a wager of $25,000 made by officials of the Golden Gate A. C. of San Francisco and Col. H. A. Warren, also a member of the club. Walsh's share will be $5000 if he wins the wager.

He is in excellent condition and was accorded an ovation as he passed over Main street by the citizens. He called at the police station and paid his respects to Sergt. Frank B. Crotty and to Capt. Taylor of Co. I, 6th regiment, and other prominent citizens. He refused to accept any gifts or any money or any entertainment of any kind.

He spoke most interestingly of his journey, and said the most hazardous part of it was in crossing the Great Divide in Colorado, where he tramped through snow for three days, with but little nourishment. He speaks most highly of the reception accorded him in all places where he has visited, and commented on the good roads in the eastern states, from Ohio clear through to Massachusetts.

He is 32 years of age, has been 27 years in the army service, and obtained a furlough to make this trip. He said that his diet consisted mostly of fruits, with very little solid food while on the trip. He has lost 50 pounds in flesh, but has not laid off a day on account of illness.

His trip will be completed when he registers in Boston postoffice, and then goes to Boston common, where he will plant the American flag which he has carried with him the entire trip. He made a most favorable impression here for his apparent honesty and gentlemanly manner.

Worth Knowing

To remove Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all forms of skin eruptions, is, according to a well known physician, a very easy matter; he says that many are afflicted with some one of the above ailments, and are subject to a great deal of embarrassment on account of the unsightly appearance which they present, and recommends the following simple harmless and inexpensive treatment. Go to your druggist and get this prescription filled: Clearola one-half ounce. Ether one ounce. Alcohol seven ounces: mix, shake well and apply to the parts affected night and morning, allowing it to remain for at least ten minutes, then wipe off the plaster from the skin. Use a soft cloth or sponge in applying the mixture and in from ten days to two weeks your face will be smooth and clear as a marriage bell. Get the Pure Clearola, which is only put up in one-half ounce packages. Ask to see it.

No Wonder That the Lowells Didn't Win

Fullerton Had Winn-ers at His Mercy Throughout — Lowell, However, Played a Perfect Fielding Game—Norris Made a Homer

There were about 200 fans at Washington park yesterday afternoon to witness the game between Lowell and Fall River. During the practice before the game Manager Sharrett introduced a new player in the person of Andrew H. Musil, of the 7th company, coast artillery, of Fort Banks. Andrew stands over six feet in his stockings and has a terrific delivery when it comes to taking speed into consideration. Roger Connors, the well known old timer, likes the makeup of Musil as well as his speed and predicts a wonderful career.

The game was called at 3:15 o'clock.

FIRST INNING.

Neither side scored in the first inning. Messenger hit to Beard and was out at first. Kane following with a strike out. Bowcock hit to Duval and failed to reach first.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergift hit to Donovan, who threw bad to first and the runner got on. He did not stay there long, however. For Fullerton caught him off the base and nailed him. Connors bunted to Donovan and was out at first. Whelan drew a base on balls and stole second. Magee sent a grounder to Fullerton and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 0, Fall River 0.

SECOND INNING.

Three runs for the visitors in the second inning, while Lowell failed to score. Solbraa opened with a single and went to second on Donovan's sacrifice. Cummings singled sending Solbraa to third. Cummings then made a bluff to steal second drawing a throw from Doran. In the meantime Solbraa scored. Devine hit to Wolfe forcing Cummings at second. Norris slammed the ball over the right field fence for a home run and scored Devine and himself. Fullerton got a single, but Messenger fled to Magee.

Score—Fall River 3, Lowell 0.

THIRD INNING.

In the third inning Kane drew a base on balls and went to second on Bowcock's sacrifice. Solbraa fled to Howard and Donovan fled to Whelan.

In the latter half of the inning Doran fled to Bowcock. Duval hit to Fullerton and died at first while Vandergift hit to Cummings and was out at first.

Score—Fall River 3, Lowell 0.

In the first half of the fourth inning Cummings hit to Wolfe and was out at first. Devine followed with a single to right field, but he failed to get any further for Norris hit to Wolfe forcing Devine at second and Fullerton hit to Vandergift forcing Norris at second.

In the latter half of the inning, Connors singled and Whelan hit to Fullerton forcing Connors at second. Magee hit to Cummings forcing Whelan at second and Howard was third out on a fly to Devine.

Score—Fall River 3, Lowell 0.

FIFTH INNING.

In the fifth inning Messenger opened with a single and Kane followed with a strike out. Bowcock fled to Howard and Messenger in trying to steal second was nailed by Doran.

With two men on base and none out, Lowell failed to score in the fifth. Beard was safe at first on Bowcock's error. Wolfe was awarded a free pass and both men advanced when Doran was thrown out at first by Bowcock. Duval struck out and Vandergift fled out to Cummings.

Score—Fall River 3, Lowell 0.

SIXTH INNING.

Solbraa hit to Beard and was thrown out at first. Donovan got a scorching single and was caught trying to steal second. Cummings hit to left field to left field which Magee handled nicely.

The latter half of the sixth inning was long drawn out and Lowell succeeded in squeezing in one little run. Connors drew a base on balls. Whelan hit through Solbraa and was safe. Magee hit to Cummings and the latter threw home to get Connors, but the ball went wild and Connors scored. Howard hit to Fullerton and was out at first. Beard fled to Cummings and Wolfe fled to Kane.

Score—Fall River 3, Lowell 1.

SEVENTH INNING.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Rube Marquard, the $10,000 pitcher purchased from Indianapolis by the Cleveland Indians, got his bumps now and then. He drove him out of the box last Thursday, hitting him safely nine times in five innings.

Big league magnates and scouts are watching the work of Wheeler, the St. Paul first sacker, pretty sharply. Wheeler is lining them out with a vengeance.

Burns, the Washington pitcher, is not in the hospital, as reported. He is nursing a lame side, which it is claimed that he received from a bat at the hands of a fellow member of Cantillon's peace aggregation.

A verification of an old baseball superstition took place at Bucyrus, O., the other day in a game between that club and the Mansfield, O., team. In the latter aggregation is Harry Freymaier, who used to reside at Bucyrus, and his former townsmen took advantage of the occasion to shower him with gifts. On his first appearance at bat he was given a gold watch. The applause had hardly died away when Harry fanned. The second time up there was more applause, the presentation of a diamond pin, and another strikeout. On his third appearance he was given a new hat and he promptly fanned again. The fourth time he came to bat there was blood in Harry's eye. The presentation committee was all out of gifts this time. He accordingly got no present, but he turned around and hit the leather out for a spanking home run.

Friends of Jack Heery will be glad to learn that he made one of the most sensational throws ever witnessed in the Tri-State league, the other day when he threw clear from the right field fence in Trenton to the home plate, cutting off a run. He has been recalled by the Red Sox.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Fall River today.

Lowell played an errorless game but couldn't bat.

In the bright lexicon of Umpire Connolly there is no such word as "balk."

Andrew H. Musil, Private Musil of 7th Co. coast artillery, Fort Banks, Mass., is the latest bench-warmer on the Lowell team. Musil practiced yesterday and appeared to have an abundance of muscle, and his speed was marvelous. After watching Musil throw them for a few minutes Jack Sharrett said: "I can get them over the plate at that speed he'll top all the heavy batters in this league."

Double-header tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Why not let the fans out in time for supper?

Eddie Connors receives compliments on all sides for a heady ball player. Why didn't he graduate from P. J. Nones's school of baseball at Pittsford, Pa? He did yet.

Fullerton has a movement in catching players off first that is called "Happy Days." Casey's celebrated.

Herb Webster has gone to the beach for a few weeks.

Why not give Early, the pitcher of the many fans who think he would make good. With a good heady catcher like Doran behind him Early would show something.

Jimmie Magee contributed all the feature playing yesterday. He covered right field fence, a home run over the right field fence, an longer a feature. Young Norris puts the ball over about every time he comes to town.

The "Heavenly Twins," Tony Cummings and Tommy Devine are putting up a good game for Fall River. This pair has been traveling hand in hand through the league and both have the accomplishment; he can swing the festive dukes in the squared circle with some of the best of them.

Ernest Vinson, right fielder on the local team, has been called to the home of his sister in Harrisburg, Pa. His sister passed away. Vinson has been out of the game for the past 10 days—Lawrence Telegram.

"Win's Winners" having been proved a nuisance, why not shift the name to "Barney's Barnstormers."

Two New England boys, Martine, a pitcher, and Melnis, a shortstop, both playing with the Beverly semi-professional team, have been sent contracts by Connie Mack. They were recommended by Bob Unglaub.

12 ROUND DRAW GREAT SURPRISE

Rawson and Clark in Fast Bout

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 11.—The bout scheduled at the Cape Ann athletic club at its opening last evening brought out a good-sized gathering of members. Tommy Rawson of East Boston and Young Clark of Lawrence were down for the main bout for 12 rounds. It was a good fight from start to finish. Rawson for the first half of the bout seemed to have something on Clark, but in the remaining rounds Clark began to come strong and in the 10th had his antagonist to the bad and the bell was a relief for Rawson. The 11th and 12th rounds were fast ones, both men fighting well. Referee Martin Flaherty called it a draw, and it was a good decision, well received. Dick Slater of Boston and Jack Jackson of Goldfield went eight good rounds in the semi-finals and Young Jackson and Kid Kelly, both local lads, went six fast rounds. Both these were declared a draw.

DONOVAN NOT COMING.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Johnny Carroll, and not Mike Donovan, is to be one of Billy Papke's opponents at the Armory A. A. Thursday night. A telegram from Rochester, N. Y., yesterday stated that Donovan had injured his left hand so badly while training for the bout against Papke that he could not go on with his engagement. Thereupon the club secured Carroll to take his place.

Carroll is best known here for his work in Chelsea when he knocked out Fred Bradley in three rounds. Carroll has also beaten Sailor Burke in one round, Jim Donovan, Willie Lewis, Jim Savage, and other good middleweights. Carroll will be the first in the ring for six rounds against Papke, and he will be followed for the second six rounds by Frank Mantell.

GETTING READY

For Trouble With the Netherlands

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Aug. 11.—The colonial government is making active preparations for any possible trouble between the Netherlands and Venezuela. A station for wireless telegraphy is being installed here, and yesterday the cruiser Geleider left for the neighboring island of Aruba, carrying a number of rifles and ammunition to the inhabitants. Aruba is practically without protection.

A letter received here from Maracaibo announces that the Venezuela river steamer Felix has left that port with a number of troops on board for the head of Maracaibo bay. It is believed that these soldiers are going against a revolutionary band.

ARMY OFFICERS

On Second Endurance Test as Horsemen

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 11.—Although somewhat stiff from their exertions yesterday, the fourteen army officers of high rank and including Major General Frederick D. Grant, started off at 7:30 a. m. today on their second endurance test as horsemen. The 30-mile route today was somewhat different than that taken yesterday, the detail going in the direction of some of the high hills. The weather at the start was fairly cool and the sky hazy, but there were indications of more sultry conditions before the day was over. The officers found the roads better today, there being a good rain during the night, which laid the dust.

The detail started off at a trot which was maintained for the first ten miles with a walk and a gallop to follow. The detail will not return to the fort tonight, but will camp at the head of Shelburne bay and return the last 30 mile route tomorrow.

ARMED OFFICERS

Searching for Assailants of Mrs. W. T. Cornell

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The recall of Mehmed Alibey, the Turkish minister at Washington, announced in the Associated Press dispatches from London, occasioned no great surprise to official Washington, as Mehmed Alibey was sent here under the old regime. The general expectation is that the Porte will adopt the general practice of recalling all the ministers appointed before the constitution was proclaimed and substitute in their place men known to be in sympathy with the new order of things in Turkey.

Mehmed Alibey although only 35 years of age, ranks high in the diplomatic corps and is a man of culture and learning. Before coming to Washington, he was one of the counselors of the foreign office.

The minister authorizes a general denial of the stories which reflect upon the character and integrity of his faithful. He has been represented as a reactionary, the minister says, whereas in fact he is liberal in his views and often has given advice of that character to the sultan.

MAGNOLIA, Mass. Aug. 11.—A posse of armed policemen, ten from the Gloucester police station and the other four from Manchester, Mass., are scouring the vicinity hereabouts in quest of the robbers who held up and robbed, and then shot Mrs. W. T. Cornell, a summer visitor from New York last evening. Rumors were rife about the summer colony that the police this morning had made a capture, but chief of police of Gloucester, C. S. Marthant, who is in charge of the man-hunt states:

"The posse is chasing down several clues. As yet we have no trace of the man. The report that he has been captured is not true. I wish that it was. We shall keep up the hunt until we capture the person or persons, who attacked Mrs. Cornell. Every one of my men are at work on the case. A part of the day force has been sent to the scene, while the night force is still on duty about the center of the city. I have notified the surrounding cities and towns and they are all on the lookout for suspicious characters. I believe that we will run them down before nightfall."

TOTAL ABSTAINERS

Opened Their National Convention in New Haven Today

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 11.—Delegates from the western states to the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence and Benevolent union were among the arrivals today, and each incoming train added to the number of persons here who displayed the light blue and yellow badge of the organization. Bishop Canevin of Pittsburgh, and several other clergymen from Pennsylvania arrived.

For the convention next year, several cities will extend invitations and several of the state delegates will put forward names of candidates for officers.

Niagara Falls and Atlantic City will press their claims for next year's convention and Baltimore is expected to ask that the convention of 1910 go there.

A meeting of the subordinate officers with the executive council was held during the morning when the reports at General Secretary Edwin M. Mulready of Rockland, Mass., and Rev. John E. McCann of Philadelphia, the treasurer and various committee chairmen were considered and approved for presentation to the convention.

Among the delegates arriving today were those from Philadelphia, St. Louis, headed by Rev. James T. Coffey, the first vice president, and Boston.

ALARM OF FIRE

Blaze in a House in Gershom Avenue

The alarm from box 75 at 2:30 this morning was for a fire in a building in Gershom avenue, the property of a Mrs. Black. The fire was well under way when the firemen arrived but was quickly quenched. No estimate of the damage was made.

EDWIN MULREADY,

General Secretary C. T. A. U.

Arrived last evening and will be the guests of Rev. Father John D. Corie of St. John's church during the week. Archbishop Keane's arrival from Iowa is expected during the day as he will receive the delegates at the first reception of the convention, at the New Haven house tonight, and as national president of the union, will make the opening address tomorrow. The reception committee which represents Connecticut has members at the railroad station and in the several parishes in order to assist delegates to their quarters, and to furnish them with guides for sight-seeing.

The national union was founded upon the Connecticut union, the latter having been organized in 1871. The national convention was in this city in 1885 when Bishop Potter of Wisconsin was president.

For the convention next year, several cities will extend invitations and several of the state delegates will put forward names of candidates for officers.

Niagara Falls and Atlantic City will press their claims for next year's convention and Baltimore is expected to ask that the convention of 1910 go there.

PLAY OUT TONIGHT BURGLAR SCARED

Old Tub Has Been Thoroughly Overhauled for Big Show on Aug. 20—Meeting of the Master Committee This Evening

The Butler Vets will hold a regular meeting and in all probability a practice fight this evening, and a large attendance is expected. The old machine which has been thoroughly overhauled will be tried out. The new machine is built similarly to the "Butler Vet" but by another firm, and is supposed to have certain improvements not possessed by the old machine. It is an inch button and brake machine and requires a less number of men to work it than the old machine. The new machine is a beauty and has a mahogany box with silver trimmings.

The master committee will also meet at the Butlers' headquarters this evening, and will then perfect the final arrangements.

All that is now needed is good weather.

ON AUTO COURSE COLORED JANITOR

Young Prokos Does 10 Mile Run Told He Should Pummel White Man

Through a typographical error it was stated yesterday that Young Prokos and Jack Butler, who are to wrestle in Associate hall on Thursday evening, are to weigh 145 at 8 o'clock in the evening of the match. The articles call for 145 pounds at 6 o'clock.

Despite the heat yesterday, Young Prokos, clad in a huge sweater and accompanied by his trainer, the celebrated Jim Prokos, went over the Merrimack Valley automobile course at a fast clip and he intends to repeat the stunt today.

The management has secured Jim Prokos and Ed Anderson of Cambridge for the preliminary and this ought to be as interesting as the main bout, as both men will go fast to get a fall within the 30 minutes allotted them. Young Prokos' Boston followers were in town yesterday, looking for bets. A big crowd will accompany the Butler party from Brockton on the night of the match.

WEALTHY WIDOW

Becomes Bride of Hotel Clerk

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—W. V. Norton, a clerk in the Plaza, and for many years in a similar position in the old Fifth Avenue hotel, is the husband of the former Mrs. Howard Bralaskie, one of the richest and most beautiful women of St. Louis. Howard Bralaskie was, at the time of his death, president of the Brant Shoe company, and left his widow an estate then valued at $1,000,000.

Her marriage now to Mr. Norton is essentially a romance of the hotel—a story of Cupid at the desk. Mr. Norton is regarded as an exceedingly lucky man, for Mrs. Bralaskie was considered one of the prizes in the matrimonial market, her wealth and beauty combined having proved a bait that attracted many admirers.

TEARS UP MONEY

Boston Man Creates Scene on Train

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 11.—William Osley of Boston, while on a train near here yesterday afternoon, suddenly rose in his seat, waved his arms around and began to tear up a large roll of money.

He was placed under restraint and taken off the train when it reached this city.

William Osley lives at 139 Harrison avenue, Boston. He is 49 years of age, and has been employed as assistant janitor at the Symphony building. He lived with Mr. and Mrs. Mayott. He has not been at his work or at his lodging house since Friday.

It is believed that he is suffering from religious mania.

During the absence of Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan, from the city, Col. James H. Walker and Thomas J. Johnson are attending to the arrangements that Mr. O'Sullivan had in charge.

The Manchester Veteran Firemen's association had the "Uncle Sam" out in Vine street last evening for a practice play. Only two plays were made, as the hose was found to be leaking to such an extent as to waste much of the force of the stream and the crew adjourned to the Amherst street quarters, where refreshments were served. Another play will be held next Monday evening in preparation for the coming muster at Lowell.

THE ANNUITY LAW

Labor Leaders Want to See it Operated Successfully

The following communication has been addressed to The Sun: Editor—Lowell Sun, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: Through the hearty cooperation of prominent manufacturers, financiers and philanthropists with organized labor, the Massachusetts Legislature was induced last year to enact the Savings Bank Insurance and Annuity law which is now in practical operation.

The Whitman Savings bank issued its first policy June 22, 1903. The Peoples' Savings bank of Brockton will soon open its Insurance and Annuity department, and several other savings banks which have not established Insurance and Annuity departments of their own are now about to apply for appointment as agents for these banks. The Boston Central Labor union, and also a large number of manufacturing and other organizations in different parts of the state, are likewise applying for agencies with a view of securing for their employees the great advantages which the system affords by enabling wage earners and others to provide themselves out of their current earnings with old age annuities as well as with cheaper life insurance.

We believe that with the hearty cooperation of the press, the Savings Bank Insurance and Annuity system can be made of the greatest benefit, not only to wage earners, but to the whole people, and the commonwealth and advance both the welfare of the individual workman and the general prosperity of the state.

In this work in which the interests of employer and employee of capital and labor are fortunately united, the aid of the press is essential. We need the constant assistance of the press to make fully known to wage earners, and to keep before them, the advantages which this savings bank system will offer. Merely occasional notices will not suffice.

We need the assistance of the press also to make clear to employers and others in the different parts of the state the importance of taking steps to extend as rapidly as possible the facilities for enabling the wage earners and others to supply themselves with old age annuities and insurance.

Every wage earner ought to be able to look forward, when he reaches old age, to a comfortable old age, and such provision should be made by each wage earner voluntarily and not under compulsion of law as in Germany.

For several years there has been in Massachusetts a growing demand for legislation, providing that the state shall grant old age pensions paid from general taxation. That demand is sure to be much strengthened by the recent action in Great Britain in relation to old age pensions. We oppose the old age pension plan, and have worked strenuously to secure the establishment of the Massachusetts Savings Bank Insurance and Annuity system as alone consistent with the best interests of the wage earner and with the traditions of our commonwealth.

We believe that the Massachusetts Savings Bank Insurance and Annuity system for the first time enables the wage earner to make himself financially independent in his old age whereas the English old age plan pauperizes the wage earner.

With your help, and that of other representatives of the Massachusetts press, we feel certain that we can put into general practice in Massachusetts the admirable system of old age annuities and life insurance provided by the recent law, and in this way advance not only the interests of every wage earner but of the whole commonwealth, and also that the example we set in Massachusetts will be followed in other states.

May we rely upon your aid in keeping this movement before our people

NEGLECT HOMES

Love of Pleasure Leads to Divorce

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—The majority of American women neglect their homes for business or pleasure. This, in connection with race suicide, is responsible for the many divorces and neglect homes in this country.

This assertion was made yesterday by Miss Lottie H. Keane. Miss Keane is a noted writer and lecturer on sociology and has been delegated by the German Red Cross Society to study conditions in this country.

"When I first came to America," Miss Keane continued, "and saw young girls going to theatres and cafes unchaperoned, receiving their men friends alone and making all sorts of excursions with members of the opposite sex, I was shocked at the short-sightedness of their parents. A large number of the unhappy marriages in America are the direct result of this freedom which throws young people together and allows them to marry before they become thoroughly acquainted with each other."

"Women should not attempt to go into politics," she added. "Their strength lies in their influence for good in the home. Men do not like to be governed by women, but the tactful woman can achieve her end without the man being aware of it."

"Americans are generous with their money when their sympathies are aroused, but the organized work done here does not reach the standard set abroad. As a consequence, you have more money to expend than we have, but there is little or no extravagance or dissipation. Your force of prohibition officers, while earnest, hard-working persons, is too small in number to cope with the vast field before it."

REP. E. H. O'BRIEN

MAY HEAD THE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Chairman James W. Symon of the democratic state committee is in town organizing the full campaign and straightening out the criticisms that have been made against his leadership of the organization. He has called a meeting of the executive committee for Wednesday afternoon at the Quincy House at 1 o'clock, at which he will name a chairman.

The difficulty confronting him is his unwillingness to name a man from Boston for the post. He was himself elected chairman of the committee at the time a revolt against the domination of the country organization by the Boston organization.

One of the men mentioned for chairman of the executive committee is Representative Edward O'Brien of Worcester.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 11.—Charles L. Patterson, son of James H. Patterson, a railroad engineer of 515 Andover street, had an experience with a would-be burglar early Monday morning and but for a latch on a screen door at the side of the house might have landed his man.

Patterson sleeps on the lower floor of the house and about 2 o'clock in the morning was awakened by a noise which sounded as if some one was trying the windows on the Carleton street side of the house. He hastily jumped out of bed and taking a revolver, which he keeps handy, stole quietly to the door. Throwing the door open quickly, Patterson attempted to open the screen door leading out onto the veranda. The door was latched and he was delayed for a few seconds. When he had opened it he stepped out onto the veranda and surprised an unknown person crouching down on his knees and trying to force a window.

The burglar saw Patterson at about the same moment and leaped to his feet. The youth chased him but the burglar jumped from the veranda, ran around to the back of the house and escaped through a field that leads to the Merrimack river.

Patterson was slightly wary about firing the revolver, which is a powerful one, as he feared that it might carry too far and enter some person's house. The would-be burglar was evidently a finished artist and knew what he was doing in selecting the house as it is an ideal spot for such work. The house is shaded on Carleton street by large trees which hang nearly to the ground and by a row of shrubbery which conceals the entrance completely.

It seems most plausible that the fellow gained admittance by the shelter of these shrubs and went up the front steps. From there he sneaked along the veranda trying the windows and had arrived at the kitchen window when disturbed in his work by Patterson.

The young man was unable to get a good description of the fellow as he caught but a fleeting glimpse of him. As far as he could see the burglar was heavily built and was about five feet, eight inches in height. He had on dark clothes.

This is the second attempt at robbery in that vicinity within a month. The other attempt was successful, burglars making a haul in the store of George A. Blanchard at 513 Andover street, directly across from the scene of Monday's attempted break, about three weeks ago.

JAIL SENTENCE CASTRO SPEAKS TOM LONGBOAT

For Man Who Was Cruel to Bride

AUBURN, Me., Aug. 11.—Avery E. Chandler, Lewiston was yesterday sentenced by Judge Manser to eight months in the county jail for cruelty to his young bride.

The girl testified that she had been tied hand and foot and lashed with a rawhide. She said she had been threatened with a rifle and revolver and told that if she left the house she would have her brains blown out.

The girl also said that her mother-in-law had beaten her, and that all she was given to eat was mouldy bread and cheese, and that in four weeks she lost 30 pounds.

The husband said he married the girl last January, that she had been married before and divorced.

He said she had put corrosive sublimate in his coffee to kill him and had drugged him. Mrs. Chandler, the mother-in-law, contradicted the girl's story.

Mrs. Susie Rogers, the police matron, gave evidence as to marks of beatings. The mother-in-law was discharged.

He Tells of the Situation in Venezuela

CARACAS, Vez., Friday, Aug. 7, via Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 11.—Deviating from his usual custom of not speaking for publication, President Castro yesterday granted an interview to The Associated Press concerning Venezuela and her troubles with foreign powers, which recently have been augmented by his expulsion from the republic of the Dutch minister, M. De Reus.

"I am glad to give The Associated Press my opinion on this historic moment," said President Castro.

"I only wish everybody the peace and harmony that exist with the good commercial relations which exist between our two nations. To create diplomatic agents who humble weak nations is an anomalous counteractive."

"If the powers will not fulfill the great idea that the great international tribunal shall decide disputes by arbitration and not by force, they commit suicide."

"Reason would have acquired prestige and force would not prevail today if, when the blackness used force against us, friendly nations had adopted peaceful measures to settle the outstanding questions. The incorporation against us of those nations considered as friends completely destroyed the right of reason and placed all of them in the category of favoring force in the solution of difficulties. The question of the use of force in the collections of the League peace conference, but we weak nations saved our rights there."

"In spite of all, Venezuela will continue in peaceful development because this question has been settled and posterior events are only incidents."

"We at first paid the blockaders of our ports because of the dominance of force. The decision that terminated this state of affairs was that of the high Hague tribunal. Today Venezuela punishes all her obligations."

"The American government, nevertheless, broke friendly relations with us, but notwithstanding this fact, commercial relations between the United States and Venezuela continue the same as before the break occurred."

The severance of friendly relations between France and Venezuela has not altered the normal progress of this republic.

"Both the American and French governments have made claims against Venezuela which are being paid. Consequently, as corporate interests of those countries have damaged us, I assume that an opportunity will be taken by their governments to listen to our just claims against those interests and that competent tribunals will decide the amount of these claims."

"The Netherlands incident I consider to have been brought about by M. De Reus (the Dutch minister to Venezuela, who recently was expelled by President Castro) and the Curacao government."

NOT GUILTY

PLEA ENTERED BY GARLAND AND HIS WIFE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—Alexander Garland, son of the vice-president of Peru, and formerly secretary of the Peruvian legation at Washington, and his wife, Mrs. Louise Scott Garland, said to be a niece of Attorney-General Bonaparte, pleaded not guilty in court yesterday to a charge of disturbing the peace. They are accused of creating a disturbance at a rooming house in this city last Friday. Mrs. Garland demanded a jury trial and it will follow her husband's case.

The Garlands arrived two weeks ago. Mrs. Garland says that she came to visit Mrs. George Booth, a sister, who is a patient at the Angelus hospital and that her husband followed her.

Garland admits that he and his wife had difficulties Friday night. "I am a victim of misfortune, that is all," Mrs. Garland said. "I am not to blame in this affair. The landlady desires to get rid of me. I am innocent of wrong-doing. I will fight it out in court, even though they send me to jail for six months."

BRONZE TABLET

PRESENTED TO THE CITY OF GLOUCESTER

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 11.—The petty officers and seamen of the United States gunboat Dolphin presented to the city of Gloucester yesterday as a mark of appreciation of courtesies extended to the Dolphin in the past. The tablet is a replica of the flag of the president of the United States.

Mayor Henry H. Parsons and members of the city council received the gift formally at city hall, the Dolphin having been allowed through orders issued by Assistant Secretary Newberry of the navy department to stop in this harbor on her way from Portsmouth to Boston.

Mr. Newberry, who is making an official tour of inspection, was on board the Dolphin in Portsmouth harbor last night, when a barge in tow of a tug collided with the gunboat carrying away part of the Dolphin's port rail.

JORDAN DROWNED

WHILE ATTEMPTING TO RESCUE TWO BOYS

AMESBURY, Aug. 11.—Willis S. Jordan, aged 22, of 530 Adams street, Dorchester, was drowned yesterday afternoon while attempting to rescue two boys who were in bathing near Foxon's bridge, which spans the Foxon river in the upper part of South Hampton.

Simon Smith and a young companion were in the water at the usual bathing place when they got in beyond their depth. Jordan went to their rescue and in attempting to save them lost his life. He sank in deep water.

The two lads were brought to shore in safety. The body was recovered soon after, was viewed by Medical Examiner D. D. Murphy of this place by request of Medical Referee Lance of Portsmouth. Jordan was a summer boarder at the home of John W. Smith, near the scene of the accident.

Jordan is said to have been an expert swimmer and it is thought his drowning was due to cramps. The river is 10 feet wide where the accident occurred. The current runs strong at this place and Jordan was taken down stream some distance before he sank from view.

GUTMAN BURIED

BODY OF DEAD BANDIT WAS NOT CLAIMED

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The body of Edmund Gutman, holdup man and murderer whom the police killed in the Forest Hills cemetery on the morning of July 23, was buried yesterday afternoon in Mt. Hope cemetery. There were present only the undertaker, his assistant and the diggers.

The body lay at the morgue for 15 days and was unclaimed. As no one appeared who wished to bury Gutman, the city took charge of the case and the body was interred in the potter's field.

CASTRO SPEAKS TOM LONGBOAT

Says Hayes is Better Man Than Italian

BUFFALO, Aug. 11.—Tom Longboat, the famous Canadian Indian runner, accompanied by Tom Flanagan, his manager and adviser, stopped off in Buffalo yesterday en route to Toronto, their home. Longboat is on his way back from London, where he competed in the Marathon race.

Longboat arrived in New York Wednesday morning. After paying a visit with John Flanagan, the champion hammer thrower, a brother of Tom, Longboat's manager, the Indian headed toward Toronto. The stop-off here was made in order to make their arrival in Toronto a timely one. Manager Flanagan was anxious to have Longboat arrive in his home city at the appointed hour for the reception.

Shortly after Longboat and Flanagan arrived in town they granted an interview.

"Tom did all that I expected him to do," said Flanagan, looking at the Indian, who grinned. "He had never been on the ocean before and was taken pretty sick on the way across. We trained in London and the change in water affected both of us. Tom was run into one day by a wagon, but the thing that bothered him most was a stone bruise on the bottom of his right foot. He had to quit at the end of the 20th mile."

"Hayes? Yes, he's a great runner. I think he's a better man than the Italian. So does Longboat. Tom says that when Hayes and he were running together after the 15th mile Hayes was as fresh as when he began. Longboat was keeping astride him until his foot gave out completely."

"How about that English fair play? Well, take it from me that the Englishmen wanted to see their own win, and they didn't do anything to prevent them from winning. But we're satisfied. Longboat will do a great deal of running this fall."

HAD FINE TIME

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE EMERY ENTERTAINED GUESTS

GETS DIVORCE

DECEASED GRANTED MRS. DANIEL L. DRESSER

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Daniel Leroy Dresser, who last February established a residence in Sioux Falls, yesterday got an absolute divorce from Daniel Dresser, of New York city. The decree was granted on the ground of desertion. The question of alimony did not enter into the case so far as the court records disclose, this business evidently having been adjusted out of the court.

At the hearing, Mrs. Dresser was represented by U. S. Sen. Kittredge of Sioux Falls, while C. W. Gould of New York and E. R. Winans of Sioux Falls represented Mr. Dresser.

Mrs. Dresser, it was said, is not yet ready to discuss her future plans. She has lived quietly since taking up her residence in Sioux Falls. Not until nearly 4 months after she arrived in the city was her presence made public.

Doing Their Duty

Scores of Lowell Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow:

Urinary trouble, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all. Lowell people endorse our claim.

Mrs. Mary J. Mullen, of 63 Prince st., Lowell, Mass., says: "For backache and kidney troubles I can strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I gave a statement for publication seven years ago and I now cheerfully repeat that statement. For a year or more I suffered from kidney trouble and pain across the small of my back. To stoop or straighten after stooping caused sharp twinges. The secretors from the kidneys were very variable, at one time excessive and at another scanty and accompanied with pain. Soon after beginning to take Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, I noticed a difference in my condition. The pains and twinges gradually disappeared. The kidney secretions were corrected. I cannot speak too highly of this remedy. I keep it on hand and take a few doses occasionally and this keeps me in excellent shape. I think there is nothing to equal Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint."

For sale at all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBirn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TEACHING MONKEY

How to Speak the English Language

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The investigation of Melvin Haggerty along the general lines of monkey psychology at the Bronx Park Zoo, have spurred the keepers of the Central Park Zoo to unwonted activity of late. Two of them are now busy with an experiment by which they say they hope to beat the Harvard expert at his own game.

While Mr. Haggerty has devoted all his energies to trying to teach the monkeys new tricks, thereby creating an opportunity to see just how important a part suggestion and imitation play in their daily life, the keepers at the Central Park Zoo have gone further. They are trying in a modest way to teach the monkeys under their care to realize the significance of spoken words.

They say that the results of their experiments has been surprising. One of the monkeys has not only learned the significance of several words, but has developed a limited vocabulary of his own, apparently realizing what the words mean.

Patrick Canan, keeper of the Central Park monkey house, is the leading spirit in these recent experiments. He has been assisted by Keeper Robert Hurin.

The most likely of all the monkeys in the Central Park monkey house is Baldy. There is also a Baldy in the Bronx Park Zoo on which Mr. Haggerty has experimented a little. But the Bronx Park Baldy is a chimpanzee of the black-faced species. The Central Park Baldy is a ring-tailed monkey and got his name from a tendency to baldness on his pate. Baldy is a noisy little chap. His chattering is louder than that of all the other monkeys.

Keeper Canan had noticed that several of the ring-tailed monkeys in their chattering almost always used sounds which seemed to be in "echo." Most of the sounds made by the monkey tribe sounded, in fact, like "echo." They made that sound when excited, or when the keepers appeared with food. They made it at play and sometimes when in deep mood. There was a different intonation, but nearly all the sounds were "echo" was noticed by Canan and Hurin.

"Why not teach the monkeys the significance of English words ending with 'echo,'" said Canan to his fellow keeper. Hurin said he saw no reason why they couldn't, with a little painstaking effort.

That was a month or more ago. The words selected by the two keepers were "echo," "reach," and "screach." With these words they set to work. The first few lessons were devoted to trying to teach Baldy the significance of "echo." And in this is the way they worked: Canan would take a nice ripe peach to the cage where Baldy was kept. He would stand in front of him, and holding out the peach, would say "echo" many times.

It was days before Baldy seemed to realize what the keeper was driving at. He would make a grab for the fruit. Canan would quickly withdraw his hand, and Baldy would jump about the cage, making grimaces and saying something which ended with "eh," but was certainly not "echo."

But one morning, after repeating the name of the fruit many times, Canan says he thought he detected a sound like "echo" from Baldy. He kept up his recitation of the word, and after a while he says, Baldy made a sound which was as much like "echo" as a monkey could be expected to make. Then Baldy got the peach and ate it with relish.

Later in the day Canan offered na-

another peach. Baldy appeared delighted and grabbed for it. But the keeper withdrew his arm and said "echo." Baldy, he says, seemed to understand, and after a little wait the keeper heard the sound from Baldy which, he says, was near enough to "echo" so again he gave him the fruit. After that, says Canan, it was not necessary to speak at all when he offered Baldy a peach, for the monkey upon seeing the fruit always hastened to say what the keeper expected him to say, and he always got the peach.

Screach was the next lesson word selected by the keeper. And with this he had more trouble. And with this he used a banana, which, by the way, is an impossible word for a monkey.

Canan began the new lesson by offering the fruit, withdrawing it when Baldy grabbed, and then saying "screach." And there was no doubt that Baldy did as told, whether he knew what he was doing or not. Canan kept on saying "screach." Finally, he says, the monkey made a sound which sounded like some foreign way of saying the word "screach."

Every time Baldy said what Canan is sure was "screach," the keeper would say, "Well, screach, then," and Baldy would do some screaming which could be heard all over the zoo.

Gypsies' Sentences Exchanged for Fines

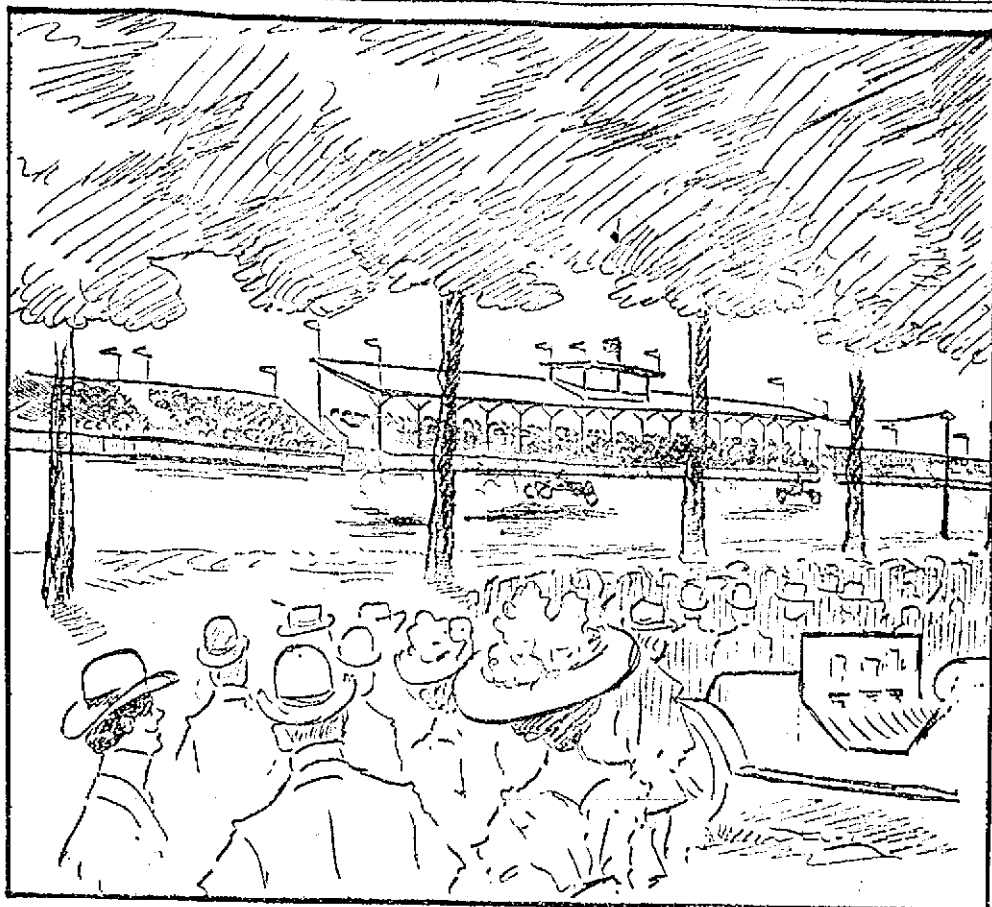

NEWTON, Aug. 11.—After they had been found guilty of larceny of $1111 from Charles Thompson of Newton Centre and had been sentenced to three months' service in the house of correction, four gypsy women returned the missing money and yesterday afternoon the court revoked the sentence which had been imposed a few hours previously and fined the fortune tellers $15 each. They paid.

The women were Mary Saggi, 23; Rosie Nicholas, 18; Susie Maggi, 25; and Marie Carabina, 17, natives of Italy, who came to this city on Saturday on an overland trip from Chicago to Framingham, with a band of about 25 others. Mr. Thompson testified yesterday that these women and a girl, Annie Maggi, aged 15, crowded about him in Newton Centre and picked his pocket of $100, a $10 and a $1 bill. He had the bills in a pocket of his trousers. There were $276 and the edges could be seen, he said. When he missed the money, he said, he caught one of the women and charged her with stealing it.

CHILD NEARLY STARVED

NEWTON, Aug. 11.—It having been alleged that the infant was slowly starving, an officer of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children yesterday afternoon visited a camp of gypsies in the Thompsonville district of this city, and took away a few months' old baby.

The child was taken to Boston and will be cared for by the society. It is stated that the infant had been neglected to such an extent that it is feared it will not survive. The camp in which the baby was taken comprises the large band of gypsies who landed here on Saturday from an overland trip from Chicago. The five women convicted yesterday of larceny from a Newton Centre man while one of their number was trying to tell his fortune were members of the camp.

VIEW OF THE GRANDSTAND ON THE BOULEVARD AS IT WILL APPEAR DURING THE GREAT AUTO RACE ON LABOR DAY.

STRANG WILL COME

To Attend the Great Auto Race on Labor Day

Arrangements for the big automobile race on Labor day are fast nearing completion and the promoters are being splendidly encouraged. Applications for grand stand seats have already been received, and those interested in the race are of good cheer.

President John O. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club has gone to New York to have a conference with Strang, the man who won the trophy on the Briarcliff course. Mr. Strang had written Mr. Heinze stating that he had learned that the 250-mile road race was to be pulled off here on Labor day and he assured Mr. Heinze of every assistance possible. Mr. Heinze will endeavor to secure Strang as one of the drivers in the race.

Two Knox cars have been entered by the Knox Automobile company of Springfield. They are the two first cars to have been entered, but several have written to say that they will enter.

A 40-foot sign was put out in Central street yesterday advertising the race. The committee in charge of the official program has appointed Cecil L. Adams to solicit advertising in Lowell and vicinity, and he will be the only one authorized to receive advertisements. The souvenir program will contain some interesting historical matter, and will be beautifully illustrated.

Speaking of the Lowell automobile race and its prospects, the editor of the Boston Herald says: "When the idea of holding the race was first suggested, the idea of making it one of the leading events of the year was in mind—to have a race governed by the same rules as was the Briarcliff in Westchester county in April, and open to the same cars was desired. The Lowell event will be conducted along these lines with the advantage, too, of a much better course in the Spindola City. The Briarcliff course is longer but cannot compare with the Briarcliff valley stretch. In Westchester the roads are narrow and winding with several hard curves. In Lowell they are broad and smooth, one stretch of macadam for several miles being of sufficient width to allow cars to travel along abreast. There it is expected the fastest work will be done.

"F. S. Corvex of the committee figures that there is no limit to the speed that can be attained on the line stretch described, it simply being a question as to how fast the cars can go. This was far from the case at Westchester, where the cars were slowed up in some places owing to the roads.

"A big thing for the spectators at Lowell is that the macadam stretch is directly along in front of the grandstand, allowing a fine view of the cars at top speed coming and going. Whereas the Briarcliff course had many corners, the Merrimack valley course has but three. One of these is a rather bad one, pretty much of a hairpin effect at the place where Barney Oldfield had an accident this spring. Here a slackening of speed by the drivers will be necessary, even though the turn is banked into Varnum avenue. Along Varnum avenue there is some sand, but this will be removed. Although this road is at times narrow and winding, it can hardly be called dangerous. There is one hill to go over that will make necessary careful driving, however.

"The new road which will be used to take the cars back to the boulevard will put a premium on careful driving, too, but outside of these there is little that is really troublesome, although there are places on the back stretch which will bring out the nerve of the driver.

"Cedrine went over the course the latter part of June and pronounced it one of the best for the distance he had ever been on. A better one, indeed, would be hard to find in New England and with the right entries an admirable contest should result."

AGAINST MODERNISM EUGENE CHAFIN

Strong Plank in Platform of Catholic Federation

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Two business sessions and a public mass meeting made up the program of the day for the American Federation of Catholic societies' seventh national convention. The construction of the new platform was expected to occupy the attention of the delegates during their sessions, as it was planned to present it to the convention in the afternoon. It was stated that the new platform when completed would render the fight against socialism and urge even greater effort in bringing about a uniformity of the divorce laws of the country, and would contain a strong plank against modernism.

The election of officers will not take place until tomorrow, and there appears to be a strong sentiment for the reelection of President Edward Kennedy of Brooklyn, N. Y.

These are two cities seeking the convention for next year. Pittsburgh and New Orleans. It was generally asserted by the delegates, however, that Pittsburgh would be chosen as the meeting place. Bishop Cullen of that diocese is on the ground and with a large delegation from his state was confident that he would secure the eighth convention for his diocesan city.

Rev. James A. McFay, D. D. of Trenton, N. J., on "Federation." The meeting was open to the public.

Fred Taylor, who has been sojourning at the Banglows, giving the denizens of the Gorp the hook after having been with his tin whistle, is back at his old home, the Old Washington tavern, and is rendering his usual able assistance to Landlord Garrity.

Expect to Be Elected President

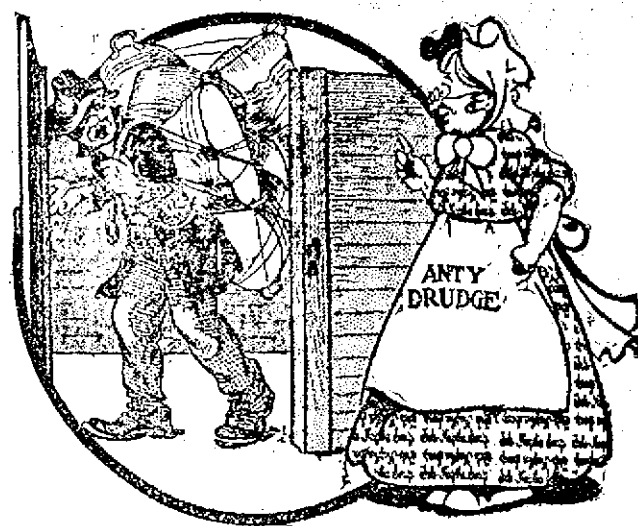

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Eugene W. Chafin, presidential nominee of the prohibition party, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Lincoln, Neb. He will leave Chicago immediately but will return next Tuesday to be notified of his nomination. He will visit every state in the Union, speaking there eight times a day until election.

"Wouldn't it have been awful if I had come to my death by water?" he said, speaking of his escape from drowning in the Y. M. C. A. natatorium at Lincoln.

"I don't mind for myself but it would be tough on the party to lose all their votes in that way, so until election is over I'm not going to have anything to do with water except by the glassful."

"Do you expect to be elected?"

"It would be a reflection on the intelligence of the American public for me to think otherwise."

"No Washboilers to Sell," Says Anty Drudge

Rag Man—"Ole rags! Gum Boots! Tinware!"

Anty Drudge—"Goodness! Where'd you get all them washboilers?"

Rag Man—"I buye dem from voomans. Dey say no use any more. You gotta von to sell?"

Anty Drudge—"No, sir. I have not used one for many a year. It didn't take the women of this town long to get rid of their washboilers after I came and told them how to wash with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water. No more boiling clothes for them I see."

Are you governed by habits? Not a bad thing if they are good habits. Not a good thing if they are bad habits.

Are you in the habit of getting up before daybreak to start washing so that you'll be through before night?

If you are it's a habit to get rid of right away. There's no necessity for it.

Get rid of the old-fashioned boiling, and scalding clothes, back-breaking washboard-rubbing habit and adopt the easy Fels-Naptha way.

Strike off the chains that bind you to the washboiler and washboard. Be a progressive woman.

Follow directions on the inside of the red and green Fels-Naptha wrapper.

CUT HIS THROAT GEN. FISKE LODGE

Michael Spillane Attempts His Life

Driven insanely desperate by inability to obtain work, Michael Spillane, aged 53 years, attempted suicide by cutting his throat twice with a razor at his home, 13 Richmond avenue, off Swift street, last night. He is now at St. John's hospital where it is believed he will recover.

Spillane who has a large family depending upon him and who has been out of work for several weeks has been quite despondent of late and about 10:30 o'clock last night, after making a remark about his misfortune went into a slide room and taking a razor from a bureau drawer slashed himself twice.

He was found by his children a short time afterward and Dr. John Boyle was summoned. The latter ordered Spillane's removal to St. John's hospital where the wounds were stitched.

ROBBERS' PLANS

Failed and Paymaster Still Lives

There is a whole lot of good news that the state police keep well tucked in their sleeves and there is a great deal of work done by the police that they are not given one iota of credit for. The process of investigation has acquired such detail that it lasts for months and months after a crime has been committed. For example we will take the yeggmens' job in Woburn last winter.

The police went to work, first to ascertain the real motive and later to ascertain the yeggmens' preparations. That was a pretty big job but it was accomplished and the result of police findings convinced them that the shooting done by the yeggmens in Woburn and Billerica was absolutely unplanned.

The yeggmens, one of whom had worked for the Merrimack Chemical Co., So. Woburn, had planned to waylay the paymaster of the concern but their plans miscarried because of the delinquency of one of their members.

It was pay day at the chemical works and the yeggmens had planned to catch the train that would carry the paymaster from Boston to the works. The train left Boston somewhere in the vicinity of 12 o'clock noon. One of the yeggmens didn't show up. The other two waited and the delinquent one showed up for a later train, but when they arrived at the works the help was being paid off and their plans were foiled. They had arranged to waylay and, if necessary, kill the paymaster on his way from the train to the works.

Disturbed, perhaps, because their plans failed, they started towards Billerica and held up the first team they met. They were bad men, disappointed and desperate.

BUILD RAILWAY

From Winnipeg to Hudson Bay

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 11.—The first step towards the actual realization of the long mooted scheme of a railway to Hudson bay, will be taken this week, when a survey party of one hundred men starts from Winnipeg to locate the route of the proposed railway. Parliament will receive the report of the surveyors early in January next and the work of construction may begin next year. Four squads will survey alternative routes and the ultimate choice of the route will depend upon the character of the reports brought back as to the relative cost of construction.

THE WEATHER

The indications are that it will be generally fair tonight and Wednesday; light variable winds.

THE LOWELL POLICE

FRANCIS McDERMOTT, METHUEN POLICEMAN, MURDERED BY YEGGMEN.

Car Conductor Saw Yeggs With Arm Bandaged —Great Activity Among the Police, But No Clues to the Real Culprits—Lowell Police Ready to Act Quickly If Any Suspicious Characters Are Found Hereabouts

Lowell police in uniform and plain clothes are looking for the men who shot two police officers to death in a peat bog of the old Lowell road in Methuen late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, and patrolmen, officers and all have orders to arrest all suspicious characters.

Should information reach Lowell from suburban points relative to the presence there of suspicious characters, Supt. Moffatt stands ready to despatch a posse of men to interrogate and if necessary or advisable to arrest the strangers.

It was stated today, but not officially, that the governor would order out the militia. At the office of the adjutant general, this forenoon, it was stated that the governor had not yet reached a decision on the matter.

The state and Boston police who are assisting in the work of intercepting the murderers of the two Methuen officers are satisfied, as was stated in The Sun of yesterday, that the men who killed the officers, while they may not have been members of the bandit gang that shot up Jamaica Plain and made a grave of a gully in Forest Hill cemetery, they used the same weapons, the 38 calibre automatic pistol.

There have been no new developments of any importance in the Methuen murder now known as the peat bog tragedy, today. The only arrests made here that could be in anyway connected with it were made by Officer Martin Conway of Billerica.

At three o'clock this morning he arrested two young fellows named Blood and Kingsley in the horse shed of the Talbot Memorial hall at North Billerica. Blood and Kingsley were aged respectively 18 and 19. They were brought to Lowell and after having been put through the usual course of sprouts were allowed to go. They told a good straightforward story. They said that their home is in Northfield, Vt., that they had been induced to go to the shipyards in Chelsea where they were promised work. When they got there they found that a strike was in order, and they refused to do the strike-breaking act, and being without money they started to beat it back over the road to Northfield.

Considerable importance is attached to the statement of a car conductor that he saw four men on the Lawrence road going towards Lowell, one of them having his arm in a sling. Two foreigners have been arrested in Methuen, but neither is wounded.

SIX SUSPICIOUS MEN.

A report from South Lawrence that six suspicious men had been seen near a brewery there caused a flurry of excitement and a detail, well armed, was sent immediately to the scene.

An examination of the two men who were held at Methuen in connection with the murder proved that they were in no way connected with it.

STATE POLICE AND CITY

How They Traced Gutman Gang of Bandits Welcome Delegates to Canada-American Convention

A great deal of stress is being laid by the police throughout the state and the state police upon the questions of firearms. It is one of the very serious questions that must be settled at once and for all time. If there isn't anything too good for the modern bandit in the line of firearms there ought not to be anything too modern or up-to-date for the men who have to face the bandit in the protection of life and property. This is the substance of an argument offered by a real live state officer and listened to by a reporter of The Sun.

The state officer in question told a little something that we have never seen in print. It had to do with the weapons used by the Jamaica Plain bandits and the yeggmens who operated in Woburn and Billerica last winter. The men who shot Officers Walsh and O'Neil, Stable-keeper Holland and the Van Tassel boy in Woburn and Billerica, used the same make and calibre of weapons as did the men who shot up Jamaica Plain.

It will be remembered that Officer Huxley of Arlington arrested two of the yeggmens and they carried automatic revolvers. The fact that these men were armed with such modern and deadly weapons aroused the state police and they communicated with the manufacturers. The guns were traced by numbers from the manufacturer to the wholesalers, from the wholesalers to the retailers and the retailers after diligent search and inquiry into books and dates informed the police that the guns had been sold to a society and the society was named. That is how the police got their first clue to the society led by Edmund Gutman.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 11.—Following the reception at Infantry hall last evening, at which great enthusiasm prevailed, the eighth annual convention of the Canada-American association began with a pontifical mass at St. Charles Borromeo church this morning. Right Rev. Matthew Harkins of the diocese of Providence officiating on the throne. Adjournment was then taken to Infantry hall, where Gov. Hinkins and Mayor McCarthy of Providence welcomed the delegates in the name of the state and city, and then took an adjournment for an hour for luncheon.

The convention reconvened at two o'clock and at the afternoon session the reports of the supreme president, secretary and treasurer were submitted for the approval of the delegates. It is expected that before the afternoon is over the beginning of the discussion of constitutional amendments proposed by the supreme officers and the different courts and vilas of the order will occur, and these it is presumed will occupy considerable of the attention of the convention during the remaining days of the session.

"TOM" SHARKEY

Makes An Application for An

"Affidavit"

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Tom Sharkey was down in Tombs court yesterday on a little legal business of his own.

"Hey," he put it up to the complaint clerk, "gimme a—what ye call that now?" he asked turning to Lieutenant Hannon, of the police department legal bureau—"an affidavit. That's what I want, an affidavit."

"What's the complaint?" asked the clerk.

"Why, this fellow here," Tom pointed a capable thumb in the general direction of the prisoners' bench and of Bridgman Wagner, the barbed $50 off me, an affidavit."

But the complaint clerk wasn't listening. He was musing, with a far-off look in his eyes, of that evening when he and some others were in Tom's place, and Tom said, quite suddenly, "Well, boys, what are we going to have?" adding, as the bunch snuggled against the rail, "Rain or shine?"

"Tom," he whispered, "there's a ph—" Tom looked at it. "What's that for?" he asked.

"Stick it into yourself. This is the Tombs court. You're talking in your sleep."

"Yes, it seems like one of those willie dreams all right," Tom owned up with a lopsided grin, "but there y'are all the same. Take this the way I give it to ye an' ye get it right."

As one robbed of his own volition, the clerk watched his own hand moving over the printed form filling out Tom's affidavit. It related to the exploit of one Joseph Casey (now here), a bartender, 27 years old, of 114 Henry street, Brooklyn, who on or about the 25th of February, in the evening, did enter deponent's place of business at 144 East 14th street, and there by fraud and device, to wit, by representing himself to be under Sheriff John F. Glavin, did cajole said Joseph into making him a loan of seventy dollars in good and lawful money of the United States. Accordingly deponent accuses said Joseph Casey (now here) of grand larceny, and prays that he be dealt with according to law.

On the witness stand, before Magistrate Kormican, Tom further elucidated.

"He comes in my place one night, your honor, and walks right up to me. 'How d'ye do, Tom, good evening,' he says. So I says 'good evening,' how d'ye do? 'We fellows're pretty busy on the Taw trail these days,' he says. 'I s'pose ye must be,' I says. So things runs on till he lets it out what ye call off hand the he's under Sheriff Glavin."

"Then I suppose you ordered one," put in Hannon sympathetically.

"No," he says, "By the way, Tom, old pal," he says, "I just left Tom Foley, an' I ain't got no money. Wish ye'd let me have fifty till tomorrow, he says. 'How d'ye do, Tom, good evening,' he says. 'I'll send ye a check in the morning,' he says. So I didn't have the coin on me, an' I goes to the cashier and gets it."

Was this the same man? asked the magistrate. No, Tom, wasn't quite sure it was, but there was the cashier, he saw him too. James Walsh, the cashier, of 250 East 51st street, was called up and identified the man.

The case was put over to this morning, to give the police bureau time to work up a case. The bureau had only had since the arrest was made last Thursday.

NO TROUBLE YET

In Connection With the

C. P. Strike

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 11.—The Canadian Pacific railroad strike is settling down to a test of endurance between the company and the unions. The company is trying to secure mechanics to take the places of the strikers, while the latter have the powerful backing of the American Federation of Labor. Both sides are maintaining reserve as to the progress of the strike. Additional machinists from the car department in western Canada have joined the ranks of the strikers.

The railroad intends to bring in a large number of strike breakers. Many of the constables are being sworn in. So far, however, there has been no lawlessness.

$1000 ALIMONY

Granted Mrs. Child by the Court

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Supreme Court Justice Abel E. Blackmar listened yesterday to a protest against the alimony and counsel fees allowed Gustav W. Child in the suit for separation brought by her husband, Irwin W. Child. She has brought a counter action for absolute divorce. Last October Justice Scudder signed an order for $1000 a month alimony, and $2000 counsel fees. Justice Blackmar decided that the alimony should remain the same and fixed the counsel fee at $500 pending an appeal to the appellate division.

Irwin Child is now in Europe. He is held to an estate valued at $1,250,000. He left his wife when court proceedings were started. She is living with her father, Arthur Wolf, 115 Stratford road, Flatbush. At the time of her marriage she was a prominent figure in Brooklyn society and her elegance with Child created a sensation.

HOMELESS YOUTH

Was Nearly Killed by Mosquitoes

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Nearly dead from the bites of thousands of mosquitoes, which were swarming about his helpless body, Patrick O'Leary, a homeless youth, was found by a policeman last night lying in some deep grass on a lot at Hoe avenue and One Hundred and Seventy-fourth street, the Bronx.

His face, hands and neck were terribly swollen and discolored from the attacks of the insects, and he was so weak from starvation that he was unable to brush them off.

O'Leary had been lying in the lot since Saturday night, he told the policeman, waiting for death to end his suffering. Police Officer Pitt, of the Bathgate avenue station, carried the youth to a restaurant and bought him a good meal before taking him to the station on a technical charge of vagrancy, which was brought so that he might be cared for.

"I came from Ireland about a month ago," O'Leary told Magistrate Harris in the night court. "I had a job as a subway guard—the was in a subway uniform—but lost it when the hard times came. I will be glad to go to the workhouse, so as to have shelter and food."

"I'll send you there, then," the magistrate said, "and when you get out I'll personally help you to get a job." The magistrate requested that O'Leary be given medical attention and asked Miss McCauley, the probation officer, to look after him.

A CONFERENCE

CHAIRMAN WOODRUFF TALKS WITH HENDRICKS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Chairman Woodruff of the Republican state committee and Francis Hendricks, former superintendent of insurance of New York, held a conference here today, at the request of the latter. Both declined to state the nature of the questions discussed. Among Chairman Woodruff's office callers were Wm. Barnes, Jr., of Albany, and Congressman J. Sloan Fassett of Elmira. When Mr. Barnes was asked what the situation regarding the head of the state ticket was, he replied "Hendricks has said that the election of a candidate for governor is up to the people and he is right. The people will decide who the candidate shall be at the polls."

Congressman Fassett expressed similar sentiments.

GREEK

Demanded $1000 From a Prominent New York Merchant

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The attempt of a group of men using the name of the Greek revolutionary society to collect $1000 from Basil Spilopoulos, a Greek dealer in Oriental goods, and Spilopoulos' refusal to do so, has resulted in a riot today in the arrest of Spilopoulos and four other men who were hiding in the bushes in the far northern end of Manhattan island. Spilopoulos is charged with carrying concealed weapons. He had an automatic revolver guaranteed to empty itself in quick order. He told the police that he had received a letter from the revolutionary society ordering him to meet an agent of the society, at Fort George and deliver $1000 on pain of being cut to pieces and placed in a barrel. When Spilopoulos went with his magazine revolver and a roll of $11 made up to look like $1000, several policemen arrested him and four men who were found hiding in the bushes, evidently awaiting his coming. All carried revolvers and all were held in ball when arraigned in court.

CAUSED LOSS OF $50,000

MANDAN, N. D., Aug. 11.—A tornado struck Mandan late yesterday afternoon, damaging trees and buildings to the extent of $50,000. One boy was picked up by the wind and carried three blocks. He was seriously bruised. The roof of the Inter-Ocean hotel and the roof of the Domars hotel were blown off.

TWO MEN TORTURED

Because They Would Not Betray Their Companions

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 11.—Police officials here have received news of the torturing of two local men who were arrested recently in Mexico City, Mexico, on a charge of robbing a bank messenger.

William Moffatt and Edward Maloney are the men and the police here say they were well known to them before leaving for Mexico. Two companions escaped the officers when the Pittsburghers were arrested and the Mexican police demanded their names.

Refusing to betray their companions, the men allege that they were strapped up by the wrists to the bars of their cell while the officials with force cut the nails from their hands. Unable to bear the agony, the men gave up the names of their companions. "I suppose," said Captain of Detectives Edwin T. McCord today, "if it were not for the record of the men their torture would cause international complications."

TWICE ON TRIAL

New York Police Officer Accused

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Policeman Benjamin Cordice, of the Mercer street station, yesterday had a busy time in headquarters before Deputy Commissioner Hansen, who in the morning heard a charge that Cordice had accepted money for the release of two women prisoners, and in the afternoon heard the man accused of having accepted $10 from a saloon-keeper to "squell" an excise case.

Cordice and Policeman W. F. Waltman, also of Mercer street, were joint defendants at the morning trial. Decision in this case was reserved. In the afternoon, Louis Brice, manager of a saloon at No. 111 Bleeker street, appeared against Cordice. He charged that about 1 a.m. on July 26th last, Cordice arrested Charles Morse, Brice's bartender, for alleged violation of the excise laws, and that while on the way to the station house, accompanied by Brice, intimidated to the latter that for a sum of money the charge would not be pressed. The complainant swore he gave the policeman $10, excusing Morse to be freed promptly.

Instead, Cordice is said to have presented a strong case against the prisoner. Thereupon Brice took the matter before Captain Henry, who preferred the charges.

Cordice's defense was that he was offered $10 by a brother of Brice's if he would "fix" the matter, and that the offer was indignantly spurned.

WOMAN POISONED

Some One Sent Her a Gift of Candy

NORFOLK, Conn., Aug. 11.—An effort to end the life of Mrs. William Morgan, through poisoned confectionery last Sunday night has faced the authorities of this village with a baffling mystery which Mrs. Morgan, who is sixty-five years old and eccentric, has done little to dispel.

Word was sent to the police of Winsted yesterday and it is expected detectives from that city will try to get at the facts. By some in the village it has been more than hinted that Mrs. Morgan may have taken the dose herself through accident or design.

Mrs. Morgan partook of the candy after supper last night and almost immediately became violently ill. She betrayed all of the symptoms of poisoning, and Dr. O. L. Hamant, the family physician, who was called in, worked over her for five hours. For a time he despaired of saving her life.

When she had recovered sufficiently to speak, the aged woman said she had received the candy on Saturday from a woman friend, but when asked the name of the donor, she closed her lips tightly and refused to answer.

Repeatedly since then Mrs. Morgan has been asked to tell all she knows, but has refused. Yesterday she said, in answer to questions:

"I believe that the candy contained poison of some sort, but I will not say who gave it to me. I do not know why the person wanted to injure me."

This was all she would say despite the efforts of the local justice of the peace to induce her to talk.

The confectionery was in a small pasteboard box, and this has been secured, it is said, as well as a small piece of the candy itself, which may be subjected to chemical analysis.

The residents are wondering who is the guilty woman, or if the whole story is a figment of the brain of Mrs. Morgan.

It is pointed out that she has before done many eccentric things. One of her acts was to report a burglary at her home. Investigation proved that no burglary had taken place.

Mrs. Morgan has been a widow for many years. She lives with her son-in-law, Milford Dutcher, near the center of the village, and is a regular attendant at church.

She is not wealthy and is dependent upon her son-in-law for support. The question that the villagers are asking is: "Who could have any object in desiring the death of this harmless old woman?" So far as known she has no enemies, though because of her eccentric manner she is not very popular. But she was known to every one, and always greeted kindly wherever she went.

It is known, too, that her home life has been exceedingly pleasant. Her daughter and son-in-law have supplied her with every comfort during the years of her widowhood.

KIMBERLEY IS IN DANGER

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 11.—A special from Cranbrook says: A big bush fire is raging near Sullivan, with the probability of the buildings of the Sullivan Mine company being burned. Another fire is burning near Kimberley and there is danger of that town being wiped out.

RACE HOMICIDE STOCK MARKET

Worse Than Race Suicide Says Doctor

SILVER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 11.—"We have heard much in recent years of the Rooseveltian theory of race suicide, but I tell you that what we have to face today is a problem of race homicide—of child murder permitted by society. If we were careful to protect the lives of the babies born in this country we could save at least 150,000 of the babies who now die annually. Society should care for babies at least as well as it does for pigs."

In these scathing terms Dr. John Spargo, sociological writer and author of books on the health of children, today denounced the national neglect of the public health at the conference of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries here. Then he proceeded to give some startling statistics regarding the mortality of infants in various parts of this country.

"When we say that we cannot have a mother care for her offspring because she is needed to make paper bags or shoddy clothing, we enunciate a shameful doctrine which would disgrace barbarians," continued Dr. Spargo. "In some parts of Massachusetts the infant death rate is 111 to the thousand annually, while in the industrial cities of the same state it is 239 per thousand. In the Back Bay district it is only 94, while in the poorer sections of Boston the rate is 232. In certain sections of the South it is 300, and in Charleston the infant death rate has reached the enormous figure of 419 per thousand."

"All of these facts indicate barbarism or worse than barbarism. In this country every year 150,000 lives are taken by tuberculosis, and it is a preventable disease."

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11.—Richard Coffey and Harold Dillon of the Newport nine and John Pender of the Brockton nine of the New England league, who were arrested here on August 10, for playing ball on Sunday, were discharged today by Judge Franklin in the district court, warrants being declared defective.

TUBERCULOSIS

Printers to Fight Spread of Disease

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—A decided step against the spread of tuberculosis among union printers was taken up today by the International Typographical union, which is assembled in convention in this city, when it was voted to appoint a standing committee on tuberculosis. The action of the gathering followed a vigorous paper on the subject by Henry Russell Wray, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Colorado Springs.

In his address Mr. Wray told of the fearful ravages of the disease, and highly commended the work that the Typographical union has done in relieving the suffering members by erecting its institution in Colorado. Unsanitary composing rooms in many of the printing shops also came up for a brief discussion but no formal action was taken by the body.

The afternoon was spent in an outing at Nantasket beach.

CHICAGO BABIES

Killed by Beer and Sausages

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—To the over-feeding of babies and the use of improper foods, such as beer, pickles and sausages, the health department attributes the excessive high infant mortality in Chicago during the last six weeks. In its weekly bulletin the department calls attention to the fact that 400 deaths of children under two years of age were reported in July and that nearly two hundred have occurred this month, indicating that the August infant mortality rate will be much higher.

"More than eighty per cent. of these deaths," says the bulletin, "occurred in the congested residence areas of the city—the poor quarters—and by far the greater proportion was among the Slavie families. Most of these deaths were absolutely avoidable. The great majority are attributable to lack of proper care."

ASBURY PARK

LEASE BOUGHT AND HELD FOR FRACTION OF SECOND.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—People buy leases in most places to keep them, but in Asbury Park it is the reverse. Hugh C. Davis bought a lease on a piece of property yesterday for one millionth of a second. This was one striking incident in a number of "short term" purchases.

George C. Rosier, bidding for Jas. A. Bradley, not a lease of the Coleman house lawn for five minutes for $2500. The land in question is property that has been sold with the provision that it must always be held as lawn property. Until recently it never was taxed. Then it was decided to tax it. The real owners, who lease it at $1 a year, don't want to pay the taxes. Neither do the lessees. And this struggle to shift the burden of the taxes and the law requires that that property shall be leased to pay the taxes, and the owner may reclaim it by repaying them, having two years to do it.

It is the general belief that the city will take all the parcels over as park property.

BIG BATTLESHIP

Has Sailed for Caribbean Waters

THE HAGUE, Aug. 1.—The battleship Jacob Van Heemskerck sailed today for Caribbean waters. The cruiser Freisland, which is under orders to prepare for foreign service, returned today from Norway. She will probably follow the Jacob Van Heemskerck as soon as she can be got ready.

The only warship the Netherlands now has in the Caribbean is the cruiser Goederland. This vessel's term of service has expired and she will be relieved by the Jacob Van Heemskerck.

WOMAN KILLED

She Was Battered to Death

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Clinging to the end of a broken clothes line, swinging like a pendulum, Mrs. Inez Giugliano was dashed against a brick wall several times yesterday, receiving a fractured skull and other injuries, from which she probably will die.

The woman, who is nineteen years old, lived at No. 243 Washington ave., Bronx. Her apartment is on the second floor. The ground stories so that in the rear it is three stories above the yard.

Mrs. Giugliano was leaning out of the window yesterday hanging clothes. As she pulled on the line it parted and in some manner she lost her balance and tumbled head first from the window. In the desperation of despair, as she plunged down the woman grasped like a drowning person at everything. She struck another line and one end of it twisted like a snake and wound itself about the hand that clutched it. She dropped the hand that clutched it, then she was snatched back into the air and dropped again.

From the projection on the fire escape where the rope was attached to the brick wall of the house is about six feet. She swung out the length of the rope some eight feet toward the yard and then came back against the wall with the force of a battering ram. Her head struck the bricks. She was sent out again by the impact and again struck the wall. She clung to the rope until consciousness left her, then, bruised and battered and with her skull fractured, she dropped to the ground.

An ambulance took her to Fordham hospital, where last night it was said she would die.

MAYOR HIBBARD

Has Suspended Building Inspector

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Following the collapse of the building at 21 Greenock street, Dorchester last Thursday morning, and the subsequent report yesterday afternoon, Building Inspector Abraham T. Rogers was this afternoon suspended from duty. Inspector Rogers visited the tenement house a week before the collapse, which resulted in the injury to two carpenters. Rogers will be given a hearing by the building commissioners.

LOST HIS MONEY EIGHT MEN DEAD

Polson Was Victim of Confidence Men

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Carl O. Polson of 465 Spruce street, Manchester, N. H., having decided to return to his native country, came to Boston to embark yesterday afternoon, in order to be sure of finding the place from which his steamer would sail, he hunted up the wharf steamship wharf in East Boston.

His caution proved his undoing, for on the wharf he met two men who robbed him of $500 in cash, all he possessed.

Polson says he had not been on the wharf long before the pair accosted him and told him the old story about the danger from crooks about the docks. Their frank offer of advice and friendship won Polson's confidence and he accepted their invitation to go over to the city with them. By the time they had reached North Market street they had induced him to pool his money with theirs.

Then one of the men went into a cigar store to make a purchase and the other also found a pretext for stepping away. When Polson found that the man who went into the cigar store had disappeared it dawned on him that his trust might have been misplaced.

To the police of division I he gave descriptions of the crooks. One he said is six feet tall, weighs about 180 pounds, has smooth face, is of light complexion and wears light colored and black soft hat, while the other man is 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs about 150 pounds, has smooth face and wore a dark brown suit and black derby hat.

THE WARSHIPS

WERE INSPECTED BY MANY VISITORS YESTERDAY.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The boat landing at the foot of State street was a busy place yesterday, for it was thronged most of the afternoon by the crowds who wished to visit the warships. Dewey's old flagship, the Olympia, was the favorite, more people visiting her than boarded all the other vessels put together. The strange looking monitors, however, came in for a good deal of attention, most people considering them novelties, although, as a matter of fact, they are the oldest type of armor clad war in use.

Probably 1000 people made use of the boat score of launches, small and great, which ran back and forth from the landing to the ships. The midshipmen in their navy blue uniforms with white topped caps helped make the scene picturesque for they were being constantly ferried back and forth.

On board the Olympia and other ships of Manila was released again and again, usually by bluejackets who were not on the ship at the time, to crowds of men, women and children. The Olympia, made by Spanish shovels and other pieces of the great fight were pointed out and recently observed.

About 30 of the midshipmen made a visit to the yard of the Fore River Shipbuilding company of Quincy yesterday.

The cadets were accompanied from Boston by a number of naval officers. They were divided into five squads of 20 each. Every department was examined, the boys being shown about by the superintendent.

Three things attracted the interest of the cadets—the 3000 ton battleship North Dakota, the submarine boats, which are being built by the Electric Boat company and the Curtis or American turbine engines, which are to be put into the North Dakota.

Few men were given liberty last night as the squadron will sail this afternoon for Portsmouth. Consequently there will be no more opportunity for visitors to board the warships upon this visit.

MAN DROWNED

MORAN WAS NOT A VERY GOOD SWIMMER.

CRANSTON, R. I., Aug. 11.—Albert Moran of 43 Grant street, Providence, was reported to the Pawtucket river last night. Moran was canoeing with Albie Moleynaux and Alfred J. Valliers, also of Providence, when a strong current overturned the craft. Moran was an inexperienced swimmer and, though Valliers tried to rescue him, lost his grip from the bottom of the canoe and sank. He was 32 years of age and was employed in the General Fire Extinguisher factory in Providence.

$1800 STOLEN

ROBBERY AT NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL REPORTED.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11.—A robbery of $1800 in cash from the postmaster's office at the Naval Training school was reported to the police of Newport last night, and notices have been sent to the police of other cities with a view to the apprehension of a naval miscreant of the second class, who is missing. Paymaster E. H. Cope and Richard J. Johnson had the money in a safe in their office for the purchase of commissary supplies. While Mr. Cope was temporarily absent last Saturday, someone worked the combination of the safe and took the money.

"Deacon" Farnham Makes 86,016 Points

What do you know about bridge whist?

"Deacon" John K. Farnham of Westford street is the champion bridge whist player of Lowell and stands ready to defend the title against all comers.

Mr. Farnham won the championship last evening when he defeated his closest rival, Mr. Peter Paradis, the well known tenor artist, and made the biggest record ever known in Lowell.

Measures Farnham and Paradis played what is known as a grand hand, and on the hand Mr. Farnham scored 86,016 points which he believes to be the record.

Killed by Explosion of a Boiler

YORK, Penn., Aug. 11.—Eight men were killed, nearly a score of others more or less seriously injured and thousands of dollars' worth of property damaged by the explosion of a boiler in the York rolling mill late yesterday afternoon. The dead are:

John Clancy, York.

Benjamin Broner, Harry Seachrist, Paul Fink, Alfred Struck, John Slossman, Harry Feyer, all of Columbia, Penn.

Edward Filler, Marietta, Penn.

The boiler which was located in the center of the mill exploded without a moment's warning. Ambulances were hurried to the scene, but owing to the number of dead and injured, delivery wagons and other conveyances were pressed into service and the injured rushed to the hospital.

A majority of those killed had their heads and limbs torn from their bodies and were so badly mangled that identification was almost an impossibility. The men were working close to the boiler, and when the explosion occurred not one was able to make his escape.

The shock was so terrific that it demolished a large portion of the mill and sent heavy pieces of twisted iron and metal in all directions. Adjacent buildings were damaged, and a horse standing 300 yards from the mill was instantly killed.

Box cars on the railroad siding adjoining the mill were torn to splinters. The shock was felt over the entire city. The injured are all expected to recover.

GANG SENTENCED

For Picking Pockets and Shoplifting

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Alleged members of a gang engaged in picking pockets and shoplifting and who, the police say, are a part of an organization in New York, appeared in court yesterday to answer to charges.

Those who came up were Joe Simons, Louis Schneider, Sam Cohen, Max Schiller and John Faust.

All are under 25 and one or two are only 15.

The first three received two months in the house of correction and Schiller and Faust were held in $500 each for a later hearing.

Inspector Knox and Officer Robson brought the men in. Simons, Schneider and Cohen were arrested in a Washington street, clothing store. They had in their possession 11 pairs of garters, a pair of gloves and a single handkerchief. They claimed they had bought the goods, but were unable to make any claim.

The police believe that, owing to the stringency of New York laws and the attitude that the police there have been taking against these men, they are "working" other cities, principally Boston.

Officer Robson arrested two of the men on the narrow gauge Saturday. They are alleged to be "jumpers," men who make short stops at resorts to "work" the place and get away with whatever they can.

MRS. LAMADRID

Founder of Coffee Stands is Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Joaquin M. Lamadrid, founder of the St. Andrew's coffee stands at which eatables and drinks may be had for one cent, died in her home, 50 Monroe street, Brooklyn.

For 20 years Mrs. Lamadrid had maintained the charity on which she had concentrated her energy, and had watched it grow to half a dozen stands in various sections of the city. Its career was beset by many difficulties, for the Charity Organization Society and other like associations frowned upon it, and even appealed to the public to withdraw its support.

The character of the work, however, was such that the present day it was met with hearty response, and never has it failed to accomplish the result that its founder had intended—the sale, at a nominal price, of food sufficient to keep a man on his feet until he is able to obtain work.

First of the 1-cent coffee stands was started on Jan. 15, 1887, at the corner of Duane street and Park row, when Mrs. Lamadrid astonished the city by announcing that she was prepared to sell coffee and rolls, pork and beans, bread, eating sandwiches, cereals, beef soup and clam chowder, for 1 cent a portion. Even the poorest mendicant was able to obtain enough to satisfy his hunger, and the stands began forthwith to do a thriving business. Large crowds have ever since patronized the stands.

BALDWIN'S BALLOON

Will Be Accepted by the Signal Corps

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The military dirigible balloon built for the signal corps of the army by Captain Thomas S. Baldwin will be accepted.

We are going to buy Baldwin's machine, we need it," said Gen. James Allen, chief signal officer, and yesterday he indicated that failure to comply with the speed requirements will not prevent the purchase of the airship. It is generally understood, therefore, that the speed and endurance trials will merely determine the price to be paid for the dirigible. If, in the first official speed trial Captain Baldwin should make less than sixteen miles an hour, Gen. Allen may so change the method of determining the speed that in the second trial flight Captain Baldwin's dirigible should make the required speed.

The first speed test, which it is expected will take place this evening, will be over a course two and one-quarter miles in a westerly direction from Fort Myer.

Captain Baldwin is satisfied that he can make 22 miles an hour. Col. James T. Temple, former chief of the aeronautical division of the British army, said that he believed Captain Baldwin's dirigible could make 25 miles an hour in still air.

Col. Temple last night sent his representative to the British war office, on his inspection of the Baldwin airship. He recommended that some new features be incorporated in the new dirigible which the British army is building and which will have practically the same dimensions of Captain Baldwin's ship. Col. Temple favors the smaller airship in the present stage of advancement of aerial navigation.

In reply to a question as to what he thought of the Zeppelin airship, Col. Temple said:

It is too far ahead of the times. The Zeppelin must be gained with smaller airships. If Count Zeppelin's men had been trained with smaller aerial craft the unfortunate accident to his airship would probably have not occurred.

TRAIN WAS WRECKED

Two Killed and Many Were Seriously Injured

GLENDIVE, Mont., Aug. 11.—Northern Pacific train No. 2, the North Coast limited, met with a disastrous wreck about 12 miles west of Glendive last night. Fireman A. B. Matthews and an unknown tramp were killed and 20 or 30 persons injured. Few of those injured were seriously hurt, and all but one will recover. The train was traveling at a speed of 50 miles an hour when it rounded a curve and ran into the bridge.

The bridge, together with all the injured were brought to Glendive and are now being cared for.

The dead:

LOCAL DELEGATES KING AND KAISER

Started for New Haven Today

Mr. Denis A. O'Brien of the Matthew Temperance Institute and Stephen T. Ward of St. John's society, North Chelmsford, the latter who is also financial secretary of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of the archdiocese, left today for New Haven, Conn., to be present at the annual convention of the C. T. A. U. of America, which opens in that city tomorrow.

Both gentlemen go as delegates from the Archdiocesan union, having been elected last April. Mr. O'Brien at that time was chosen first alternate to the convention, and on account of the illness of Rev. Francis J. Butler, president of the Boston union, the honor of attending the big meeting fell to Mr. O'Brien, who is regarded as one of the Matthews' most capable members. The convention will last three days and various forms of entertainment for the delegates have been planned. The Knights of Columbus, the national headquarters of which are in New Haven, have planned to assist in the entertainment of the total abstinence hosts. A portion of the Massachusetts delegation left this morning at 9:15 and the remainder will leave at 5 o'clock this evening. It will be the first national meeting that Mr. O'Brien and Secretary Ward have attended, and doubtless they will be pleased with the reports received from other places than Massachusetts, in relation to the total abstinence work. Secretary Ward stated that the Boston union will record a substantial increase in membership since the last national meeting.

THREE CENT FARE

Company Expects to Make Profit

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 11.—At a meeting of the democratic members of the city council yesterday, who form a majority of the council, it was agreed that the Municipal Traction company, the three cent fare company, shall charge five cents for a cash fare. Tickets may be purchased at the rate of three cents. The new rate is to take effect next Thursday morning.

This rate is to maintain until the "pay as you ride" cars are installed. The May and June deficit of the company is given as a reason for the change. The company profits a profit for July, however, with the three cent fare.

TYPO DELEGATES FIVE WERE KILLED

Enjoyed a Trip to Nantasket

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The business sessions of the International Typographical union and the International Stereographers and Electrotypers union continued yesterday morning to allow the delegates to devote more of the day to pleasure. After adjournment the two U. D. delegates were the guests of the ex-delegates union, and a trip to Nantasket with a smoke dinner was planned.

The district convention of the Malters Trade union also convened today. Meetings of this union will be held each day during the Typographical convention, and many important matters of interest to their made are expected to be brought up for consideration.

IT COST $80,000

For Republican Convention at Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Only four-fifths of the $100,000 raised to bring the republican national convention to Chicago was spent and the task of returning the remaining $20,000 has been begun by the local committee, on arrangements. That sum is to be divided between the 50 delegates to the fund. After a brief conference yesterday between Fred L. Upham, chairman, and J. C. Roth, treasurer of the committee, the former began to sign checks that will be mailed today.

CARPET OUTING

LINES WRITTEN ON INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

To vindicate the report that appeared in Saturday's editions of The Sun, relative to the enjoyable time had by the threaders and warpers of the Bigelow Carpet Co. at Revere beach and Wonderland, one of the poetical young ladies who attended the outing but who failed to sign her name sends us the following:

It was early in the morning
In our Spindle town
The square was full of pretty girls
Walking up and down.

People wondered where they came from
And some whispered each to each
They are from the Carpet threading room
And are going to the beach.

The girls were "Merry Widows"
The boys had Panamas,
And they all looked stunning
As they stepped upon the cars.

Miss Murphy was a Gibson dress,
In a handsome dress of brown.
Miss Connors looked quite stunning
In a dainty ginger gown.

Miss Kelliker wore a Gibson dress,
In a handsome dress of brown.
They both looked very "Merry"
And sweet enough to kiss.

Everything went quite well
Till we were half-way there
Then someone threw some chewing gum
In Mamie Curley's hair.

And maybe Miss McCarthy
Didn't think she was a peach.
It was the first time that Ed. Cusky
Had brought her to the beach.

CHANGE OF FLAG

PROPOSED FOR L'UNION ST. JEAN BAPTISTE.

The carillon of the French-Canadians of Canada which for the past four years with the United States flag has been the recognized flag of L'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique is in danger of being supplanted according to the Fitzburg Sentinel. The Sentinel says:

The carillon replaced the tri-color of France at the convention of the order in Williamstown, Ct., in 1904, and now the council of the order from Kansas to the convention, has instructed its delegates to the convention to propose an amendment to the constitution whereby the tri-color of France will be reinstated.

The Kanawha council has the support of the other councils in the west which are coming to the convention, prepared to make a fight for the tri-color. Failing in the original endeavor, will put before the convention another move, that the flag of France be added to the flag of the United States, and the carillon, making three flags standing behind the cross emblematic of the order. The order has recently gained much ground in the west, and it is possible that its appeal for the reinstatement of the tri-color will be successful.

From the organization of the order in 1901 and 1902, the recognized flag emblematic of the order were the flags of France and the United States. At the Williamstown convention in 1904, Dr. J. A. Deane and Fayette Lowell, 1st the movement for the carillon. He made a spirited address and won.

BISHOP BRENT

HEADS COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE USE OF OPIUM.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Bishop Brent of the Philippines has accepted the position as senior commissioner of the American delegation to the international opium commission, to meet at Shanghai, Jan. 1.

Commissioner Hamilton Wright is going soon to the middle and far west, after opium in the States, to make inquiry for the American commission as to the use of opium and its products in those sections of the country. Recently he has returned from Portland, Me., and Des Moines, where he gathered information on the subject.

At Boston he was told that inmates of the state prison at Massachusetts have been users of the drug. In Maine the commissioners were assured that in the country districts opium was used considerably, principally among former drunkards, who, because of the fact that prohibition prevents, have been deprived of whiskey.

The three American commissioners will meet in Manila, Dec. 15, to discuss their coming work at Shanghai.

SKULL FRACTURED

CAMBRIDGE BABY FELL FROM A WINDOW.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—There seems to be an epidemic in Cambridge of children falling from windows of their homes. Three cases were reported within 48 hours.

Theodore Hopper, 19 months old, was playing about the open window at his home in the second story of the building, 22 Suffolk street, Cambridgeport district, yesterday afternoon, at 2:30. He lost his balance and fell to the sidewalk, a distance of 15 feet. His skull was fractured. He is in a critical condition at his home.

Jacob Barron, 3 years old, fell from the second-story window at his home, 219 Western avenue, yesterday afternoon, and was unconscious when picked up. He was taken to Cambridge relief hospital in the police ambulance. No bones were broken.

James Rahl, 12, fell from the third story of his home at 116 Broadway and was badly bruised, but no serious results are anticipated.

CHAS. J. GLIDDEN

TO MAKE AN ASCENSION THIS AFTERNOON.

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 11.—Charles J. Glidden will make an ascension in the balloon Boston at 5 o'clock this afternoon from the Court square extension, weather permitting, and he will be accompanied by Charles T. Shean of this city, who will make his initial flight. The balloon was brought here from North Adams yesterday and is stored at the gas house of the Springfield gaslight company.

Mr. Glidden was given a complimentary banquet last night at hotel Worthing by representative citizens. He read an interesting paper on zero navigation and congratulated the city on its prospect of an aero club. He said the weight, with equipment and passengers, was 1600 pounds. His balloon cost the expense of a trip was $60, and with two passengers could be relied on to stay in the air three or four hours.

HAVERHILL MAN

WAS DROWNED AT COUNTRY POND.

HAVERHILL, Aug. 11.—Ernest L. Kimball, 29 years old, foreman at the plant of the Wood Box company, was drowned at Country pond, Newton, N. H., yesterday.

He went bathing from a boat at dusk, and dived to a shoal rock, the blow stunning him.

When he rose to the surface companions tried to rescue him, but in his delirium he fought them off and sank. The body was recovered several hours later. Kimball was married and leaves two children, who were in camp at the pond.

CHEAPEST OF ALL

Of all the forms of advertising, this is the cheapest and best.

Advertising in the daily newspapers. The cheapest newspapers are those with the largest circulation in their respective fields.

Handbills are wasteful, expensive and of little effect. Posters are played out, because they are costly and very uncertain in durability or effect. Signboards are expensive and short lived.

The Daily Newspaper is the safest, surest and cheapest of all, and the best of the local papers is The Sun, because it has the largest circulation in Lowell.

NEAR THE GOAL

Sergt. John Walsh to Win $5000 Wager

MARLBORO, Aug. 11.—Sergt. John Walsh passed through this city at 10 o'clock on the last stage of his journey from San Francisco to Boston, this being his 73th day on the trip, all of which he has made on foot.

He has properly attested letters from governors, mayors and other state, city and town officials, showing that he has lived up to the terms under which the trip was undertaken. He is walking on a wager of $25,000 made by officials of the Golden Gate A. C. of San Francisco and Col. H. A. Warren, also a member of the club. Walsh's share will be $5000 if he wins the wager.

He is in excellent condition and was accorded an ovation as he passed over Main street by the citizens. He called at the police station and paid his respects to Sergeants Frank B. Crotty and to Capt. Taylor of Co. I, 6th regiment, and other prominent citizens.

He spoke most interestingly of his journey, and said the most hazardous part of it was in crossing the Great Divide in Colorado, where he tramped through snow for three days, with but little nourishment. He speaks most highly of the reception accorded him in all places where he has visited, and commented on the good roads in the eastern states, from Ohio clear through to Massachusetts.

BRYAN A GUEST

At Dinner in Honor of Humphrey O'Sullivan at Lincoln

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, Aug. 11.—This evening Mr. Bryan will be a guest at a dinner given by the local Typographical union in honor of Humphrey O'Sullivan, a prominent business man of Lowell, Mass. It is assumed that Mr. Bryan will be called upon to make a speech. It will be the first occasion that he has had to meet the members of the Typographical union since his election last Sunday week. Mr. O'Sullivan many years ago identified himself with the printers' union and has contributed largely to the fund carrying on its work.

Following the dinner Mr. Bryan will hold a conference with Chairman Mack and the members of the text book committee at the Lincoln hotel.

THIRTEEN MEN ARE DEAD

SAARBRUEKEN, Germany, Aug. 11.—Thirteen men are dead and eight are badly injured as the result of an explosion of fire damp in the Dugweiler mine, five miles from here.

MAY BE MURDER

Body of Young Woman Found in a Room

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The body of Hattie Kill, 20 years old, was found today covered with blood in her apartment over an undertaker's shop in West 22nd street. E. C. Waldeck, proprietor of the undertaking place, reported the case to the coroner, saying that the body gave evidence of having been subjected to violence.

CAMPAIGN PLANS

Bryan and Mack to Hold a Conference

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—Upon the arrival of Norman E. Mack, chairman of the national democratic committee in Lincoln, this afternoon, the executive committee will hold a conference at Fairview with Mr. Bryan, at which the campaign plans will be discussed. A number of the members of the notification committee already are here and it was expected that most of them during the day would ride out to the Bryan home. Some of them went out in the forenoon. Among these was A. W. Forbes of Arizona and Charles Edelman of San Francisco. Mr. Edelman has insisted that the democratic nominee make a couple of speeches. He thought California was safely democratic, but he told Mr. Bryan that if he went out there it would be surely so. The Californians, Mr. Bryan was told, were greatly pleased with the two planks of the Denver platform relating to Asiatic immigration and the regulation of the writs of injunction. Mr. Bryan practically reiterated his determination to remain home during October. His plans for September will prevent his going to the Pacific coast that month. Having finished a lecture tour in the states of Ohio, Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska, Thomas P. Byrnes of Erie, Pa., a Unitarian minister, called on Mr. Bryan, and gave him the benefit of what information he had regarding the political sentiment in those states. "I found the drift towards you everywhere," Mr. Bryan was told, and he added that the republicans would have to stir up some tremendous force before they could hope to win.

CONDUCTOR LANE

Saw Two Suspicious Men in the Road This Afternoon

That the years who shot the two officers in Motion were within a few miles of the scene of the dastardly murder is evidenced by what Conductor Arthur Lane of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company saw shortly after noon today.

His car, which is due in the square at 1:10 in the afternoon, passed two men in the vicinity of the Cancer hospital where the car leaves the highway and takes to the private land. Both men were foreigners and one carried a bundle. They waited for the car standing midway in the road, but when the car approached them they darted to bushes on the side of the road and went under cover. One of the men held his gun in a high manner as though he had suffered an injury. The other wore a suit of clothes which were badly torn, indicating that he might have come in contact with either barbed wire fences or had figured in a scuffle.

One of the men had a bundle in his relative to the Methuen murder. Supt. Moffatt said: "I have not received any official notification. Capt. Kow, I believe, talked with the Lawrence or Methuen police, but it matters not now as a murder has been committed and that the murderers are just as liable to come to Lowell as to go elsewhere and it is up to us to do our part in apprehending them. My men have been instructed to arrest all suspicious characters."

GREAT SURPRISE

At the Recall of Mehmed Alibey

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The recall of Mehmed Alibey, the Turkish minister at Washington, announced in the Associated Press dispatches from London, occasioned no great surprise to official Washington, as Mehmed Alibey was sent here under the old regime. The general expectation is that the porte will adjust the general practice of recalling the ministers appointed before the constitution was proclaimed and substitute in their places men known to be in sympathy with the new order of things in Turkey.

Mehmed Alibey although only 35 years of age, ranks high in the diplomatic corps and is a man of culture and learning. Before coming to Washington, he was one of the counselors of the foreign office.

The minister authorizes a general detail of the stories which reflect upon the character and integrity of his father. He has been presented as a reactionary, the minister says, whereas in fact he is liberal in his views and often has given advice of that character to the sultan.

GETTING READY

For Trouble With the Netherlands

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Aug. 11.—The colonial government is making active preparations for any possible trouble between the Netherlands and Venezuela. A station for wireless telegraphy is being installed here, and yesterday the cruiser Gelderland left for the neighboring island of Aruba, carrying a number of rifles and ammunition to the inhabitants. Aruba is practically without protection.

A letter received here from Maracaibo announces that the Venezuela river steamer Felix has left that port with a number of troops on board for the head of Maracaibo bay. It is believed that these soldiers are going against a revolutionary band.

DEATHS

FORD—Rosa Ford died this morning at St. John's hospital. Deceased was about 20 years of age and lived at 19 Tyler street. The remains were taken to the warehouses of Peter Davey.

GUIDE WAS EATEN

Lemieux Attacked by Two Companions

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 11.—Nine woodsmen, returning from the Lake Chibougamou district yesterday, made a sworn statement that they had discovered the remains of Auguste Lemieux, the guide who was said to have been killed and eaten by travelers. According to the woodsmen, there was every evidence of cannibalism, and their statement bears out the first reports of the awful deed.

The remains of the unfortunate guide were recently buried, and with that act ends one chapter of one of the most awful tragedies of the Canadian wilderness.

Though the first news of the act of cannibalism in Canada came out on June 15, the story runs back to September, 1907. At that time two Frenchmen, Joseph Gusselt and M. Bernard, went on a hunting trip north-west of Lake St. John, 200 miles up in the back country. They engaged the services of Auguste Lemieux, and were provided for six or seven weeks.

In January, 1908, a hunter brought news to Quebec of having found a white man's camp with a message of distress signed "Bernard." A search party was sent out, and on April 26, 1908, they found a mutilated body, which they took to be that of Bernard. This would account for the guide and one of the hunting party, but the fate of Gusselt is still unknown.

PERSONALS

Engineer Ted Meloy, Capt. Halstead of the Protective company and Hoseman Dolan of Engine 1, are enjoying their vacations at North Woodstock, N. H., at a hotel conducted by "Joe" Brown, formerly a member of Engine 4 company.

Miss Eva Williamson of Thorncliffe street is sojourning at Providence. She will visit Newport, Narragansett and other resorts along the south shore before returning to this city.

Miss Josephine Gormley of 625 Broadway is spending this week with friends at Old Orchard, Me.

According to the statement made by the conductor the two men acted in a very suspicious manner.

The local police are of the opinion that the murderers may make their way towards Lowell and are keeping a constant watch on the approaches to this city.

Yesterday at seven Lieutenant Downey and Inspector Mayer went down the Lawrence road beyond Polo Grove as a result of receiving word that there were some suspicious characters about the place. The officers can arrest several persons, but upon investigation were satisfied that none of the men was connected with the murder.

12 ROUND DRAW

Rawson and Clark in Fast Bout

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 11.—The bouts scheduled at the Cape Ann athletic club at its opening last evening brought out a good-sized gathering of members. Tommy Rawson of East Boston and Young Clark of Lawrence were down for the main bout for 12 rounds. It was a good fight from start to finish. Rawson for the first half of the bout seemed to have something on Clark, but in the remaining rounds Clark began to come strong and in the 10th had his antagonist to the bad and the bell was a relief for Rawson. The 11th and 12th rounds were fast ones, both men fighting well. Referee Martin Flaherty called it a draw, and it was a good decision, well received. Dick Slater of Boston and Jack Jackson of the seminary went eight good rounds in the second round. Both local lads, went six fast rounds. Both these were declared a draw.

DONOVAN NOT COMING

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Johnny Carroll and not Mike Donovan, is to be one of Billy Papke's opponents at the Armpy A. A. Thursday night. A telegram from Rochester, N. Y., yesterday stated that Donovan had injured his left hand so badly while training for his bout against Papke that Mike could not go on with his engagement. Thereupon the club secured Carroll to take his place.

Carroll is best known here for his work in Chelsea when he knocked out Fred Bradley in three rounds. Carroll has also beaten Sallor Burke in one round, Jim Donovan, Willie Lewis, Jim Savage and other good middleweights. Carroll will be the first in the ring for six rounds against Papke, and he will be followed for the second six rounds by Frank Mantell.

A FAST BOUT

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 11.—At the skating pavilion here last night Jack Flynn and Tim Sullivan of Boston fought a six-round bout which proved to be one of the fastest of the tap of the going to the finish.

Flynn was the aggressor throughout the battle and landed many wicked blows on Sullivan's body, which seemed to have little effect. It was an even thing to the fourth, when Sullivan received a hard swing on the jaw, which appeared to rouse his ire, and he waded into Flynn, swinging wildly, and one of the blows started the chariot flowing freely from Flynn's nose. This was easily Sullivan's round.

The fifth was rather tame, both men sparring for an opening, only one blow of any account being landed, a straight left to Sullivan's face, which disturbed him not a little. From this out it was an even mill, easily being called a draw. About 300 witnessed the bout.

KNOCKED OUT LOUGHREY

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—At the Bedford A. C., Brooklyn, last night, Joe Leonard knocked out Young Loughrey in the second round of what was to have been a six-round bout. Leonard went right after his man from the start and had him in a very bad way at the end of the first round. A right to the jaw early in the second session turned the trick.

THE SULTAN

TO PAY FOR NEW HOUSE OF PARLIAMENT

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—The sultan has made known his intention of destroying the entire cost of building a new house of parliament and he has given orders that plans be prepared.

The general attitude of the sultan with regard to the new order of things in Turkey is giving great satisfaction. He is removing all fears of any attempt to return to the regime of personal rule. In an interview with one of his ministers the sultan said:

"Every man in Turkey is a member of the committee of union and progress, and I am their president. Let us live together and make the country prosperous."

ARMY OFFICERS

On Second Endurance Test as Horsemen

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 11.—Although somewhat stiff from their exertions yesterday, the fourteen army officers of high rank and including Major General Frederick D. Grant, started off at 7:30 a. m. today on their second endurance test as horsemen. The 30-mile today was somewhat different than that taken yesterday, the detail going in the direction of some of the high hills. The weather at the start was fairly cool and the sky hazy, but there were indications of more sultry conditions before the day was over. The officers found the roads better today, there being a good rain during the night, which laid the dust.

The detail started off at a trot which was maintained for the first ten miles with a walk and a gallop to follow.

The detail will not return to the fort tonight, but will camp at the head of Shelburne bay and return the last 30 mile route tomorrow.

DIAMOND NOTES

Lowell played an errorless game but couldn't bat.

In the bright lexicon of Empire Conolly there is no such word as "back."

Andrew H. Mudd, Private Mudd of 7th Co. coast artillery, Fort Banks, Mass., is the latest bench-warmer on the Lowell team. Mudd practiced yesterday and appeared to have abundant use of muscle and his speed was marvellous. After watching Mudd throw three for a he caught them over the plate at that speed he'll stop all the heavy hitters in this league.

Double-header tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Why not make the second game a short one and let the fans out in time for supper?

Eddie Conners receives compliments on all sides as a heady ball player. Why not let him graduate from P. J. Nemo's school of baseball at Plutonium? He did yet.

Pullman has a movement in catching players of first class as a bally "Happy Days" Casey's celebrated steed.

Herb Webster has gone to the beach for a few weeks.

Why not give Early, the pitcher of the Methuen team a try out? The few fans who think he might be worth a good deal with a good ready catcher like Doran behind him Early would show something.

Jimmie Magee contributed all the feature playing yesterday. He covered much ground. A home run over the right field fence, is no longer a feature. Young Norris puts the ball over about every time he comes to town.

The "Heavenly Twins," Tony Cummings and Tommy Devine are putting their pair has been traveling hand in hand through the league and both have the goods. Devine has an additional accomplishment; he can swing the festive dukes in the squared circle with some of the best of them.

Ernest Vinson, right fielder on the Lowell team, has been called to the home of his sister in Harrisburg, Pa. His sister passed away. Vinson has been out of the game for the past 10 days.—Lawrence Telegram.

"Winn's Winners" having been proved a nuisance, why not shift the name to "Barrow's Barnstormers."

Two New England boys, Martine, a pitcher, and McInnis, a shortstop, both playing with the Beverly semi-professional team, have been sent contracts by Connie Mack. They were recommended by Bob Ungerlaub.

BASEBALL NOTES

Rube Marquard, the $10,000 pitcher purchased from Indianapolis by McGraw's club, is now and then Louieville from him out of the box last Thursday, hitting him safely nine times in five innings.

Big league magnates and scouts are watching the work of Wheeler, the St. Paul first sacker, pretty sharply. Wheeler is lining them out with a vengeance.

Burns, the Washington pitcher, is not in the hospital, as reported. He is nursing a lame side, which it is claimed that he received from a bat at the hands of a fellow member of Cantillon's peace aggregation.

A verification of an old baseball superstition took place at Bucyrus, O., the other day in a game between that club and the Mansfield, O. team. In the latter aggregation is Harry Breymler, who used to reside at Bucyrus, and his former townsmen took advantage of the occasion to shower him with gifts. On his first appearance at bat he was given a gold watch. The applause had hardly died away when Harry fanned. The second time up there was more applause, the presentation of a diamond pin, and another strikeout. On his third appearance he was given a new bat, and fourth time he came to bat there was a blood in Harry's eye. The presentation committee was all out of gifts this time. Harry accordingly did not present, but he turned around and hit the leather out for a sparkling home run.

Friends of Jack Hey will be glad to learn that he made one of the most sensational throws ever witnessed in the Tri-State league, the other day when he threw clear from the right hand field in Trenton to the home plate, cutting off a run. He has been recalled by the Red Sox.

Freddie O'Brien, the Chelsea featherweight, will get his first taste of hard game in New York Thursday night, when he goes against Frankie Neil of San Francisco. Though the latter has been defeated by champions, he is far from being a back number and can still travel at a fast clip. O'Brien is fortunate enough to gain the award over him, it will be a big boost for him.

Eddie Murphy and Willie Riley, the star lightweights of South Boston, have engagements in New York tonight. They are to meet two New York boys.

Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight who has been making good since he came to this country, clashed with Johnny Murphy, a San Francisco boy, at Jeffries club Friday night. Murphy is a very promising boxer, and it appears to be bad policy to put him against such an experienced man as Welsh at this stage of his career.

Terry Mustain, who became prominent in ring circles by reason of his victory over Jack O'Brien, will not be surprised to hear of his wanting to meet the champion.

It looks as if Jim Jeffries' reason for not wanting to referee the Attell and Moran bout at Colma, Cal., is other than that he has got tired of the game and intends to break away from it. From his reply to Propagator Coffroth it appears he really fears that Moran is going to defeat Attell. He does not want to have to give a decision against him. Jeffries says that Moran has a good chance of winning, and, having referred their last bout, he is in a position to judge.

Johnnie Oliver, manager of Tommy Murphy, writes that the bout between Murphy and Leah Cross is on at New York, Sept. 1. On that account Oliver writes that Murphy will not be able to box Matty Baldwin at the Army A. A. till before Sept. 25, which is acceptable to the Boston club.

Franker Coffroth can hold bouts at his arena just across the line from San Francisco for another year, as the supervisors of the county have just granted him another permit.

ARMED OFFICERS

W. T. Cornell

MAGNOLIA, Mass., Aug. 11.—A posse of armed police men, ten from the station and the other four from Manchester, Mass., are scouring the vicinity hereabouts in quest of the robbers who held up and robbed, and then shot Mrs. W. T. Cornell, a summer visitor from New York last evening. Rumors were rife about this morning that the police chief of police of Gloucester, C. S. Marthant, who is in charge of the man-hunt states: "The posse is chasing down several claws. As yet we have no trace of the man. The report that he has been captured is not true. I wish that it was. We shall keep up the hunt until we capture the person or persons, who attacked Mrs. Cornell. Every one of my men are at work on the case. A part of the day force has been sent to the scene, while the night force is still on duty about the center of the city. I have notified the surrounding cities and towns and they are all on the lookout for suspicious characters. I believe that we will run them down before tonight."

TOTAL ABSTAINERS

Opened Their National Convention in New Haven Today

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 11.—Delegates from the western states to the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence and Benevolent union were among the arrivals today, and each incoming train added to the number of persons here who displayed the light blue and yellow badge of the organization. Bishop Canavan of Pittsburgh, and several other clergymen from Pennsylvania arrived.

The national union was founded upon the Connecticut union, the latter having been organized in 1871. The national convention was in this city in 1888 when Bishop Potter of Wisconsin was president.

For the convention next year, several cities will extend invitations and several of the state delegates will put forward names of candidates for officers.

Niagara Falls and Atlantic City will press their claims for next year's convention and Baltimore is expected to ask that the convention of 1910 go there.

A meeting of the subordinate officers with the executive council was held during the morning when the reports of General Secretary Edwin M. McGready of Rockland, Mass., and Rev. John McCann of Philadelphia, the treasurer and various committee chairmen were considered and approved for presentation to the convention.

Among the celebrities arriving today were those from Philadelphia, St. Louis, headed by Rev. James T. Coffey, the first vice president, and Boston.

ALARM OF FIRE

Blaze in a House in Gershom Avenue

The alarm from box 75 at 2:30 this morning was for a fire in a building in Gershom avenue, the property of a Mrs. Black. The fire was well under way when the firemen arrived but was quickly subdued. No estimate of the damage was made.

BOSTON MARKET.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The local stock market opened firm today but trading was less broad. The buying in copper was falling steadily off.

Mrs. John McCabe of Roxbury and her sister, Miss Margaret Hosca, of Concord, Mass., were the guests of Miss Norah Mangan of Hildreth street today.

WAR ON SOCIALISM GAME TO SURFACE

Catholics are Urged to Take up W. J. Carroll's Body Recovered at Daylight

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Bishop J. R. G. Canavin of Pittsburgh, at the Catholic Federation convention in Symphony hall yesterday, called upon the Catholic people of America to present a solid wall of opposition to the doctrines of socialism and atheism, which he said, were being widely disseminated among the people of the United States of all grades and classes of society. On being introduced by National President Feeney, Bishop Canavin said:

"In the federation I see a mighty power for good. With Archbishop O'Connell, I hold that the federation ought to be a mighty wall to resist evil. It should be a living wall, not a dead wall, and it should be supported by the buttresses of the church throughout the country."

"It is not material power that will unite the federation; it is not Boston culture or the wealth of Chicago or New York or tangible things that will cement this federation and bind it together. Its unification is only to be found in the faith of Jesus Christ."

"Every man must be a stone in the great wall. In order that every man must do his part, he must not only be linked to the other parts, but he must be animated by faith and by Christian charity. It will be a deplorable thing if we do not see the men of all social and intellectual grades to stand together in this federation. We must have men who will live as Catholics, think as Catholics and act as Catholics in their daily lives at all times."

WORK OF EDUCATION.

"We need to carry on a work of education. The propaganda of atheism and of socialism is being carried on in our mines, in our shops and in our factories, in the offices of our professional men and in the rural districts. Literature of this propaganda is circulated among those who are discontented with their position in life, whether old or young. The false doctrine of rebellion against law, both of God and country, of atheism and of socialism, are being disseminated and discussed widely. The young men of today can argue socialism and put forth its so-called principles in a very plausible way."

"We must educate our young men so that they can meet the arguments of those socialistic atheists. Catholics must carry on this work of education among themselves, so that they may really know where they stand, so that they can tell just where they stand, and be able to overthrow the doctrines of their opponents. For this end they must be real Catholics, thinking as Catholics and living up to the teachings of Catholicity."

FROM THE PHILIPPINES.

Bishop Hendrick of the diocese of Cebu in the Philippine Islands, was also invited to speak by the president, but he asked to be excused until this morning, when he will address the convention.

National Secretary Matre read letters of regret for non-attendance and of approval of the federation from Philadelphia and bishops of Chicago, North Carolina, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Baltimore, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Philadelphia, Fall River, Little Rock, Montreal, Glasgow, Scotland, Cork, Ireland, Hawaii and British Honduras.

In the course of his official address in opening the sessions, National President Edward Feeney spoke as follows on the subject of immoral literature.

"I desire to call the attention of the delegates to a growing evil, which the federation should aid in stamping out. The quantity of vile literature that is being imported from Europe is a menace to common American decency, not to speak of the damage to the morals and the religion of recently arrived immigrants. So-called weekly papers containing the vilest caricatures of religion and morality are sneaked through our ports and distributed broadcast. These papers are the productions of infidels and anarchists who pander to the lowest instinct of the unthinking and degenerate, and who are bent upon the destruction of religion and government. They would not be allowed to print such sheets in this country."

"I recommend that our law committee be instructed to take up the subject, with the view of securing the amendment by congress of present law, so that these offenders may be more effectively reached by the officials of the government. This could be accomplished in large measure if the United States postal laws and the interstate commerce statutes on the subject were amended to conform to the penal code of the state of New York."

SOLENN REQUIEM MASS.

The exercises of the day were begun with solemn requiem mass at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 3.30, which was largely attended. Vicar-General Patterson was the celebrant. The Rev. James J. Murphy, D.D., served as master of ceremonies. After the mass the delegates proceeded to Symphony hall, where at 10 o'clock the convention was called to order by National President Feeney. Secretary Matre read his annual report, and the delegates, in private session, were addressed by Archbishop O'Connell, who congratulated them on the magnificent opening of the convention.

The following cablegram was sent to Rome from the convention:

"Cardinal Merry Del Val, Vatican, Rome."

"National convention of American Federation of Catholic societies assembled in Boston, representing 2,000,000 members throughout the United States of all nations, offer to His Holiness."

ELEANOR SEERS

Boston Woman Lost in Casino Match

NEWPORT, Aug. 11.—Giving the best exhibition of lawn tennis she has ever shown here, Mrs. Eleanor Seers, the women's champion, won the Casino cup for women yesterday. In the final she met Miss Eleanor Seers of Boston, and beat her in two straight sets, 6-2, 6-4. The Boston player was no match for her champion, though some looked for her to win. Her friends at the side of the court tried time and again to encourage her, but she failed each time to respond, and only at the beginning of the second set did she show anything like good form against her opponent.

THE RECTIFIERS

Must Mark Packages of Spirits

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The commissioner of internal revenue has informed W. M. Hough, attorney for the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association, that there is ample authority of law for the government to prescribe the marking of packages of spirits and liquors in the hands of rectifiers as is the case of the products of distillers. Mr. Hough was referred to section 3249, of the revised statutes as ample authority for the government.

MINISTER DODGE

To Investigate Cases of American Consuls

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Travel accommodations are meagre in Honduras, and it may be several days before Minister Dodge, now on his way from Salvador to Tegucigalpa, may reach the latter place to confer with the Honduran officials regarding the case of the American consuls at Ceiba whose excommunications have been cancelled by President Davila. Minister Dodge's report upholds the contention of the United States government that the consuls did not commit any breach of propriety in their dealings with the revolutionists; there is apt to be some pretty spicy correspondence between the state department and Honduras.

FEDERAL SHOE CO.

To Give Its Employees An Outing

The management of the Federal Shoe Co. of Boston, will close the shop next Saturday and give the employees an outing to Revere beach. As this is the first outing to be held by the company every effort will be made to make it a success.

Upon arrival at the beach the party will be the guests of the mill officials at Kirby's restaurant, where an excellent shore dinner will be served at the company's expense.

THEATRE VOYONS

Yesterday's new program at the Theatre Voyons proved to be one of the most successful. "The Cowboy's Baby," the leading picture, is full of exciting incidents and tells a most interesting story. The baby is a most interesting character, and the picture is a band of nearly a hundred Indians and all except the child murdered. Cowboys find the ruins and in searching for possible survivors find the baby. One of the cowboys, a young chap, claims the baby for his own, but after trying to take care of it for several weeks he has to admit that it is too much for him. A happy idea strikes him and he makes a last appeal to a girl, who has twice refused him, to marry him and take care of the baby. She sees the point and they are married and both are much in love with the little one. A Mexican, who has been a suitor for the girl's hand, steals the baby in revenge, but after a long chase he is captured and the little one brought back in safety. An Indian's horse is a thrilling western picture and "The Wonderful Fluid" is a most laughable comedy.

ST. PETER'S LADY PARTY

A meeting of the men's committee in charge of the proposed lawn festival at St. Peter's parish, on Sept. 5th, will be held this evening in the fair hall at 8 o'clock. Reports from the various sub-committees will be heard at this session. Hon. James B. Casey, chairman of the committee, requests the presence of every member of the committee as well as other men in the parish who have not yet attended a meeting.

The body was removed to Higgins Bros.' establishment in Lawrence street to be prepared for burial.

PLAY OUT TONIGHT BURGLAR SCARED

Old Tub Has Been Thoroughly Overhauled for Big Show on Aug. 20—Meeting of the Muster Committee This Evening

The Butler Vets will hold a regular meeting and in all probability a practice drill this evening, and a large attendance is expected. The old machine which has been thoroughly overhauled will be tried out. The new machine is built similarly to the "Butler Vets" but by another firm, and is supposed to have certain improvements not possessed by the other machine. It is an inch button and brake machine and requires a less number of men to work it than the old machine. The new machine is a beauty and has a mahogany box with silver trimmings.

The muster committee will also meet at the Butlers' headquarters this evening, and will then perfect the final arrangements.

All that is now needed is good weather. During the absence of Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan from the city, Col. James H. Walker and Thomas J. Johnson are attending to the arrangements that Mr. O'Sullivan had in charge.

The Manchester Veteran Firemen's association had the "Uncle Sam" out in Vine street last evening for a practice play. Only two plays were made, as the hose was found to be leaking to such an extent as to waste much of the force of the stream and the crew adjourned to the Amherst street quarters, where refreshments were served. Another play will be held next Monday evening in preparation for the coming muster at Lowell.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 11.—Charles L. Patterson, son of James H. Patterson, a railroad engineer of 516 Andover street, had an experience with a would-be burglar early Monday morning and but for a latch on a screen door at the side of the house might have landed his man.

Patterson sleeps on the lower floor of the house and about 2 o'clock in the morning was awakened by a noise which sounded as if some one was trying to break in. He jumped out of bed and taking a revolver, which he keeps handy, stole quietly to the door. Throwing the door open quickly, Patterson attempted to open the screen door leading out onto the veranda. The door was latched and he was delayed for a few seconds. When he had opened it he stepped out onto the veranda and surprised an unknown person crouching down on his knees and trying to force a window.

The burglar saw Patterson at about the same moment and leaped to his feet. The youth dashed him but the burglar jumped from the veranda, ran around to the back of the house and escaped through a field that leads to the Merrimack river.

Patterson was slightly wary about firing the revolver, which is a powerful one, as he feared that it might carry too far and enter some person's house. The would-be burglar was evidently a finished artist and knew what he was doing in selecting the house as it is an ideal spot for such work. The house is shaded on Carleton street by large trees which hang nearly to the ground and by a row of shrubbery which conceals the entrance completely.

It seems most plausible that the fellow gained admittance by the shelter of these shrubs and went up the front steps. From there he sneaked along the veranda trying the windows and had arrived at the kitchen window when disturbed in his work by Patterson.

The young man was unable to get a good description of the fellow as he caught but a fleeting glimpse of him. As far as he could see the burglar was heavily built and was about five feet, eight inches in height. He had on dark clothes.

This is the second attempt at robbery in that vicinity within a month. The other attempt was successful, burglars making a haul in the store of George A. Blanchard at 513 Andover street, directly across from the scene of Monday's attempted break, about three weeks ago.

JAIL SENTENCE

For Man Who Was Cruel to Bride

AUBURN, Me., Aug. 11.—Avery E. Chandler of Lewiston was yesterday sentenced by Judge Manser to eight months in the county jail for cruelty to his young bride. The girl testified that she had been tied hand and foot and lashed with a rawhide. She said she had been threatened with a rifle and revolver and told that if she left the house she would have her brains blown out. The girl also said that her mother-in-law had beaten her, and that all she was given to eat was mouldy bread and cheese, and that in four weeks she lost 20 pounds.

The husband said he married the girl last January, that she had been married before and divorced.

He said she had put corrosive sublimate in his coffee to kill him and had drugged him. Mrs. Chandler, the mother-in-law, contradicted the girl's story.

Mrs. Susie Rogers, the police matron, gave evidence to the marks of beatings. The mother-in-law was discharged.

NOT GUILTY

PLEA ENTERED BY GARLAND AND HIS WIFE.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—Alexander Garland, son of the vice-president of Peru, and formerly secretary of the Peruvian legation at Washington, and his wife, Mrs. Louise Scott Garland, said to be a niece of Anthony General Bonaparte, pleaded not guilty in court yesterday to a charge of disturbing the peace. They are accused of creating a disturbance at a rooming house in this city last Friday. Mrs. Garland demanded a jury trial and it will follow her husband's case.

The Garlands arrived two weeks ago. Mrs. Garland says that she came to visit Mrs. George Booth, a sister, who is a patient at the Angelus hospital and that her husband followed her.

Garland admits that he and his wife had difficulties Friday night. "I am a victim of misfortune, that is all," Mrs. Garland said. "I am not to blame in this affair. The landlady desires to get rid of me. I am innocent of wrong-doing. I will fight it out in court, even though they send me to jail for six months."

HANGED HIMSELF

CLERK COMMITTED SUICIDE IN STORE.

BRONZE TABLET

PRESENTED TO THE CITY OF GLOUCESTER.

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 11.—The petty officers and seamen of the United States gunboat Dolphin presented a golden bronze tablet to the city of Gloucester yesterday as a mark of appreciation of courtesies extended to the Dolphin in the past. The tablet is a replica of the flag of the president of the United States.

Mayor Henry H. Parsons and members of the city council received the gift formally at city hall, the Dolphin having been allowed through orders issued by Assistant Secretary Newberry of the navy department to stop in the harbor on her way from Portsmouth to Boston.

Mr. Newberry, who is making an official tour of inspection, was on board the Dolphin in Portsmouth harbor last night, when a barge in tow of a tug collided with the gunboat carrying away part of the Dolphin's port rail.

CASTRO SPEAKS

He Tells of the Situation in Venezuela

CARACAS, Vez., Friday, Aug. 7. Via Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 11.—Deviating from his usual custom of not speaking for publication, President Castro yesterday granted an interview to The Associated Press concerning Venezuela and her troubles with foreign powers, which recently have been augmented by his expulsion from the republic of the Dutch minister, M. De Reus.

"I am glad to give The Associated Press my opinion on this historic moment," said President Castro.

"Only wish everybody the peace and harmony that exist with the good commercial relations which small nations need. To create diplomatic agents who humble weak nations is an anomalous counteractive."

"If the powers will not fulfill the great idea that the great international tribunal shall decide disputes by arbitration and not by force, they commit suicide."

"Reason would have acquired prestige and force would not prevail today if, when the blockaders used force against us, friendly nations had adopted peaceful measures to settle the outstanding questions. The incorporation against us of those nations considered as friends completely destroyed the right of reason and placed all of them in the category of favoring force in the solution of difficulties. The question of the use of force in the collections of debts was carried before The Hague peace conference, but we weak nations saved our rights there."

"In spite of all, Venezuela will continue in peaceful development because this question has been settled and posterior events are only incidents."

"We at first paid the blockaders of our ports because of the dominance of force. The decision that terminated this state of affairs was that of the high Hague tribunal. Today Venezuela is punctually paying her debts and fulfilling all her obligations."

"The American government, nevertheless, broke friendly relations with us, but notwithstanding this fact, commercial relations between the United States and Venezuela continue the same as before the break occurred. The severance of friendly relations between France and Venezuela has not altered the normal progress of this republic."

"Both the American and French governments have made claims against Venezuela which are being paid. Consequently, as corporate interests of those countries have damaged us, I assume that an opportunity will be taken by their governments to listen to our just claims against those interests and that competent tribunals will decide the amount of these claims."

"The Netherlands incident I consider to have been brought about by M. De Reus (the Dutch minister to Venezuela, who recently was expelled by President Castro) and the Curacao government."

SUSPENDED BANK

HAS MADE AN APPLICATION TO REORGANIZE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Edward M. Groat, applied to Justice Peck yesterday in behalf of the Mechanics and Traders bank of Manhattan, which suspended payment on Aug. 10 last, to reorganize in Brooklyn under the name of the Union bank of Brooklyn.

The application was concurred in by both Attorney General Jackson, upon whose initiative receivers were appointed for the bank on March 1, and Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, the latter as counsel for the two temporary receivers.

Justice Peck granted an order dismissing the receivers and granting permission to the bank to resume business and take the name of the Union bank of Brooklyn.

JORDAN DROWNED

WHILE ATTEMPTING TO RESCUE TWO BOYS.

AMESBURY, Aug. 11.—Willis S. Jordan, aged 22, of 690 Adams street, Dorchester, was drowned yesterday afternoon while attempting to rescue two boys who were in bathing near Powder mill bridge, which spans the Powder river in the upper part of South Hampton.

Simon Smith and a young companion were in the water at the usual bathing place when they got in beyond their depth. Jordan went to their rescue and in attempting to save them lost his life. He sank in deep water.

The two boys were brought to shore in safety. The body was recovered soon after, was viewed by Medical Examiner D. D. Murphy of this place by request of Medical Referee Lance of Portsmouth. Jordan was a summer boarder at the home of John W. Smith, near the scene of the accident.

Jordan is said to have been an expert swimmer and it is thought his drowning was due to cramps. The river is 50 feet wide where the accident occurred. The current runs strong at this place and Jordan was taken down stream some distance before he sank from view.

MINOR OFFICIALS

REPORTED TO HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—The reorganization of the government is still proceeding in all directions and it is understood, will involve the removal of the ambassadors and ministers at Paris, St. Petersburg, Berlin, Washington, Madrid and Belgrade. Some of the minor officials, it is reported, have committed suicide and others have abandoned their posts.

The foreign minister has ordered the cessation of subvention to European newspapers and the suppression of the secret funds of embassies.

GUTMAN BURIED

BODY OF DEAD BANDIT WAS NOT CLAIMED.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The body of Edmund Gutman, holdup man and murderer whom the police killed in the Forest Hills cemetery on the morning of July 23, was buried yesterday afternoon in Mt. Hope cemetery. There were present only the undertaker, his assistant and the grave diggers.

The body lay at the morgue for 15 days and was unclaimed. As no one appeared who wished to bury Gutman the city took charge of the case and the body was interred in the potters' field.

TOM LONGBOAT

Says Hayes is Better Man Than Italian

BUFFALO, Aug. 11.—Tom Longboat, the famous Canadian Indian runner, accompanied by Tom Flanagan, his manager and adviser, stopped off in Buffalo yesterday en route to Toronto, their home. Longboat is on his way back from London, where he competed in the Marathon race.

Longboat arrived in New York Wednesday morning. After paying a visit with John Flanagan, the champion hammer thrower, a brother of Tom, Longboat's manager, the Indian was headed toward Toronto. The stop-off here was made in order to make their arrival in Toronto a timely one. Manager Flanagan was anxious to have Longboat arrive in his home city at the appointed hour for the reception.

Shortly after Longboat and Flanagan arrived in town they granted an interview.

"Tom did all that I expected him to do," said Flanagan, looking at the Indian, who grinned. "He had never been on the ocean before and was taken pretty sick on the way across. We trained in Ireland and the change in water affected both of us. Tom was run into one day by a wagon, but the thing that bothered him most of all was a stone bruise on the bottom of his right foot. He had to quit at the end of the 20th mile."

"Hayes? Yes, he's a great runner. I think he's a better man than the Italian, S. does Longboat. Tom says that when Hayes and he were running together after the 15th mile, Hayes was as fresh as when he began. Longboat was keeping astride him until his foot gave out completely."

"How about that English fair play? Well, take it from me that the Englishmen wanted to see their own win, and they didn't do anything to prevent them from winning. But we're satisfied. Longboat will do a great deal of running this fall."

GETS DIVORCE

DECREE GRANTED MRS. DANIEL L. DRESSER.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Daniel Leroy Dresser, who last February established a residence in Sioux Falls, yesterday got an absolute divorce from Daniel Dresser, of New York city. The decree was granted on the ground of desertion. The question of alimony did not enter into the case so far as the court records disclose, this business evidently having been adjusted out of the court.

At the hearing, Mrs. Dresser was represented by U. S. Sen. Kittredge of Sioux Falls, while C. W. Gould of New York and E. R. Wilcox of Sioux Falls represented Daniel Dresser.

Mrs. Dresser, it was said, is not yet ready to discuss her future plans. She has lived quietly since taking up her residence in Sioux Falls. Not until nearly 4 months after she arrived in the city was her presence made public.

Doing Their Duty

Scores of Lowell Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick. Backache and many kidney ills follow.

Urinary trouble, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all. Lowell people endorse our claim.

Mrs. Mary J. Mullen, of St. Prince st., Lowell, Mass., says: "For backache and kidney troubles I have strongly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I gave a statement for publication seven years ago and I now cheerfully repeat that statement. For a year or more I suffered from kidney trouble and pain across the small of my back. To stoop or straighten after stooping caused sharp twinges. The secretors from the kidneys were very variable, at one time excessive and at another scanty and accompanied with pain. Soon after beginning to take Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ellingwood & Co's drug store, I noticed a difference in my condition. TEACHING MONKEY

How to Speak the English Language

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The investigation of Melvin Haggerty along the general lines of monkey psychology at the Bronx Park Zoo, have spurred the keepers of the Central Park Zoo to unwonted activity of late. Two of them are now busy with an experiment by which they say they hope to beat the Harvard expert at his own game.

While Mr. Haggerty has devoted all his energies to trying to teach the monkeys new tricks, thereby creating an opportunity to see just how important a part suggestion and imitation play in their daily life, the keepers at the Central Park Zoo have gone further. They are trying in a modest way to teach the monkeys under their care to realize the significance of spoken words.

They say that the results of their experiments has been surprising. One of the monkeys has not only learned the significance of several words, but has developed a limited vocabulary of his own, apparently realizing what the words mean.

Patrick Canan, keeper of the Central Park monkey house, is the leading spirit in these recent experiments. He has been assisted by Keeper Robert Hurdin.

The most likely of all the monkeys in the Central Park monkey house is Baldy. There is also a Baldy in the Bronx Park Zoo, on which Mr. Haggerty has experimented a little. But the Bronx Park Baldy is a chimpanzee of the black-faced species. The Central Park Baldy is a ring-tailed monkey and got his name from a tendency to baldness on his pate. Baldy is a noisy little chap. His chattering is louder than that of all the other monkeys.

Keeper Canan had noticed that several of the ring-tailed monkeys in their chatter almost always used sounds which seemed to end in "ech." Most of the sounds made by the monkey tribe sounded, in fact, like "ech." They made that sound when excited, or when the keepers appeared with food. They made it at play and sometimes when in deep mood. There was a different intonation, but nearly always the sound "ech" was noticed by Canan and Hurdin.

"Why not teach the monkeys the significance of English words ending with 'ech'?" said Canan to his fellow keeper. Hurdin said he saw no reason why they couldn't, with a little painstaking effort.

That was a month or more ago. The words selected by the two keepers were "peach," "reach," and "screach." With these words they set to work. The first few lessons were devoted to trying to teach Baldy the significance of peach. And in this is the way: the word "peach" was taken to mean a peach to the cage where Baldy was kept. He would stand in front of him, and, holding out the peach, would say "peach" many times.

It was days before Baldy seemed to realize what the keeper was driving at. He would make a grab for the fruit. Canan would quickly withdraw his hand, and Baldy would jump about the cage, making grimaces and saying something which ended with "ch," but was certainly not "peach."

But one morning, after repeating the name of the fruit many times, Canan says he thought he detected a sound like "peach" from Baldy. He kept up his repetition of the word, and after a while, he says, Baldy made a sound which was as much like "peach" as a monkey could be expected to make. Then Baldy got the peach and ate it with relish.

Later in the day Canan offered na-

another peach. Baldy appeared delighted and grabbed for it. But the keeper withdrew his arm and said "peach." Baldy, he says, seemed to understand, and after a little wait the keeper heard the sound from Baldy which, he says, was near enough to "peach" so again he gave him the fruit. After that, says Canan, it was not necessary to speak at all when he offered Baldy a peach, for the monkey upon seeing the fruit always hastened to say what the keeper expected him to say, and he always got the peach.

Screach was the next lesson word selected by the keeper. And with this he had more trouble. And with this he used a banana, which, by the way, is an impossible word for a monkey.

Canan began the new lesson by offering the fruit, withdrawing it when Baldy grabbed, and then saying "screach." And there was no doubt that Baldy did as told, whether he knew what he was doing or not. Canan kept on saying "screach." Finally, he says, the monkey made a sound which sounded like some foreign way of saying the word "screach."

Every time Baldy said what Canan is sure was "screach," the keeper would say: "Well, screach, then," and Baldy would do some screaming which could be heard all over the zoo.

Gypsies' Sentences Exchanged for Fines

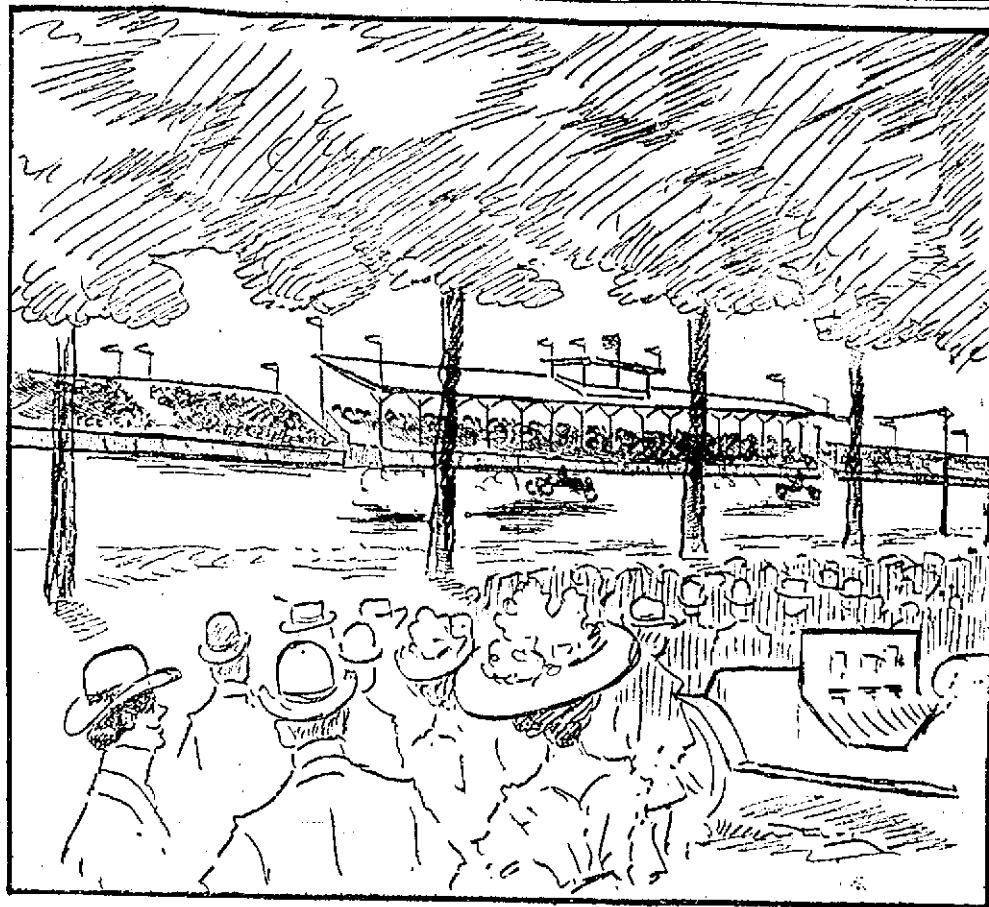

NEWTON, Aug. 11.—After they had been found guilty of larceny of $111 from Charles Thompson of Newton Centre and had been sentenced to three months apiece in the house of correction, four gypsy women returned the missing money and yesterday afternoon the court revoked the sentence which had been imposed a few hours previously and fined the fortune tellers $15 each. They paid.

The women were Mary Suggs, 22; Rosie Nicholas, 18; Susie Maggi, 23; and Marie Carabulis, 17, natives of Italy, who came to this city on Saturday on an overland trip from Chicago to Framingham, with a band of about 25 others. Mr. Thompson testified yesterday that these women and a girl, Annie Maggi, aged 15, crowded about him in Newton Centre and picked his pocket of $100, a $10 and a $1 bill. He had the bills in a pocket of his trousers. There were $276 and the edges could be seen, he said. When he missed the money, he said, he caught one of the women and charged her with stealing it.

CHILD NEARLY STARVED.

NEWTON, Aug. 11.—It having been alleged that the infant was slowly starving, an officer of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children yesterday afternoon visited a camp of gypsies in the Thompsonville district of this city, and took away a few months' old baby.

The child was taken to Boston and will be cared for by the society. It is stated that the infant had been neglected to such an extent that it is feared it will not survive. The camp in which the baby was taken comprises the large band of gypsies who landed here on Saturday from an overland trip from Chicago. The five women convicted yesterday of larceny from a Newton Centre man while one of their number was trying to tell his fortune were members of the camp.

VIEW OF THE GRANDSTAND ON THE BOULEVARD AS IT WILL APPEAR DURING THE GREAT AUTO RACE ON LABOR DAY.

STRANG WILL COME

To Attend the Great Auto Race on Labor Day

Arrangements for the big automobile race on Labor day are fast nearing completion and the promoters are being splendidly encouraged. Applications for grand stand seats have already been received, and those interested in the race are of good cheer.

President John D. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club has gone to New York to have a conference with Strang, the man who won the trophy on the Briarcliff course. Mr. Strang had written Mr. Heinze stating that he had learned that the 250-mile road race was to be pulled off here on Labor day, and he assured Mr. Heinze of every assistance possible. Mr. Heinze will endeavor to secure Strang as one of the drivers in the race.

Two Knox cars have been entered by the Knox Automobile company of Springfield. They are the two first cars to have been entered, but several have written to say that they will enter.

A 40-foot sign was put out in Central street yesterday, advertising the

are broad and smooth, one stretch of macadam for several miles being of sufficient width to allow cars to travel along abreast. There it is expected the lastest work will be done.

"F. S. Corlew of the committee agrees that there is no limit to the speed that can be attained on the fine stretch described, it simply being a question as to how fast the cars can go. This was far from the case at Westchester, where the cars were slowed up in some places owing to the roads.

"A big thing for the spectators at Lowell is that the macadam stretch is directly along in front of the grandstand, allowing a fine view of the cars at top speed coming and going. Whereas the Briarcliff course had many corners, the Merrimack valley course has but three. One of these is a rather bad one, pretty much of a hairpin effect at the place where Barney Oldfield had an accident this spring. Here a slackening of speed by the drivers will be necessary, even though the turn is banked into Varnum avenue. Along Varnum avenue there is some sand, but this will be removed. Although this road is at times narrow and winding, it can hardly be called dangerous. There is one hill to go over that will make necessary careful driving, however.

"The new road which will be used to take the cars back to the boulevard will put a premium on careful work, too, but outside of these there is little that is really troublesome, although there are places on the back stretch which will bring out the nerve of the driver.

"Cedrine went over the course the latter part of June and pronounced it one of the best for the distance he had ever been on. A better one, indeed, would be hard to find in New England and with the right entries an admirable contest should result."

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Eugene W. Chafin, presidential nominee of the prohibition party, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Lincoln, Neb. He will leave Chicago immediately but will return next Tuesday to be notified of his nomination. He will visit every state in the Union, speaking there eight times a day until election.

"Wouldn't it have been awful if I had come to my death by water?" he said, speaking of his escape from drowning in the Y. M. C. A. natatorium at Lincoln.

"I don't mind for myself but it would be tough on the party to lose its head in that way, so until election is over I'm not going to have anything to do with water except by the glassful."

"Do you expect to be elected?" "It would be a reflection on the intelligence of the American public for me to think otherwise."

AGAINST MODERNISM

Strong Plank in Platform of Catholic Federation

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Two business sessions and a public mass meeting made up the program of the day for the American Federation of Catholic societies' seventh national convention. The construction of the new platform was expected to occupy the attention of the delegates during their sessions, as it was planned to present it to the convention in the afternoon. It was stated that the new platform when completed would renew the fight against socialism and urge even greater effort in bringing about a uniformity of the divorce laws of the country, and would contain a strong plank against modernism.

The election of officers will not take place until tomorrow, and there appears to be a strong sentiment for the re-election of President Edward Feeney of Brooklyn, N. Y.

These are two cities seeking the convention for next year. Pittsburgh and New Orleans. It was generally asserted by the delegates, however, that Pittsburgh would be chosen as the meeting place. Bishop Convin of that diocese is on the ground and with a large delegation from his state was confident that he would secure the eighth convention for his diocese city.

At the forenoon session Bishop Hendricks of Cuba, Philippine Islands, was on the program to address the convention on the situation of those islands. He originally belonged in New York but has been in the Philippine islands several years and is well acquainted there at the present time. Prof. Thomas Menaghan of Washington also promised to address the delegates today, having a subject the preservation of the American forests.

The race meeting in Symphony hall tonight promises to be one of the features of the convention. On the program were addresses by Thomas Canan of Chicago, high chief of the ranks of the Catholic Order of Foresters, on "The Catholic Press"; F. W. Heckenkamp, Jr., Quincy, Ill., supreme president of the W. C. U. on "The Catholic Laborer," and Right

Rev. James A. McFau, D. D., of Trenton, N. J., on "Federation." The meeting was open to the public.

Rag Man—"Ole rags! Gum Boots! Tinware!"

Anty Drudge—"Goodness! Where'd you get all them washboilers?"

Rag Man—"I buya dem from voomans. Dey saya no use any more. You gotta von to sell?"

Anty Drudge—"No, sir. I have not used one for many a year. It didn't take the women of this town long to get rid of their washboilers after I came and told them how to wash with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water. No more boiling clothes for them I see."

Are you governed by habits?

Not a bad thing if they are good habits.

Not a good thing if they are bad habits.

Are you in the habit of getting up before daybreak to start washing so that you'll be through before night?

If you are it's a habit to get rid of right away. There's no necessity for it.

Get rid of the old-fashioned boiling, and scalding clothes, back-breaking washboard-rubbing habit and adopt the easy Fels-Naptha way.

Strike off the chains that bind you to the washboiler and washboard. Be a progressive woman.

Follow directions on the inside of the red and green Fels-Naptha wrapper.

CUT HIS THROAT GEN. FISKE LODGE

Driven insanely desperate by inability to obtain work, Michael Spillane, aged 33 years, attempted suicide by cutting his throat twice with a razor at his home, 13 Richmond avenue, off Swift street, last night. He is now at St. John's hospital where it is believed he will recover.

Spillane who has a large family depending upon him and who has been out of work for several weeks has been quite despondent of late and about 10:30 o'clock last night, after making a remark about his misfortune went into a side room and taking a razor from a bureau drawer slashed himself twice.

He was found by his children a short time afterward and Dr. John Boyle was summoned. The latter ordered Spillane's removal to St. John's hospital where the wounds were stitched.

Mrs. Cornell's condition is not considered serious. She was removed to her hotel, where the bullet, which had lodged just below the brain, was removed. At a late hour she was said to be resting comfortably.

The eleventh anniversary of Gen. Fiske lodge, I. O. G. T., was held at Highland hall, last night. It was celebrated by a reunion of old members. There were about fifty present. A short entertainment was given consisting of: Piano solo, John Gilchrist; song, Mrs. Santesson; reading, Henry Flinders; harmonica solo, Mr. Shaw; song, Miss Ruth Gilchrist; remarks, Bro.
